Multnomah Has Small Army Of Sheriff Aides

PORTLAND, Aug. 26.—(P)—Multnomah county has 537 regularly commissioned sheriff's deputies and some 240 holding special commissions, the Oregon Journal reported Thursday.

The special commissions aren't particularly unusual—some 2000 of them were issued in the 18 years Martin Pratt was sheriff. The sheriff's reserve, public officials and various others got them.

Regular commissions, however, were rarely issued by Pratt to other than his office personnel, the newspaper said a check of county clerk's records disclosed. The present sheriff, Marion Elliott, has a staff of 230 and in addition has issued 307 regular commissions to such outsiders as Mike DeCicco, Portland tire dealer; Nicholas Granet, county democratic party chairman, and State Senator Jack Bain, the Journal reported.

The state flower of Kentucky is the goldenrod.

z "The Cisco Kid" was known far and wide as a man of his word. His word was given to one of the greatest prospectors of the old Southwest to make a man of his grandson. In the dramatization of "The Cisco Kid and the Tenderfoot," Cisco and Pancho help their ward not only to find himself but also to discover gold. (7:30-8 p. m.)

Producer Ted Robertson, of MDL's "Straight Arrow" program (Fridays, 8:00-8:30 p. m.) and his assistant, Ray Kemper, have just returned from the inter-tribal American Indian ceremonies at Gallup, New Mexico, where they have recorded documentary material on Indian life. Many of the ceremonial rites they captured on tape are "top secret" Indian tribal routines that have never before been seen or heard by white men. This material will be used to background their "Straight Arrow" adventure dramas, which return to the normal three-times-weekly scheduling in September. "The Renegade" titles tonight's "Straight Arrow" adventure at 8.

A professional dance girl is found murdered because blackmail is involved in "The Affair of the Dancing Destroyer," the mystery drama to be unfolded on "The Affairs of Peter Salem" broadcast tonight at 10:30.

SATURDAY: Ninety-six girls, ranging in age from 14 to 17 will gather in Washington, D. C., as the elected representatives of the 48 states of the Girls' Nation tomorrow morning at 11, at which time they'll set up their own miniature National Government. Official program title is "American Legion Auxiliary Girls' Nation." Senator Claude R. Hoey (Democrat) of North Carolina, chairman of the Senate Committee investigating the "five percenters" in Washington, will be the guest holding the press conference on "Meet the Press" tomorrow at six.

McKay Will Probe Ban On Pensioner's Use Of Auto

SALEM, Aug. 23.—(P)—"I want to find out the complete story," Gov. Douglas McKay declared today as he asked State Welfare Director Lou Howard for the welfare commission's file on Logan Fields, 78-year-old one-armed retired violin maker of Portland, who was instructed Wednesday to choose between disposing of his automobile or removal from old-age assistance rolls.

Speaking of the car as one "which no dealer would pay more than $75 for," McKay declared he could not "help but be concerned over the published details of the case." He emphasized, however, that he pursues a hands-off policy with respect to the autonomy of state boards and commissions.

Press accounts stated that Wednesday's ruling by the state welfare commission in Portland upheld earlier action by the Multnomah county welfare commission.

Miss Howard assured the governor that the Fields file, including a complete transcript of his hearing before the state commission, would be sent to the state house as soon as possible.
