

Los Angeles Gets First Break In Gang Shooting

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—(AP) Sheriff's deputies today sought a mystery blonde who may have put the finger on Mickey Cohen in the attempted assassination of the filmland gambling czar.

The first reported break in the ruthless shooting came last night when Lawrence E. Vaale, a resident in the shooting area, told deputies he saw the blonde and three men flee, from just below his bedroom window, moments after the shots Wednesday morning.

Det. Sgt. R. T. Hopkinson said Vaale reported he heard the shots and the sound of men running. He looked out his bedroom window and saw a 1949 sedan parked with motor running. One man was at the wheel, one in back and a third standing on the sidewalk.

Then the blonde woman, wearing a dark suit, came running and said: "Come on, Chuckie, let's get out of here."

The two jumped into the car and it sped off. Vaale said he was able to detect the first two numbers of the license. He said he had seen the man named "Chuckie" and the car in the neighborhood a week earlier.

Other sheriff's investigators were busy checking the long distance phone calls of the wounded mobster, who suffered a comparatively slight shoulder injury. Three others—Harry Cooper, bodyguard assigned to Cohen by the state attorney general; Edward (Neddie) Herbert, Cohen henchman; and bit actress Dee David—were wounded critically, but are reported improving.

several days ago and found it occupied by strangers.

Kenders, who visited the scene with Coroner Paul C. Mellinger and a pathologist, C. P. Larson, said the bodies were found a mile off the highway, about 18 miles east of Enumclaw and 100 feet from the White river.

He expressed belief the slayer had driven down the narrow road in the Easley car with his victims in the back seat, disposed of the bodies, and in an apparent effort to make the road appear unused, tossed logs across the trail as he left.

A "No Trespassing" sign had been placed at the entrance to the road.

Earlier, Kenders said he had taken the two occupants of the Easley home into protective custody. He identified them as Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Love and said they told this story:

Love was approached at a gas station Sunday morning by a stranger who offered free use of his home for a few weeks if the Loves would care for his rabbits. They moved in the next day after inspecting the house and finding everything apparently in order.

"Shortly after that," Love continued, "my wife pulled me by the sleeve into the kitchen. 'That looks like blood,' she said, pointing to some big red smears on the floor."

Love said he recalled some berries and canning equipment in another room and believed the stains to be berry juice.

Kenders said the Loves' description of the "strangers" car tallied with that of the missing Easley automobile, bearing the Washington license B-13566.

Kenders said witnesses corroborated the Loves' story.

The detective said the couple told him they had not noticed the two bullet holes in which Larson, the pathologist, found bits of human flesh yesterday. Paint stains, found in every room, were of human blood, Larson said. A pile of blood-stained clothing was found in a box in a shed at the rear of the house.

Larson estimated the bullet holes had been made late Saturday night or Sunday.

Oregon's Civil Defense Leaders Named By McKay

SALEM, July 22.—(AP)—Oregon's state civil defense organization, created by the 1949 Legislature to deal with war and civil disasters, was complete today.

Governor McKay named Louis E. Starr, Portland, former national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, as director of civil defense.

Members of the civil defense advisory council are: Paul B. McKee, Irving D. Winslow, Col. Harry C. Brumbaugh, and Claire W. Churchill, all of Portland.

The governor also named the following persons as deputy directors:

Jack A. Hayes, state deputy fire marshal, Salem; Col. John M. Poorman, Army Transportation association, Portland; Mal. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, state adjutant general, Salem; State Health Officer Dr. Harold M. Erickson, Portland; and Manley Robinson, Salem, state travel director.

parochial schools.

In the House, the issue still is in committee. However, the bill introduced by Rep. Graham A. Barden (D-N. C.) would bar turning over any of the federal money to parochial schools.

Opposite Views Presented
In her June 23 column, Mrs. Roosevelt said "the controversy brought about by the request made by Francis Cardinal Spellman that Catholic schools should share in federal aid funds forces upon the citizens of the country the kind of decision that is going to be very difficult to make."

She said "many years ago it was decided that the public schools of our country should be entirely separated from any kind of denominational control, and these are the only schools that are free, tax-supported schools. The greatest number of our children attend these schools."

Cardinal Spellman wrote that "I cannot presume upon the press to discuss, analyze or refute each inaccuracy in your columns—for they are manifold. . . ."

"America's Catholic youth," the Cardinal wrote, "helped fight a long and bitter fight to save all Americans from oppression and persecution. Their broken bodies on blood-soaked foreign fields were grim and tragic testimony to this fact. . . ."

"Would you deny equality to these Catholic youth who daily stood at the sad threshold of untimely death and suffered martyrdom that you and I and the world of men might live in liberty and peace? . . ."

Arms Aid Request To Follow Pact Approval

rary purpose is to provide security for the western European nations against any attack by Russia.

The 12 signers agree that they will regard any attack on one as an attack on all. For the first time in history, the United States is joining with European nations in a military alliance.

All the member nations are to join together in developing, as soon as possible, a grand strategy of defense for the West.

Reservation Move Fails
Efforts by Senators Taft (R-Ohio), Wherry (R-Nebr.) and Watkins (R-Utah) to tack reservations to the treaty were badly defeated. The big majority of the Senate went along with Senators Connally (D-Texas) and Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

The Democrats were Senators Edwin C. Johnson (Colo.) and Taylor (Idaho).

The Republicans were Senators Cordon (Ore), Donnell (Mo.), Flanders (Vt.), Jenner (Ind.), Kem (Mo), Langer (ND), Malone (Nev.), Taft (Ohio), Watkins (Utah), Wherry (Nebr.) and Young (ND).

Most of the argument was whether the United States should state by reservation that in joining the treaty this nation was under no obligation to furnish arms, including atomic weapons, to other members. This was the gist of the Taft-Wherry-Watkins demand, which was rejected 74-21.

Other Proposals Beaten
Two other Watkins proposals were treated even roughly. One, defeated 84 to 11, would have declared the U. S. not obligated to defend the North Atlantic area without approval by Congress.

Another, turned down, 87 to 8, would deny that the treaty obligated Congress to declare war or use U. S. armed forces to defend a pact nation.

Connally, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said: "The treaty will contribute to the peace of the world. The rights of the United States are amply protected."

Secretary of State Acheson saw the one-sided vote for ratification as proof to the world of "the determination of the American people to do their full part in maintaining peace and freedom."

Britain, Canada, Belgium and Luxembourg, of the seven original drafting powers, already have ratified the pact.

Historic Alliance
The alliance of nations in the North Atlantic pact is one of the most formidable in history.

Their estimated present armed strength totals nearly 600,000.

Dock Strike In London Called Off

London, July 22.—(AP)—Striking dockers who have crippled the ports of London for 25 days voted today to return to their jobs Monday.

The vote came at a huge mass meeting, where the committee leading the walkout recommended that the men call it off.

An average of 13,000 dock workers have been on strike since the stoppage began June 27 in sympathy with the striking Canadian Seamen's union. By the time the strikers get back to work Monday they will have lost out $1,000,000 ($1,500,000) in wages.

The stoppage tied up vital British export cargoes, hampering Britain's drive to overcome her severe dollar crisis. Troops, concentrating on unloading food ships, have prevented any severe shortages in British food supplies.

David A. Butts Funeral To Be Held In Portland
David Aubrey Butts, 25, who was killed near Canyonville when a logging tractor overturned, Wednesday, July 20, was born Sept. 29, 1923, at Morton, Wash.

He was married to Miss Phrona Campbell in Portland, Oct. 17, 1947. They had their home in this community the last few months, moving here from Holley.

Mr. Butts was a seaman 1/c in the navy during World War II. He enlisted Oct. 14, 1943, at Bremerton, Wash., and was discharged there in May 1946. He served in the Asiatic Pacific area.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Phrona Butts, Roseburg; his father, John L. Butts, Rice, Wash.; a daughter, Mary L. Butts, Roseburg, and seven brothers and sisters, Millard, Sidney, Clifford, Charles Butts, Morton, Wash.; Daisy Butts, San Francisco, Calif.; Margaret Stillner, Norfolk, Va., and John Butts Jr., Rice, Wash.

The body has been taken to Portland, where funeral services will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. from the Conservatory chapel of A. J. Rose & Son.

Arrangements are in charge of the Long & Orr mortuary.

more than that of the Soviet bloc. The figures on military manpower, not counting reserves, compare about like this:

Atlantic pact countries—5,738,000.
Russia and satellite countries—5,171,000.

In naval power, the Atlantic pact countries are far ahead. In air power, the balance might be close in numbers of planes but the western powers probably have farther-flying and harder-hitting bombers. (The A-bomb figures in here, too.)

These comparisons are all based on official and unofficial estimates; some of the estimates in the cases of the Soviet countries are admittedly little more than a guess.

In industrial strength, the Atlantic pact countries are far ahead, too. They top the Soviet-dominated countries four to one in 1950 steel production goals, over three to one in pig iron, two to one in coal. In 1946—the last year for which oil comparisons are possible—the West's lead was 10 to one.

MOSCOW, July 22.—(AP)—Soviet newspaper said today the U.S. Senate ratified the Atlantic pact "notwithstanding the broad, popular opposition and serious doubts and reservations advanced by many senators."

The papers declared that American public reaction "clearly" shows that the pact does not have the popular support of many millions of Americans vigorously opposed to the pact as an aggressive alliance threatening peace.

The papers gave prominent play to remarks by Sen. Taylor (D-Idaho) attacking the alliance and urging broader trade with Russia.

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By KEN BAILEY

QUESTION: A few days ago, a dog belonging to one of our neighbors bit two small boys and injured them severely. The dog has always been very good natured and all the neighborhood children have enjoyed playing with him so no one can account for his turning on the little boys. However, the dog's owners are faced with considerable expense in doctor bills for the youngsters and since we, too, have a dog, I'm wondering if there is any form of insurance which would protect us if he ever bit anyone.

ANSWER: The insurance which covers your legal liability for acts of your dog is called Comprehensive Personal Liability. This form of insurance covers legal liability for all members of the family and for dogs and other pets. The premium is very small and the policy is one which should be carried by every family.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

matter had not been considered and told to use his own judgment colored boys in the visiting troupe were barred, Flegel reported.

Croft Assumes Any Blame
Percy Croft, chairman of the Park commission, said he would personally assume responsibility for the situation and would accept any criticism.

"The pool manager called me to ask if the commission had a policy on the matter of admissions," Croft said. "As the matter had never been considered, never having been thought of, in fact, I told him we had no policy. Therefore, if anyone is to be criticized, the criticism should fall on me personally rather than on the pool manager or the commission as a whole."

Croft said the matter of policy would be placed before the next meeting of the commission.

Ray Brown, pool manager, reported he had no objection to use of the pool by colored persons, but that he had received no instructions as to policy, and, as he was unable to obtain a clear-cut decision, felt he should wait until the matter had been decided by the commission. Approximately 50 persons were using the pool at the time the Portland troupe appeared, Brown said.

Mayor Flegel said that Officer Pease and members of the Portland troupe declared they were not offended by refusal to admit colored members to the pool.

"The boys are used to it and accept it as a matter of course," Flegel said he was told by Pease.

The PAL club was organized by Pease as a method of combating juvenile delinquency. A group of members presented an interesting entertainment Thursday night at Finlay field.

Brannan Farm Bill Defeated
WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—A crushing House defeat of its controversial farm plan set the administration to work today on salvage operations in the Senate.

With a powerful combination of Democrats and Republicans in control, the House late yesterday voted 239 to 170 to kill a proposed "trial run" of the farm subsidy plan of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan on eggs, potatoes and wool. The coalition was led by Rep. Gore (D-Tenn), normally an administration follower. It triumphed despite a plea from Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) to give the Brannan plan a try.

Instead, the House voted 383 to 25 to continue for another year the rigid wartime farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a computed price intended to give farmers a purchasing power in fair relationship to the cost of things they must buy.

Today Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla), chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, indicated he hoped to turn the tide in the Senate, or at least gain a compromise.

In addition to timber, the Umpqua national forest sells other forest products. During the past year they sold 2,235 yew wood billets for making archer bows, 200 pounds of cascara bark, 100 gallons of Douglas fir pitch and 7,500 Christmas trees.

Thirty-one of the 38 sales made were to very small operators. They were for values of less than $500.

AWOL Soldier Held As Sequel To Holdup Battle

PORT ORFORD, July 22.—(AP)—PFC Charles Ray Bass was awaiting grand jury action today on a holdup and gun battle last Tuesday.

Bass was captured in the Humburg state park, shortly after a woman service station operator had been forced, at gunpoint, to deliver gasoline to a car.

Officer Chet Case pursued the car along the coast highway into the state park, where the car skidded into a bank. Its driver dashed into a small building and barricaded himself.

Case and two other officers exchanged fusillades with the barricaded man until he finally surrendered.

Police said Bass was a Texan, who was AWOL from Fort Lewis, Wash.

Montreal's first printing plant in 1778 was sponsored by Benjamin Franklin.
