

Nationalism Gradually Displacing Colonial Status Among Asiatics

By JAMES D. WHITE

It isn't the same cold war any more. Until the Paris peace conference, the cold war was treated by both sides largely as a European deadlock. The Berlin blockade and airlift held the spotlight.

Now the conflict in Europe is changing, and a vast new front is opening up in Asia.

In Europe, postwar production is filling war-starved markets. Competition is making the economic phase of the European struggle more important. Also, communism has stepped up its long crusade against religious organizations. The Catholic church has answered with a mighty weapon — major excommunication. In communist dominated countries with large Catholic populations, the conflict between church and state has been brought to a head.

There are many links with Europe in this country which make it fairly easy for the American people to grasp the meaning

BERLIN, July 19.—(AP)—The allied-controlled press and radio fired their heaviest guns Monday in a western campaign against the Soviet secret police network in eastern Germany.

The British-licensed socialist newspaper, Telegraf, began publication of a list of 300 Germans allegedly hired as agents by the Russian MVD (Russia secret police).

It said the list disappeared several months ago from the Brandenburg headquarters of the MVD and had been the object of a frantic but unsuccessful Russian search.

The U. S. military government radio station in Berlin, RIAS, continued its twice weekly programs exposing alleged local German spies of the MVD in Soviet zone towns and villages.

Allied intelligence officers claimed the glare of publicity on east German collaborators of the MVD, which RIAS started last month, was undermining the prestige of the Social Unity (Communist) party.

Pro-allied political sources in Berlin said all signs pointed to they do not believe the two young giants of the world today are capable of living in peace with each other.

I talked to dozens and dozens of Asiatics last winter during a four-month tour, just when communism was winning in China its greatest triumph since 1917. Every single Asiatic to whom I talked openly or implicitly confirmed his lack of faith in peace.

What goes on in Europe.

Neither the average American nor the average European is as well prepared to understand what is happening in east Asia. This is where communism has opened up a whole big new front.

This front shows signs of being coordinated, like the drive against religious groups in Europe.

Nationalism is a tide in Asia as her peoples seek a better life. Asiatics want to get away from colonialism. The communist tactic is to change evolution away from colonialism into revolution. It brands every western attempt to discourage violence as just more imperialism — American imperialism.

In this situation there are some subtly but powerfully dangerous things. They originate in the way the east thinks of the west — and of alien western things like democracy and communism.

Some Asiatics were civilized when Europeans were still living in caves, and as "colored" peoples they have a hardy complex about past and present color lines drawn in the west.

This, warmed by the Oriental's proud resentment over his colonial experience, produces a strong prejudice that saturates the Orient.

There is little faith in peace. World war III seems inevitable to most Asiatics. Judging from their own feudal background and what Russo-American statesmanship they have seen first hand,

DOG CLIMBS TREES

PORTLAND, July 20.—(AP)—The Howard Schillings have a dog that they can tell to go climb a tree—and he does just that. Schilling explained he taught the toy collie, named "Budget," to climb into the bark to shiny up the trunk. Then the dog clambers out onto the limbs.

a purge in the Communist leadership in the near future.

"PACKAGED" MILLS process ALL of Every Log — Efficiently

When this company's long-range objective is reached, we will have at each mill site—in one compact package—enough different kinds of mills to use ALL the timber harvest from our tree farms. The advantages are many. First, transportation, administration costs, power, and other costs are reduced. Without such economies it would not be practical to use all the harvest—because in order to win permanent markets, prices must be low enough to attract customers. Integration makes it economically sound to use all the different sizes and species of trees grown on the supporting tree farm. We can also make salable products from formerly unused sound material. Planer shavings, slabs, and short pieces for example—become the raw materials for other nearby mills. This volume creates more jobs for workers. Future stability is greatly improved for employees, shareholders, our communities and allied business.

YOU ARE ALWAYS WELCOME! Weyerhaeuser extends a cordial invitation to the public to visit our mills. Trained guides will gladly show you through. Tours: Morning and afternoon, Monday through Friday. Plants located: In Washington: Everett, Longview, Snoqualmie Falls. In Oregon: Klamath Falls, Springfield.

TO HELP INSURE A PERMANENT INDUSTRY WE—

OPERATE TREE FARMS—to provide a never ending timber supply for our mills. The forest crop is harvested, reseeded, harvested, reseeded—in about 80-year cycles.

DIVERSIFY OUR MANUFACTURING—in order to use all of the tree. The aim is to build manufacturing centers in each of our operating areas so that on one millsite we can make useful products from low value as well as high value material.

DEVELOP NEW PRODUCTS—to increase the "take" from each acre of forest land harvested. A staff of engineers and scientists spend all of their time in this work. More products mean more steady jobs.

DEVELOP PERMANENT MARKETS—to be reasonably certain that Weyerhaeuser products are in steady demand year in and year out, in good times and bad. We work toward consistent high quality, and apply modern selling methods to create customer demand.
