Boy Is Injured While Attempting To Rescue Dog
BALTIMORE, July 25. — (AP) — Twelve-year old Wayne Heubeck tried to save a stray dog from being hit by a train Saturday and was seriously hurt himself.

Young Heubeck was sideswiped by a Pennsylvania Railroad Express. No one aboard apparently was aware of the accident and the train didn't stop.

Heubeck, and his friend, John Warner, 14, started out to go fishing this morning at Lake Roland. A stray dog followed them along the railroad tracks.

The mutt squatted down in the center of the tracks as a Baltimore-Harrisburg Express roared up. Heubeck ran over but couldn't pull the dog to safety. He himself jumped back and crouched down alongside the track.

But he was hit by a side of a car that whizzed by. The dog was killed.

Britain Claims Proof Russia Has Slave Labor

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 25. — (AP) — The British government claims to have documentary proof that forced labor is an established legal policy of the Soviet government. It says it believes about 10,000,000 persons—10 per cent of Russia's working population—are in forced labor camps.

The British delegate to the United Nations economic and social council, Corley Smith, made public a set of documents he said were laws and regulations covering the forced labor policy of the Soviet government.

The British published photostatic copies of what they claimed were the original Russian texts, running to 8500 words, plus full French and English translations.

These documents will form the basis of Britain's case against alleged Russian slave labor which is being investigated by the council under terms of an American motion approved last March 7.

One of the demands then was for a survey by a U. N. commission of conditions inside the Soviet Union. Russia denounced this as a plot by Britain and America to slip into her territory.

Previous attempts to bring the slave labor questions to a head have been stymied by Russian assertions that there was no forced labor in the Soviet union and that Western claims to that effect were "imperialistic propaganda."

The British are reported to feel that these documents will now force the Russians to some more definite action than a mere shrugging off of the charges.
