KDND DIAL-LOG

Here are some facts you probably never knew about Tex Beneke. Glenn Miller dubbed him "Tex." Although his vocal records have sold into the tens of millions for RCA Victor, Tex, is convinced that he can't sing and refuses to own one of his own vocal records. He plays the same saxophone he bought for $200 a dozen years ago. He has spent over $750 on repairing the instrument, but won't swap it for a better one. Was hired by Glenn Miller, sight unseen, on the advice of drummer-bandleader Gene Krupa. Never played with a name band other than Miller's. And, contrary to popular belief, Tex was not with Glenn Miller's Army Band. He joined the navy when Glenn joined the army because Glenn at first announced that he would not lead a band in the service. Tex took over the band at the naval base, Norman, Okla. He would not have accepted leadership of the Glenn Miller Orchestra had he not been asked personally by Mrs. Miller and manager Don Haynes, Glenn's closest friend and advisor. Tune in the "Tex Beneke Show" tonight at 8:30 on KRNR, if you wouldst hear some of this fine Beneke music.

You'll be hearing a switcheroo on voices from here on in. Allen Cordon and Lyle Fenner have swapped morning and evening announce-shifts... that's why. A note of interest regarding these two has it that Mr. Cordon has just returned from a two-weeks' trip to Washington, D. C., and New York City... and, as for Mr. Fenner... "nervous-wreck" Fenner, that is, he has the fidgets most of the time... waiting for that newest addition to his family, which may arrive any day now!

Laborites in Commons Nullifying Lords' Votes

LONDON, June 27. — (AP) — The labor party's overwhelming majority in the House of Commons has started repealing amendments to the steel nationalization bill passed by conservatives in the House of Lords.

The conservatives have tried to delay the date of the government's taking over the industry until after new general elections. Commons are expected to return the bill to its original state. A new bill limiting the power of the House of Lords probably will make the peers' delaying attempts meaningless.

Cosmic Ray Study On Mount McKinley Planned

BOSTON, July 27 — (AP) — A mountain-climbing Boston scientist took off yesterday to study the possibility of setting up the world's highest cosmic ray observation post on 20,200-foot Mount McKinley.

Washburn and other researchers will conduct a month's reconnaissance for the office of naval research. The project is sponsored by the navy, the Boston museum and the University of Chicago physics department.

Washburn, the only observer from this country, said the main purpose is to find an observatory site with proper foundation for a small permanent structure, highly insulated and fire-proofed, some 18,000 feet up the mountain.

He said temperatures at that point are as low as 20 below zero in the summer and 100 below in the winter.

Two Methods For Mosquito Control Given

There are two steps in controlling mosquitoes, explains County Sanitarian Claude Baker. One is the destruction of the breeding places, and the other is the destruction of adult mosquitoes.

Breeding places may be controlled by drainage or the application of prepared chemical solutions. One good chemical solution is a prepared 25 percent DDT concentrate in special solvents. This can be purchased locally. To make a five percent solution, dilute one gallon of the concentrate with four gallons of fuel or diesel oil. This should be sprayed liberally over the surface of the water.

Adult mosquitoes may be destroyed by spraying DDT preparations in and around buildings, woodland areas, grass areas, and various resting places of mosquitoes. Some of the methods require community action, but usually individuals can obtain relief with comparatively little cost and simple equipment.

The spraying of vegetation surrounding buildings, as well as the building itself, so as to leave a poisonous film on the surface will reduce mosquito annoyances for several weeks. The DDT wettable powder or emulsion at a concentration of 2.5 percent in water is recommended.

This spray can be applied with sprayers or orchard power sprayers. Door and window screens and places where mosquitoes rest should also be treated. The success of this control depends upon every householder in the community.

WASP CURE PAINFUL
DES MOINES — (AP) — Elwyn Pearson's plan for getting rid of wasps proved more painful than stings. The wasps had been stinging his stock in the pasture. He discovered the nest in a large gas pipe used as a fence brace. Pearson threw gasoline into the pipe, and lit a match. There was a blast which threw fire over him, resulting in burns that required hospital attention.
