The Charleston, Granddaddy Of The Jitterbug, Threatens To Come Back

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK.—(P)—Junior, get papa the kneecap off—the Charleston's coming back.
 What's the Charleston?
 Why, son, the Charleston is the granddaddy of the jitterbug. Back in the mid-1920s, when everybody had to take shower baths because the tub was full of hand-made prohibition gin, you couldn't even deposit money in the bank unless you proved you could do the Charleston. It showed you were alive.

Do I mean it was a dance? Junior, no dance ever hit the country as hard as the Charleston. It was THE dance. If a man wasn't willing to shimmy-shimmy back and forth and then risk his right tarsal bone by throwing it over his left femur, he was strictly a cad out of tune with his time.

Everybody did it. La Belle Joan Crawford started her fame as a dramatic actress as a result of a fancy prize-winning, hip Charleston movement. And Ginger Rogers was able to get her independence from Independence, Mo., because of the same swivel swing. Later some movie critic mentioned that both girls had sparkling eyes. This was a sad discovery.

It changed them from hoofers into actresses. And after that a gal covers up her legs, exposes her bosoms like a half-shucked cornucopia, and begins emoting about socially significant themes she doesn't know from dime store jewelry.

Originated Among Negroes
 But to get back to the Charleston... Charleston... a simple, primitive, agile movement based some distance below the bust:

"So many young people have come in wanting to dance the Charleston that I have had to teach it to all our instructors," said Charles Columbus, dance director of the Fred Astaire studios here.

Columbus says the dance originated among South Carolina Negroes. He can trace the sequence from the Charleston down through "the varsity drag, the shag, truckin', the lindy hop, and jitterbugging." But it leaves him a little leg weary—when he demonstrates.

He is a veteran dancing star himself who twinkled-footed some 25 years on Broadway.
 "There was nothing like the Charleston for popularity," Columbus said. "They danced it in the living rooms, the kitchens, the back porch, and standing up in rumber seats."
 Columbus thinks the American public is more dance crazy now than it has ever been. The pupils,

OREGON STATE COLLEGE.—The recently organized Oregon State College Foundation is now on a working basis, receiving gifts for use or investment and disbursing funds for approved betterment projects, according to reports made at a meeting of trustees and counselors just held on the campus.

Twenty-five thousand dollars was formally turned over to the foundation at that meeting by the Oregon Home Economics extension council to be invested until the women of that statewide organization have raised $45,000 to build a new cooperative living group house at O. S. C. Allocation of $2000 by the foundation to help construct a small building to house the new O. S. C. cyclotron was also announced.

Heading the foundation as president is E. B. Aldrich, Fendleton publisher and former member of the old college board of regents. Other trustees present at the meeting were Albert Bauer, head of Oregon Kaiser interests and president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, vice president; Robert M. Kerr, Portland attorney, treasurer; President A. L. Strand, secretary; G. E. Spain, vice president of the Caterpillar Tractor Co., Peoria, Ill., and Claude Palmer, Portland commercial photographer.

A new illustrated booklet explaining the organization and purposes of the foundation has just been printed. Arrangements were made for it to be distributed to attorneys, banks and trust companies for the information of persons interested in making gifts or bequests. Alumni groups throughout the state will assist in spreading information on the opportunities for adding to the facilities and services of Oregon state beyond the scope of tax funds, said Lloyd Carter, state alumni president.

Reds in Three Chinese Provinces Facing Uprising

CANTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—A nationalist army spokesman said Thursday an uprising involving around 240,000 men had developed in the Red-controlled provinces of Honan, Hopeh and Anhwei.

Gen. Teng Wen-yi, the spokesman, said communist misrule in the recently conquered provinces caused the revolt. Other reasons for the uprisings were ruthless conscription of men and excessive requisitioning of food, he said.

Teng said the revolted provinces possessed about 100,000 rifles. In one Hupeh mountain area alone the rebels control 15 districts, the general said.
 They are aiding the nationalist cause by disrupting Red transport and communication lines, Teng said.

Teng scoffed at estimates the Reds would take Canton in between three to six weeks.

"Today's Chinese edition of the Hong Kong Standard was banned from Canton for publishing an Associated Press story quoting this estimate."
 "The communists could be here in less than three weeks if they take airplanes," Teng said.
 He said floods, epidemics and nationalist resistance had slowed down the communist advance in Central China. Teng said in each Red company of 200 men as a result of illness only about 80 able bodied were left.

he said, range from Eleanor Roosevelt, a longtime patron of the dance, down to gangsters.
 Mrs. Roosevelt, incidentally, is strictly conservative ballroom dancer. She hasn't come in to freshen up her Charleston—if she ever danced it.

German Bride Seeks Baby Which GI Took To U. S.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 12.—(P)—The German bride of an American soldier appealed today for return of their baby, which the soldier took to the United States.

The soldier is Sgt. Charlton B. Chapline, 32, of 3104 Southwest Nebraska Street, Portland, Ore. Army records show he flew to the United States July 30 with the couple's five-month old son, Charlton Bryan Chapline.

An army chaplain, Capt. J. K. Jung, said Mrs. Chapline had refused to accompany Chapline to the United States.

Now the mother, 25, has appealed to the American Red Cross and employed a German lawyer in an attempt to recover the child.

Her task is complicated, however, by the fact the baby has been registered with the U. S. Consulate here as an American citizen.
 "I don't know what she can do now except join her husband and baby in America," the chaplain said.

Red Cross officials said they could not handle such a case.
 Mrs. Chapline, the former Ruth Margot Balbach, lives in Wiesbaden, where the sergeant was assigned to an army hospital unit.

Veterans Administration in June opened a new 399-bed general medical and surgical hospital in Providence, Rhode Island, bringing the total number of VA hospitals to 129.

Good fishing in widely scattered spots of Oregon was reported today by the State Game commission in its weekly fishing bulletin.
 The outlook by districts includes:
 Douglas county—Roseburg—upper Umpqua area water conditions generally perfect. For those fishing carefully and thoroughly, trout angling should continue excellent. More summer steelhead being taken. Cutthroat take increasing below the Forks.

Western Pine Tree Farms Pass 3 Million Acres

PORTLAND, Aug. 12.—(P)—Industrial tree farms in the western pine region have passed the 3,000,000-acre mark today with the certification of farms in five states.

Opening its semi-annual meeting, the Western Pine association added another 477,116 acres of private timberland to its tree farm system. This brought the total to 3,186,871 acres on 234 farms.

Ernest L. Colby, the association's chief forester, said this represents about 20 per cent of the private industrial timberland in the pine region and "indicates growing awareness of operators to the importance of intensified timber management."

TRUMAN LAUGHS IT OFF
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—President Truman laughingly observed Thursday that he does not believe this nation is driving down the road on "the last mile" to collectivism.
 Mr. Truman gave this view when a reporter brought up the fears expressed by former President Herbert Hoover Wednesday about government spending and taxes.
