

Arrive In Roseburg To Make Their Home

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark have arrived in Roseburg to make their home following their marriage June 26th, in Klamath Falls at the First Presbyterian Church, and a honeymoon to Monterey Bay.

Rev. David F. Barnett Jr., performed the impressive double ring ceremony at two o'clock in the afternoon in the presence of one hundred and twenty-five friends and relatives.

The altar was banked with huge floor baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding tall white candles. White satin ribbons and white gladioli blossoms marked the aisle pews.

The altar candles were lighted by the ushers. Mrs. George McIntyre played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Alma Ferrell, cousin of the bride, who sang, "I Love Thee," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of heavy white slipper satin fashioned with a marquise-style yoke edged in ruffled lace. There were three inserts of ruffled lace at the bottom of the gown and the skirt ended in a full court train. The sleeves were wrist-length. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. The veil was finished at the bottom with four inches of white lace with inserts of white satin. She carried a white prayer book topped by a white orchid tied with a shower of white satin ribbons knotted with Stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Brooks, of Klamath Falls, and the bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Graves of Portland, and Miss Clarine Otis of Roseburg were all gowned in pale green and were designed to match the bride's. They carried nosegays and wore matching headbands in their hair.

Dwain Graves of Roseburg was best man and Harold Casey of Roseburg and Jack Newton of Ashland were ushers.

A reception followed in the attractive Pelican party room. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, was cut by the bride and bridegroom. Assisting in serving were Miss Alma Ferrell, Mrs. Julia Kinsey and Mrs. Margaret Santo. Mrs. Robert Robertson had charge of the guest book and Mrs. Gerald Newton of Ashland was in charge of the gifts.

For traveling the bride chose a tomato red suit with black accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McCarrroll of Klamath Falls and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. C. W. Clark and the late Senator C. W. Clark of Roseburg.

Portland Burglars Prowl Another Building

PORTLAND, July 16.—(AP)—Another large office building was ransacked by burglars Thursday just a week after someone broke into the Panama building and went systematically through 24 offices there.

Thursday's victim was the Weatherly Building, in east side Portland. At least five offices—probably in the same building. The exact loss could not be determined immediately.

The marauders pried open a window on the ground floor, and started through the offices in the 12-story building. They did not enter them all, though—possibly for fear of the night watchman. They apparently got in while he was working in the basement.

The glass door of one office was smashed. A cash box was broken open in another, and the combination of a large safe knocked loose in a third.

A thunderstorm broke when the first spadeful of earth was turned and kept on for 40 days, until the bishop abandoned his idea of moving the bones.

That started the legend. Everyone believes it but the weathermen.

'Tis St. Swithin's Day; Will There Be Rain?

LONDON, July 15.—(AP)—'Tis St. Swithin's day and it's raining. That to an Englishman, means this year's scorching drought is over.

If there's no rain on this day, a 1,000-year-old superstition says there will be a drought for 40 days to come. In an England already parched by hot, dry weather, that could be serious.

Seems that when Bishop Swithin of Winchester died in 862 he decreed that he be buried in the open, where the rain of heaven could fall on him as he slept.

In 971 a later bishop tried to move his body to a crypt in the church. Legend says a great

Marry In Roseburg, June 26th

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. De Marsh

Miss Mildred Coralie Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton E. Christensen of Roseburg, became the bride of Joseph E. De Marsh, son of Mrs. James Roach of Myrtle Creek, June 26, at the First Christian church. Rev. Kenneth W. Knox performed the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

White gladioli and pink sweetpeas and candelabra holding tall white tapers decorated the altar. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Clarence Trued played softly on the organ as Miss Carol De Marsh, wearing a white flowered formal and wristlet of pink carnations, and James C. Christensen lighted the tapers.

Mrs. Jessie Crenshaw, accompanied by Mrs. Trued, sang, "Because." As the bridal party advanced to the altar, Mrs. Trued played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and at the close of the service, played "Mendelssohn's Recessional."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, was charming in a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a close fitting bodice and hoop skirt. The net yoke was outlined with a band of draped satin and the long sleeves came to a point at the wrist. Tiny white satin buttons fastened the bodice at the back and the skirt ended in a full train. Her veil of illusion was edged with wide lace and held in place by a tiera of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped by a white orchid with a golden throat and tied with a shower of white satin knotted streamers.

The bride's sister, Mrs. John L. Williams, was matron of honor and wore a gown of blue net. She carried pink sweetpeas with a yellow variegated carnation center and tied with a blue bow.

Miss Patsi De Marsh, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Danna Donahue, Miss Jeanette Johnson and Miss Mildred Broadbent were bridesmaids and wore identical gowns of pink net fashioned with off-the-shoulder design. They carried nosegays of sweetpeas with pink carnation centers tied with pink bows.

Judy Ann Louise Christensen, sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore a blue net formal and carried a small blue basket of assorted colored sweetpeas. The ring bearer was Victor Paul Vian, cousin of the bride, who carried a white satin pillow holding the two wedding rings.

Al Kitchen was best man and Lawrence Wiley, Bud Stumpgus, Bill Gutherie and Johnnie Williams were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and red rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of black and white with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and red rosebuds.

A reception followed in the church parlors. The bride's table was covered with a lovely lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. The traditional first piece of cake was cut by the bride and bridegroom. The cake was served by the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles Vian, and Miss Donna Donahue, Miss Jeanette Johnson, Miss Patsi De Marsh, Miss Mildred Broadbent and Mrs. Johnnie Williams assisted about the room. Miss Marie Anderson was in charge of the guest book. She was attired in an attractive pink formal.

For traveling the bride chose a white gabardine suit with accessories in white. Her corsage was an orchid. Following a honeymoon trip to Victoria, B. C., the couple will make their home at Winston until their new home is completed on East Douglas street in Roseburg.

The bride was graduated from Roseburg high school this spring. The bridegroom attended school in North Bend and is employed by Douglas Manufacturing company in Roseburg.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ferdie Wilkens of Lakeside, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Hank Weber of Myrtle Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Vian, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vian and sons, Le Roy, Victor and David, all of Yoncalla.

Auto Workers Union Adopts Plan For "Hurry" Strike Fund Of $10 Million

MILWAUKEE, July 16.—(AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers backed up their pension, welfare and wage demands yesterday by adopting a plan under which a $10,000,000 strike fund could be raised in a hurry.

Only a few of the UAW's 2,400 convention delegates opposed the plan. Its strongest support came from delegates who would be affected directly by a threatened strike at the Ford Motor Co. They objected to any limitation on funds.

Here's how the plan would work:

After the third week of any strike involving 50,000 or more workers, the UAW executive board could levy a special strike assessment on all other union members. The assessment would amount to one dollar a week for a period up to 12 weeks.

The money would be used "exclusively for relief of strikers and their families or for expenditures related to the conduct of the strike."

Because of the 50,000-striker minimum, the plan could be thrown into action only in event of a strike at one of the auto industry's "big three"—General Motors, Ford or Chrysler.

It was put through in the form of a resolution rather than an amendment to the union's constitution.

UAW President Walter Reuther said the resolution "may be the key to whether we do an effective job at the bargaining tables."

Its adoption gave the union a powerful weapon to support a threat to call out 106,000 Ford workers in a few days or weeks.

Until now the UAW executive board had been limited to levying a $1 assessment in any one year.

Excommunication Places Peasants Between Two Systems Of Authority

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

Put yourself in the shoes of a Polish peasant. He is a Catholic and a devout one in a land where a relatively small body of Communists control virtually every phase of his day-to-day life.

He is forced, of necessity, to have contact with the Communist propaganda, if only through reading official orders of the government. Assume he has learned of the Vatican excommunication decree, through his diocesan authorities, forbidding him to expose himself to Communist doctrine.

Is he faced with the necessity of disobeying the government and depriving himself of a living? From a literal reading of the decree excommunicating Communists and forbidding Catholic contact with them this might appear to be the case. However the effect probably would be to make his contact with his parish priest closer than ever.

The parish priest, his confessor, would have the authority to judge what this peasant could and could not do if he wanted to avoid the risk of cutting himself off from the sacraments of the church.

The crux of the matter is the conscience of the peasant, as his priest most likely would instruct him. Reading government notices which vitally affect his everyday life would not constitute wilful disobedience. Exposing himself knowingly to communist propaganda would.

He is inevitably caught between two systems of supreme authority. The church holds itself supreme in all spiritual matters. A Communist government claims supremacy in temporal affairs, and wants authority over church affairs, too.

Must Make Own Choice

What the peasant must do is sort the wheat from the chaff, with the assistance of his spiritual advisor. He must now learn what he has to reject and what he may accept.

To good Catholics, this can be a matter of spiritual life or death. To citizens of Communist countries, it can be life or death, period.

The Vatican has unshelved its supreme weapon—and the Communists have asked for it. They have attacked the church in all the countries of eastern Europe, and even in northern Korea.

The Communists have had a lot of experience at this. The Russian orthodox church exists today, partly because the Soviets found they could not wipe out religion without wiping out the people who follow it—and partly because the orthodox church in Russia adjusted itself to Soviet rule.

This is not to say the Roman Catholic church of today is like the Russian Orthodox church that bowed to the Soviets, except that both are churches and churches that are made up of people.

Widespread rebellion may already have begun in Czechoslovakia, for instance, as Catholic peasants support their priests who are victims of Communist campaigns against them. It may speedily weaken the Communist hold in such countries, and alter the political face of eastern Europe.

On the other hand, if Communist control is strong enough, local church groups may have to adjust themselves if they are to live.

In any case, the Vatican's order seems to mean that as far as it is concerned there is to be no compromise in the religious phase of the cold war.

Port Attorney Explains Delays In Flood Control

John Purvis, attorney for a Port of Umpqua commission told commission members in Reedsport July 11 of the difficulties experienced in getting easements for flood control work being done on the Smith river by U. S. Engineers.

Purvis stated that unless the necessary easements and agreements were signed by the owners of the farms affected, the government may abandon the entire project. In that case, he said farmers will have to bear the cost of repairing their own dikes and floodgates.

The July meeting opened on the sidewalks in front of the Umpqua National bank when Commission member O. H. Hinssdale failed to appear with the keys to the building. Norman Weatherly, commission president, conducted the hearing on the budget proposed for the coming fiscal year. Following the hearing, a commission met in the chamber of commerce office adjoining the bank offices.

The commission unanimously passed a resolution changing the meeting date to the first Tuesday of each month, and arranging to meet in the city recorder's office. The change from Monday to Tuesday night will eliminate conflict with city council meetings.

U. S. Air Force, British Fleet Train In Tokyo Bay

TOKYO, July 16.—(AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force and British fleet units began joint training exercises in the Tokyo Bay area Thursday. The new maneuvers, similar to those conducted last summer, will continue through Saturday.

The Americans are providing air coverage with B26 medium attack bombers, F51 Mustang fighters and F80 Jet-Propelled shunting stars.

B26s equipped by F51s will subject the British cruiser Jamaica and destroyer Hart to mock low level bombing attacks. Some Mustangs and shooting stars will act as interceptors for the surface vessels.

To pep up tomato juice and serve as a cocktail add two tablespoons of chopped onion, two tablespoons of chopped parsley, a half teaspoon of sugar, a teaspoon of lemon juice, a quarter teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce and a quarter teaspoon of salt to two cups of the juice. Chill and strain before serving with crisp crackers.

Protestants Called On To Fight Totalitarianism

CHICHESTER, England, July 16.—(AP)—The World Council of Churches has issued a militant call for all Christians to resist totalitarianism.

It reminded those who may be subject to persecution as a result that "the liberty they receive from their Lord cannot be taken away by violence, x x x or destroyed by suffering."

"A totalitarian doctrine is a false doctrine," said a resolution adopted by the 44-nation organization of Protestant churches. The council concluded a six-day policy making meeting here.

Principal speaker at the session was Dr. Joseph L. Hromadka of Prague, Czechoslovakia, where the Roman Catholic church is engaged in a bitter struggle with the Communist government.

Hromadka told the Council the Protestants had so far managed to stay out of the church-state war, but "we will have to say 'no' if there should be any attempt to interfere with the substance of our church."

Sheriff Sets Wages For Aides On Special Duty

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 16.—(AP)—The new Clark County sheriff issued new regulations Thursday for special deputy sheriffs—including a minimum wage requirement.

Sheriff Earl Anderson, former Washington State Director of labor and industries, said he would grant a badge to no one who is paid less than $15 for an eight-hour day, on special deputy duty.

Special deputies do such work as guarding dance halls, and are paid, not by the county, but by the private interests which employ them.

Discovers Wife's First Marriage After 35 Years

ASTORIA, July 16.—(AP)—A logging operator was suing for marriage annulment yesterday, complaining that he just discovered that the wife he had married 23 years ago had been married before.

In a circuit court complaint, George R. Van Vleet charged that his wife, Mable June, was married to John Edward Barrios at the time of the Van Vleet wedding in 1926.

Van Vleet charged his wife had told him it was her first marriage, and he had just discovered that was not true. He asked a settlement which would give him $75,000 in property, including a house at Portland and a residence at Cannon Beach.
