DIAL-LOG

The whole town's buzzing about Roseburg's newest and most exciting annual event—the races. You hear arguments between Susan and Del on KRNR's "Party Line" about quarter-horses . . . there is the novice aboard a city bus inquiring gently of a fellow passenger: "Well, what's this Win-Place-Show stuff about?"—and there are muffled discussions in confidential and provocative tones over a cup of coffee in the Umpqua Hotel . . . At any rate, horse-racing is upon us for the first time in many years . . . and anticipation is at an all-time high. And by the way, KRNR's versatile Lyle Fenner has been assigned the announcing job at the track . . . the poor man's Doodles Weaver . . . calling out: "And here they come around the track . . . it's Cabbage, by a head . . ."

"I'm Gonna Wash that Man Right Out of My Hair," "You're Breaking My Heart," "Who's Sorry Now," "24 Hours of Sunshine," and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," title tonight's musical selections on the "Sammy Kaye Showroom" at 7:15. When a group of unscrupulous men try to swindle honest settlers out of land on which they had spent years of hard work, "The Cisco Kid" takes a hand on the side of justice, during the adventure of "The Cisco Kid and the Disappearing Cabin," tonight at 7:30.

FLASH: A racing event will be broadcast over KRNR tonight at 10 direct from the track by remote facilities. If, for some reason, you can't be there in person, you'll catch all the color and excitement of an honest-to-goodness race by dialing 1490 tonight at 10, for 15 minutes. Of necessity, this'll shove "Greg Hood" down to 10:30 tonight . . . at which time a confession which he didn't want to hear becomes the subject of the latest incident from his "Casebook." Elliott Lewis, who is starred as Gregory Hood, and his wife, Cathy, have appeared often together as an acting team in radio. But they'll be seen together in a film feature for the first time when the new "The Story of Melly X" is released.

Gen. Waitt Admits Flattering Self in 3rd Person Report On Army Job

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt said Tuesday that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan asked him to prepare a memorandum on eight officers eligible for Waitt's job as Chief of the Army Chemical Corps.

Waitt told the Senate Investigations committee that he thought "Vaughan, who is President Truman's army aide, asked him to do so at some social gathering—perhaps a cocktail party."

He said he could not recall the date, but said he thought Vaughan asked him to "give my estimate—my personal opinion"—of officers most likely to be considered for the post.

Further, Waitt acknowledged to the committee, looking into activities of so-called five percenters, that he dictated the memorandum to the secretary of James V. Hunt, Washington management counselor. Hunt has been a prime figure in the inquiry.

Senator Mundt (RSD) said when the memorandum was placed in evidence last week that Waitt had "cut the throats" of his brother officers who might succeed him as the army's chemical chief.

Sounded Own Praises

Waitt also acknowledged writing another memorandum which gave a highly flattering report on himself. It was written in the third person and he testified it was prepared for Vaughan to hand to President Truman as Vaughan's evaluation of Waitt.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) noted that Waitt, in the report, described himself as one of the world's leading experts on toxicological warfare.

Waitt laughed nervously and then said:

"That is most embarrassing. But it happens to be true."

Waitt, squirming in his chair and still laughing, said:

"Pravda (Soviet newspaper) has called me the savage General Waitt. Moscow radio has called me a cannibal."

The committee got testimony last week there was no evidence the report Waitt prepared on himself ever got to the White House. It was found in Hunt's files.

Waitt and Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, quartermaster general were suspended July 16 by Secretary of the Army Gray pending further investigation. Gray acted after the names of the two officers were brought out in the Senate inquiry.

Waitt today called Hunt "a close personal friend." Before Waitt testified, Lt. Col. Roy T. Evans testified that Hunt claimed to have been responsible for special consultant for the WAA. Woods already has appeared before the committee looking into the activities of "five percenters"—persons who collect fees, usually five percent, for their help in seeking out government contracts.
