Couple Marry At Lookingglass Church

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stillman

Picture by Dyser studio, Drain

Miss Marjorie Reagles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Dyser of Lookingglass, became the bride of Robert Stillman, also of Lookingglass, at a recent wedding performed in the beautifully decorated church at Lookingglass.

The candles were lighted by Miss Dixie Nay and Miss Doris Wylie, who were gowned in yellow with sweet pea wristlets. The wedding music was played by Miss Carmen Dyser, who also accompanied Burle Lee Gilly, who sang, "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a white slipper gown with a full train. The off-the-shoulder yoke was outlined with seed pearl embroidery. She carried a large bouquet of white roses tied with white satin ribbons.

Miss Dona Boling was maid of honor and wore a gown of aqua and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaids were Miss Norma Wylie and Miss Dorine Lowery, who wore lavender gowns and carried bouquets of sweet peas and roses. Miss Jane Lowery and Miss Betty Wylie were flower girls and carried large white baskets of rose petals.

Delbert Neibum was best man and Ronald Myers and Jack Jones were ushers.

A reception followed in the church parlors. The wedding cake was cut by the bride and bridegroom and served by Mrs. H. M. Coon of Seattle. The punch was served by Mrs. Harold White, Mrs. B. R. Meskill had charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. H. M. Coon and son, Buddy, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osborn, all of Seattle.

Enjoys Year's Stay In Hawaii

Mrs. Jessie Dorville

Mrs. Jessie Dorville returned to Roseburg last week, following a year's stay in Hawaii as the guest of her daughter, Miss Cleo Hale, who is receptionist and artist for the Craig Stevens studio. Mrs. Dorville arrived in Honolulu, August 7, 1948, on the Lurline. She reports an especially enjoyable year there and brought back many interesting pictures of the Islands. She returned to the United States by transport on account of the tie-up of ships at Pearl harbor on account of the strike.

She is at present staying here with her son, Arlo Jacklin, and family. She plans to visit in Aberdeen, Wash., Portland and Eugene for the next month, prior to returning here to make her home permanently.

Celebrate Golden Wedding On July 24th

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henslee

In a very lovely garden setting, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henslee celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon by inviting relatives and friends to an informal at-home affair at their attractive home on the South Umpqua river. The porch steps were flanked with potted tuberous begonias, while huge bouquets of blue and pink hydrangeas were placed about the garden. Groupings of attractive lawn furniture were arranged about the garden for the guests.

The serving tables were placed under a huge spreading walnut tree on the front lawn. The large table was covered with a lovely lace cloth with a centerpiece of yellow and bronze gladioli arranged in the shape of a bridge, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. Over this hung a cluster of wedding bells suspended from a tree branch overhead.

At one end was the beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake and at the other end was the coffee service. The small table was covered with an exquisite handmade drawn-work Mexican tea cloth brought to Mrs. Henslee forty years ago by friends from old Mexico. The punch bowl graced the table. The guest book table was on the front porch.

The many lovely gifts were displayed on a table in the dining room. The room was decorated with baskets of gladioli and bowls of sweet peas. Among gifts was one presented to them by fifty members of a social club they belonged to when residing near Riddle, where they made their home for twenty-five years.

Assisting in receiving the guests were the Henslees' two daughters, Mrs. George L. (Dena) Singleton of Roseburg and Mrs. D. L. (Loris) Farleigh of Redmond, Ore.

The cake was served by Mrs. Vance Eager of Roseburg; Mrs. Elizabeth Henslee of Eugene (sister-in-law of the Henslees) and Mrs. G. R. Singleton of Roseburg.

Mrs. Jack Nash of Roseburg and Mrs. Nell Gilmore of Riddle presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Frank Denton and Mrs. Benjamin O. Du Fresnoe of Roseburg served the punch.

Mrs. James Henslee (bride of the Henslees' grandson), Redmond, Ore., was in charge of the guest book.

Piano solos were played by Bobbie Ayre, talented thirteen-year-old grand-nephew of the Henslees from Coos Bay.

Guests calling enjoyed the attractive garden and also Mrs. Henslee's cacti garden.

Out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Farleigh and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Henslee Farleigh of Redmond, Ore.; Mrs. Elizabeth Henslee of Eugene, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ayre and son, Bobbie, and Mrs. Yvonne Murray and daughter, Diane, of Coos Bay.

About 130 Riddle and Roseburg friends attended the affair. Expected, but unable to get to Roseburg until later were Mrs. George Sheppard of Austin, Tex., and her daughter, Mrs. Jack Armstrong, also of Austin. Mrs. Sheppard is a sister of Mr. Henslee.

For the golden wedding anniversary observance, Mrs. Henslee was charming in an afternoon dress of pale aqua with a corsage of yellow and bronze roses.

Alva M. Sheppard and J. B. Henslee were married at Hylton, Tex., July 24, 1899. Mrs. Henslee engaged in the banking and drug business and later moved to Roseburg in 1910 and was associated in the theatre business with his two brothers, Charles Henslee, now of Canby, Ore., and the late A. B. Henslee of Coos Bay. They later moved to Canyonville and then to Riddle, where they resided 25 years, prior to retiring and moving to Roseburg. They have two daughters, Mrs. George L. Singleton of Roseburg and Mrs. D. L. (Loris) Farleigh of Redmond, Ore., and three grandsons, Gordon and Phillip Singleton of Roseburg and James Henslee Farleigh of Redmond.

The following poem was written in their honor by Florence Pfaff in observance of their golden wedding anniversary:

A True Story
By FLORENCE PFAFF

Would you like me to tell you a story,
One that is really true,
One with a happy ending?
Listen, I'll tell it to you.

One time in a small school in Texas
When the day was so sunny and fine—
A sweet little maiden of seven
Saw a shy new boy of nine.

She sensed the poor lad's discomfort
In her dear little friendly heart,
And she said, "Won't you play
With us, Jimmie?"

The game is just ready to start."
He accepted. They played, and the children
Soon became playmates and friends.
That's how the story is started
You'll presently hear how it ends.

In their beautiful home on the Umpqua,
With their nearest and dearest ones there
Sit the king and the queen in their kingdom
A romantic and lovable pair.

So gracious, so kindly and friendly
As they welcome their friends old and new
Who have come to help share the occasion
Bringing gifts and their best wishes, too.

For it's only once in a lifetime
Comes the time when we can all say
"May God ever bless these dear Henslees,
'Tis their own Golden Wedding Day."
