

WERE THEY SURPRISED!-It was with open-mouthed wonder that Sandra Jean Jones, one-year-old and Douglas Welsher, twoyear old, received the news in Des Moines, Iowa, that they had been named "Miss Des Moines" and "Master Des Moines" in a baby contest. Their mouthes sagged to this limit during applause from a packed house after presentation of the trophies. (AP

At present, the Stevens grocery meat department is being handled by Gordon Dun-away, store clerk. A small carnival sponsored re-cently by the Reedsport volunteer fire department showed a profit for that organization. The carni-val specialized in rides and attrac-tions for children. Despite high temperatures of the last few days, humidity did not prevent logging camps in the Reedsport vicinity from operat-ing. However, the temperature was high enough to make work-ing conditions difficult. Reports from Winchester Bay indicate that salmon are again being caught by sportsmen, fol-lowing a few days of windy wea-ther which spoiled fishing. Mr, and Mrs. Melvin Jensen and sons left Sunday to attend a fam-ily reunion held annually at the Lane-Benton county park between Junction City and Monroe. After the reunion, the Jensen shove to Portland to visit relatives. They also plan to spend a few days in Astoria at the home office of the Columbia River Packers associa-tion. By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON, July 14.-{7} — President Truman is putting the heat on business, not on labor, to get this country out of its slump. He wants businessmen to cut prices, but not wages. He made this clear in his re-port to Congress on Monday and in his radio talk Wednesday night. Further, he challenged steel REVENGE... IS WHAT HE WANTED! needed to produce and more peo-ple were made jobless. Unemploy-ment is growing. So— 1. What is needed is more pro-duction to make more jobs for more people, although there can't be more production unless people are able to buy what's made. 2. They won't be able to do the necessary buying unless the prices are cut down closer to their ability to buy. Therefore, to encourage buying, prices should be cut down. 3. The more the buying, the more the need for production of things that people want to buy. And that will mean more people employed to do the producing. 4. But if wages are cut, when prices are cut, then the gap be-tween prices and ability to buy re-mains the same and people will have too little money to buy the reduced goods. 5. Therefore, to keep up peo-ple's ability to buy, wages should not be cut. But — businessmen will lose some of their present profits if they cut prices but not wages. 6. That's all right. The main point is to have people with money to buy goods, since that ...COLD, RUTHLESS, MERCILESS REVENGE production, or number of item they sell.
