

New X-Ray Equipment Installed At Mercy Hospital Is The Latest Design

Sister Mary Noreen, X-ray technician at Mercy Hospital, is shown at the left above operating the control panel of a new Rotating Anode Diagnostic (X-ray) Machine just installed at Mercy Hospital. In the upper picture at the right a patient is being X-rayed by Doctor J. A. Colburn while in the lower photo is demonstrated the machine's adaptability to adjustment for different positions, with Doctor Colburn standing beside it.

The equipment represents an outlay of over $12,000 installed in a hospital and is of the latest type manufactured. It enables Mercy Hospital to conduct diagnostic X-ray service in cases which hitherto had to be sent to larger centers. The equipment is being installed and tested by J. A. Friend, installation expert from the General Electric Company, its manufacturers.

Huge Oregon Timbers Will Repair 'Constitution'

ASTORIA, Ore., July 5.—(P)—Four timbers for the U. S. S. Constitution—so huge each had to come from a tree 6 feet in diameter—are enroute to Boston, Mass.

Officials at Shepherd Morse Lumber Company of nearby Westport said they understood the Douglas fir timbers would replace the ancient vessel's keel. They were cut to fit between the ribs of the war of 1812 ship moored at the Charleston Navy Yard.

Each is 70 feet long, 28 inches wide and 20 inches thick. Towed up the Columbia River to Longview, Wash., they will be taken aboard the freighter Kenyon Victory which is scheduled to sail for Boston July 5.

The Constitution, famed as "Old Ironsides" from an 1830 poem of that name by Oliver Wendell Holmes, was restored by school children's contributions in 1927-31 and visited West Coast ports in 1933 with masts and spars cut by the same Westport mill.

Judith Coplon's Passport Lifted; Awaits New Trial

NEW YORK, July 5.—(P)—International travel agencies and transportation companies were notified today that Judith Coplon's passport has been lifted.

Lincoln White, press officer for the state department, explained in Washington that the rescinding of the passport is routine in the case of persons convicted of a crime.

Travel outlets are notified of the lifting, also as a routine matter.

Overseas airline officials here had interpreted the advice as an alert to make sure that Miss Coplon does not try to leave the United States.

Miss Coplon, convicted in Washington of serving as a spy for Russia, came here last night to rest and prepare for her second trial, set for July 11 in New York.

Airlines officials said they had been told by their Washington offices to be on the lookout for Miss Coplon.

Government agents at La Guardia Field said they, too, had been instructed to see that the former justice department analyst does not try to book passage to a foreign country.

Turner, Roseburg; Glenn Woodruff, Roseburg; and Jay D. Woodruff, Langlois. Also surviving are several nephews and nieces.

Funeral services will be held in the chapel of the Long & Orr Mortuary Wednesday, July 6, at 2 p.m. Concluding services and interment will follow in Masonic Cemetery.

Residence Fire At Glendale Hits At Parade Hour

While Glendale's Fourth of July celebration was preparing to move down Pacific Avenue at 12:30 p.m. Monday, the city fire siren blew. Volunteer firemen, many of them participants in the parade, left their positions and within a few minutes were at the scene of the fire—the Paul Swank home on Sether Ave., near Mollie St.

They found the roof blazing, but the firemen were able to bring the blaze under control, confining damage to the roof and upstairs ceiling. There was also some water damage, but practically all furnishings were removed from nearby homes, but these were not endangered, as the firemen quickly extinguished the flames.

The home is part of the M. O. Swank estate, being administered by Paul Swank, who resides in the building. Marcellus Swank, a brother of the late M. O. Swank, also an occupant of the building, said no fire had been in the stoves for at least four or five hours. Also there was no electrical wiring in the upstairs, he said.

Jim Cox, Glendale fire chief, confirmed there was no wiring and that the stoves were cold. Mayor Ed Johnson commended the promptness and efficiency of the fire department, not only in saving the Swank home but in preventing the fire spread.

The parade went off as scheduled, minus the participating volunteer firemen.
