

Chiefs Defeat North Bend

Exhibition Tilt Results In 15-2 Score

Three Roseburg Hurlers Scatter 8 Hits While Mates Collect Thirteen

The Roseburg Umpqua Chiefs won an easy 15-2 victory over North Bend in a return exhibition tilt at Finlay Field last night. Earlier in the season, the Chiefs beat North Bend, 10-4.

Chiefs started tapping pitcher Warren Hunt immediately and when the first inning ended, the locals had four runs across on two hits. Roseburg batted completely around with Barney Koch coming up for his second time at bat in one inning.

It was pitcher Don Reed's game from the start. He allowed five hits in six innings, then Wally Richardson tossed an inning, allowing two hits. Hutchings, newcomer to the Roseburg lineup, took the mound in the eighth, and allowed one hit, good for North Bend's second run.

Roseburg scored four times in each of the first, second and sixth innings. In the seventh, Chiefs' batters crossed the plate three times.

North Bend tallied once in the fourth on a passed ball, then again in the ninth, when John Markoski smashed a single.

Rookies Make Good
Dexter Garey shone at the plate, getting one for two. He batted in two men on his first trip.

Bobby Sanders, another youngster making good with the Chiefs, hit 1,000 in one trip to the plate. Brother George hit two for two, including a triple that he tried to stretch into a homer. A fast relay from left field to short to catcher caught him at the plate.

Norm West was up to his usual form; he hit two for four and batted in four teammates. A neat double play by George Sanders to Koch to West in the sixth retired the first two batters.

Aside from moving rather slowly, the contest merely proved the Chiefs are a good ball club.

Friday night, Mel Krause is scheduled to start on the hill, in a game that should be no walk-away for the Chiefs.

The Harlem Globetrotters, who come here for an exhibition tilt, split a four-game series with the Kansas City Monarchs, who, in turn romped at

Rainers Break Losing Streak As Manager Resigns

By JIM BACON
Associated Press Sportswriter

The Seattle Rainiers, playing for the first time without Jo Jo White at the helm, broke a nine-game losing streak with a 6-to-1 win over San Francisco.

White resigned Wednesday as a climax to the disastrous losing streak. Coach Bill Lawrence was named manager for the time being.

In other Wednesday night Pacific Coast League play, second-place Sacramento knocked off the League-leading Hollywoods, 2-to-1, in a ten-inning go; Oakland walloped San Diego 10-to-2 and Portland showed Los Angeles deeper in the cellar with a 7-to-3 drubbing.

It was Jim Tabor's single in the last half of the tenth that scored Joe Grave with the winning run at Sacramento. Manuel Salvo, who took over in the ninth, got credit for the win.

The Oaks got to three San Diego pitchers for 15 hits. Gordon Goldsberry batted in four of the Oaks' runs as did Pitcher Rex Cecil, Cecil, who relieved in the third, set the Padres down with two hits from then on.

The Los Angeles-Portland scrap was a vengeance act for Beaver pitcher Red Lynn. The ex-Angel beat Booker McDaniels in a 10-inning game that saw the Portland club explode for four runs in the finale. The Angels' Negro pitcher hurled eight-hit ball in losing.

Steve O'Neill May Manage Rainiers

SEATTLE, July 14.—(AP)—The Seattle Rainiers were looking today for a new manager to resuscitate their once-lusty Pacific Coast League pennant hopes, and Joyner (Jo Jo) White, who resigned as pilot yesterday, was looking for a job.

A dourling with the fans, but not with the front office, White announced his resignation in San Francisco after the club had dropped 12 of the last 15 games and dived from second place to fifth. General Manager Earl Sheely accepted with alacrity.

Meanwhile, long-distance wires buzzed as owner Emil Sick, wealthy brewer, cast about for a new skipper, one who would be offered the post, on a long-term basis.

Sheely confirmed newspaper reports that the Rainiers had considered Steve O'Neill, former Detroit manager now coaching with the Cleveland Indians. O'Neill was reported to be interested on the condition Seattle would assume the balance of his present 1949 contract with Cleveland, calling for a slightly higher salary than the average paid a Coast League manager.

Mudholes Made To Ease Insect-Pestered Game

MINNEAPOLIS, July 14.—(AP) A bombing mission to make mudholes was completed yesterday by a dozen Navy planes.

The planes, from the naval air station here, dropped 1,000 and 500-pound bombs on a portion of Thered Lake game refuge in Northern Minnesota.

It is hoped by the State Conservation Department, which suggested the mission, that the bomb craters will become mudholes—a refuge for deer and moose pestered by insects.

Nine craters, some about 100 feet across, were made by the bombs.

Anglers Still Hamper Study Of Umpqua River By Failure To Report Tagged Fish Catch

Sports anglers are not cooperating as they should in reporting tagged fish caught from streams of the Umpqua watershed, says Ross Newcomb, game department biologist.

Newcomb, who is in charge of the Umpqua river study, told members of the Roseburg Rod and Gun club Tuesday night that many tagged fish are being caught by anglers who neglect to make reports.

Other anglers fail in making reports to tell where the marked fish were taken.

Hundreds of tagged fish have been released in all parts of the Umpqua system, he said, the purpose being to study migration habits and other factors. From meager reports received, for instance, it has been learned that fish migrated during the month of March showed a tendency to move over a considerable area from the spot where they were planted, but that fish put in the river during May and June appear to be staying close to the place where they were planted.

A few fish from the March planting have been taken at a distance of several miles from the site where they were introduced into the river.

Further plantings now are in progress, Newcomb said. James Bond, superintendent of the Rock Creek trout hatchery, reported that approximately 25,000 rainbow trout are to be distributed this month and that the fish, now a year old, are averaging nearly one-half pound each in weight.

Minnows Rescued
Newcomb also reported that because of the late winter steelhead spawning season, the newly hatched fish are of much smaller size than normal for this time of year, which will make salvage operations more difficult.

Salvage has been successfully carried out each year in small streams which begin to run dry in early summer. Steelhead and salmon minnows are seined from pot-holes and transported to the river. Many thousands of fish have been saved annually.

This year, however, because the fish are so small, it is feared many will be lost.

Newcomb also believes that the late spawning season may have some bearing on the fact that the summer run of steelheads to date is only about one-half the normal migration. He is hoping that the rate of movement will gain speed during the next few weeks.

The Rod and Gun club gave a vote of thanks to Boy Scouts Jim Lowe, troop 7, and Don Nichols and Jackie Palm, troop 133, for volunteer work in connection with improvement of the picnic grounds. Paul Caskey, chairman of the grounds committee, was given blanket authority to proceed with further development of the picnic area at the Winchester grounds.

Squirrels, Elks To Battle Tonight For League Lead

A new league leader is scheduled to take over in the City Softball League tonight, as Schermer Squirrels and Roseburg Elks fight it out in the 7:30 p. m. opener, and Umpqua Plywood and Veterans of Foreign Wars battle in the nightcap, at Finlay Field.

Umpqua Plywood and VFW are currently the league leaders but one will get bounced out of top spot when the final inning ends tonight. Squirrels, who play the Roseburg Elks club, are almost certain to gain second spot barring an upset by the cellar-dwelling lodge group.

First half softball play ends tonight, and action is expected to be spirited as the four City Softball League clubs jockey for positions in the league ladder.

One of the four clubs will represent this city in the district playoff to be held on a home-and-home basis between Springfield, Reedsport and Roseburg.

The district winner will travel to Eugene where the state tournament is to be staged.

dent Bill Veeck had a kind word. "When you stop to consider everything," Veeck said, "Don did a great job."

Black allowed two doubles, a triple and walked four men. The Pirates scored their lone marker in the second frame.
