Assistant District Attorney Glenn Stanley said the mother confessed she smothered the boy with a blanket "because he had been crying and whimpering for several hours." Mrs. Haugh has been formally charged with murder, Stanley said. (AP Wirephoto).

U. S. Technician's Talk Stirs British Concern

LONDON, July 26.—(AP)—The London Daily Mail says a bar-room leak of top air secrets by an unnamed American technician may cause a British government investigation.

The paper said the information involved highly secret experiments by British and American electronic and aviation experts at an unidentified airfield near London.

The Mail said the American openly discussed in a crowded bar a broad outline of the problems being worked on, the names of experts on the British-American team, the type of equipment flown from the United States for the work, and the name of a firm associated with the experiments.

The British Air ministry and United States air force third division said they knew nothing about the alleged leakage.

Titu Weathering Opposition From Soviet

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 25.—(AP)—The first communist ruler to say "no" to Stalin seems to be still firmly in the saddle.

Premier Marshall Tito had defied the wrath of the Kremlin for more than a year now and Yugoslavia is weathering the economic and strategic strains resulting from the communist blasts at Tito for being too independent.

winter months by good crops. Foremost in relieving the strategic situation has been the closing of the Yugoslav border to the Greek guerrillas. Yugoslav spokesmen claim the Greek rebel cause was sacrificed by the communist's 13-month anti-Tito campaign.

Tito has had his troubles. Border incidents—shootings, sabotage, spies, short-lived sensations which have become almost commonplace. And there was a bit of tightening at the dinner table which has been eased since the

Boy Reports Kidnaping, Attempted Perversion

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 26.—(AP)—Police today sought a man accused by a six-year-old boy of kidnaping him and stripping him.

The boy told his father, H. Alexander, that he was picked up at a community carnival, taken by automobile to a strange house, and stripped of his clothing. The boy's father said the man made improper suggestions, and twisted the lad's thumb.

The boy was returned to his grandmother's home. His mother says he suffered no physical ill effects.

Other reports of a man amounging small boys had come in from the neighborhood, police said.

British Press Expresses Fear That Congress May Reduce Arms Aid To Point Lacking In Effectiveness

LONDON, July 26.—(AP)—British newspapers expressed fear today that congress may pare the U. S. arms-for-Europe program to the point where it will be ineffective.

Their uneasiness cropped up in editorial comment on the military aid bill President Truman sent to congress yesterday.

The influential London Times reviewed various proposals to put a time limit on such aid, to restrict it to Greece and Turkey and to hold it up pending new moves in the United Nations or a new peace bid to Russia.

"While it is easy to see the attraction of these proposals as a means of appeasing opposition in congress," the paper observed, "it must be said that most of them appear highly dangerous in Europe."

"Only the passing of the military program can remove the doubts that still linger in France and Italy that, in the event of war, the United States would leave them to be occupied while she prepared a counterattack from behind the English channel or the Pyrenees."

The conservative London Daily Telegraph took issue with the argument of Senator Taft (R-O) that aid should be given when an attack threatens.

"Senator Taft is a great deal more certain that western Europe is safe than those who would have to take the first shock should it prove to be unsafe..." it said.

The communist London Daily Worker declared the arms bill is "one more exposure of the aggressive character of the Atlantic pact."

LISBON, Portugal, July 26.—(AP)—Portugal's premier warned his parliament yesterday that Russia could "carry her armies in a snatching march as far as the British channel and the Pyrenees" any time she wanted.

In a surprise appearance before the assembly, which is considering ratification of the Atlantic pact, Premier Salazar said the treaty deserved enthusiastic support since it would help avoid the menace from the east.
