

Santa Claus' New Adirondack Home, Toy Workshop Popular With Kiddies

WILMINGTON, N. Y. —(AP)—If the cash registers keep ringing jingle bells the way they have since July 1, Christmas is going to be a year-round business in this Adirondacks region.

The cash registers are in "Santa's workshop" a mile and a half out of here on the Memorial State Parkway to Whiteface mountain. Promoters of the workshop, described as a quarter million dollar enterprise, write in "North Pole" as part of the address and hope to get a postoffice listed under that name soon. They already have the pole, an air-conditioned one that frosts up even under an August sun.

Santa Book Architecture

Santa's workshop consists of some eight buildings done up in story book fashion to the designs of art Monac, artist and designer. Other partners are Harold Fortune, a builder and like Monaco a resident of this region, and Julian Reiss, who conducts auto agency and mail order clothing businesses in New York. Reiss got the idea a couple of years ago while motoring these parts with his six-year-old daughter.

In six weeks after the grand opening, the Workshop office figures, there have been 50,000 visitors. Children under 10 and older visitors over 90 get in free but the rest are paying customers at 75 cents per payment.

The other principal method of spending money at the workshop as yet is in buying toys, including those designed by Monaco, for immediate or future delivery. But the workshop has 15

Toastmasters Set Election For September 20

Election of officers for the Roseburg Toastmasters club will be deferred two weeks until Sept. 20, it was voted at Tuesday's meeting at Carl's Haven. Club attendance and membership has dropped during the summer, because many have been on vacations and for other reasons have been forced to drop out. However, prospects are the attendance will be back to normal in the coming weeks, and a good turnout is especially requested for the date of election, it was reported.

The club voted to send a letter of condolence to Mrs. Blair Alderman, Eugene, whose husband, lieutenant governor of District 7, died following an automobile accident in Iowa Saturday.

Carl Permin was table topics chairman Tuesday, Dr. S. L. De Lapp introduced as speakers Leroy Inman, Tom Coates and Jerry Sheldon, Phil Harth was evaluator, and Permin, Harth and C. O. Slabaugh served as individual critics.

This Is Last Rally, Six G. A. R. Members Agree

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Six old Civil War veterans agreed today Wednesday that this is the last encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

"The matter wasn't even brought up," said Miss Cora E. Gillis of Jamestown, N. Y., GAR secretary, at a news conference after the closed session.

Charles L. Chappel, 102, Long Beach, Calif., apparently allowed his campaign for more encampments to drop after one wishful gesture.

Before the session started, Chappel implored Commander in Chief Theodore A. Penland, 100, Vancouver, Wash.

"Just let me have that gavel for a minute, will you?" Chappel is senior vice-commander.

Penland chuckled and allowed
