

More Jurors Called Up In Murder Trial

Questions By Attorneys Seek To Find Impartial Panel; To View Scene

Six more prospective jurors were summoned by Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly "to appear forthwith" at Victoria Sanders' murder trial yesterday afternoon, as the lawyers ran through the original jury list and eliminated several persons for various reasons.

The jury was to view the scene of the alleged crime this morning. They were to be taken to the house, two miles west of Drain, where the body of Ralph Mojonnier was found dead almost two years ago, a gunshot wound in his head and .22 caliber rifle beside him.

In picking the jury, the state and counsel for the defense eliminated a number of persons because they professed conscientious scruples against capital punishment. Others were excused for reasons not stated, as the lawyers wrote their challenges on secret ballots handed to the judge.

Draws Name
When there were no more names to be called, Judge Wimberly instructed Mrs. Eva Marsh, of the sheriff's office, to draw six additional names. She drew the slips of paper from a box and handed them to County Clerk Agee.

The names drawn were those of Harriett F. Turner, Winona P. Bailey, Katherine E. Young, Gordon Hadley, Hazel E. Coffman, and Conley C. Shelton. The judge instructed the sheriff's office to "summon them to appear forthwith." Mrs. Turner arrived in the court room within a few minutes.

The trial was to get underway today, after the jury's return from viewing the scene of the alleged crime.

Refused To Marry
From questions asked the jurors, the state indicated it would attempt to prove that Miss Sanders killed Mojonnier after he "refused to marry her," when she had born a child, "which may or may not" have been his child. Miss Sanders and Mojonnier allegedly were living together as man and wife.

During the questioning, the comely defendant sat with her lawyers at the bar, the long table situated directly in front of the judge. Her attorneys include Paul E. Geddes and Carl Felker, Roseburg, and John Purvis, Reedsport. Others at the table were State Police Sgt. Lyle Harrell, Dudley Walton, assistant district attorney, and Robert G. Davis, district attorney.

Juror Draws Laughter
E. R. Metzger, Roseburg, called as a juror, caused laughter in the courtroom and even drew a smile from Miss Sanders, when he remarked "if she had a child by him and he wouldn't marry her under certain circumstances, I wouldn't blame her for taking a shot at him!" He was later excused.

Judge Wimberly explained from the bench that if Miss Sanders had had a child by Mojonnier, and there was a question whether it was his, would she still have a right to "shoot him down."

All jurors attested, under Geddes' questioning, that they would be willing "to give this young lady the benefit of presuming her innocent, until proved guilty beyond a reasonable doubt."

The prosecution sought to learn the juror's attitudes toward capital punishment, and whether they would allow themselves to be influenced by the fact that "the defendant is a woman."

Oregon Ryegrass Production Upped; Legumes Seed Yields Reveal Decline

PORTLAND, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Higher ryegrass yields have boosted the Oregon crop to 49,000,000 pounds compared with 34,600,000 last year. But the federal crop reporting service said legume seed yields were down. A severe winter and late spring frosts were blamed for the drop of legume seeds to 113,000,000 pounds. The crop represents about 68 percent of the nation's supply.

The Department of Agriculture's weekly bulletin said hairy vetch would total about 14,500,000 pounds, down 500,000 from last year. Common and Williamette vetch was estimated at 11,900,000 pounds, less than half the 1948 output.

Although plantings of Austrian peas were increased 17,000 acres, the harvest will be 29,600,000 pounds, only 4,600,000 above a year ago. Hungarian vetch output was estimated at 630,000 pounds compared with 1,100,000 last year.

Support prices for the 1950 crop will be based on parity prices as of April 1, 1950, the department announced.

The agency said that if parity prices next April are the same as those of July 15, the average support levels for top grade seed would be as follows: hairy vetch 12.5 cents a pound; common vetch 6.34 cents; Williamette vetch 6.34 cents; crimson clover 16.03 cents; common ryegrass 7.09 cents; Austrian winter peas 4.62 cents.

These would be slightly under 1949 support prices.

Aerial Spraying Controls Spruce Budworm Invasion

SALEM, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The epidemic of spruce budworm, which infested 160,000 acres of trees in Lane and Linn counties, was completely controlled by aerial spraying, the State Forestry department reports.

The trees were sprayed in May and June with airplanes and helicopters. It cost only $1.07 an acre. The department said more than 96 percent of the budworms were killed. Their natural enemies will take care of the rest.

The worm kills trees by destroying their foliage.

Japanese Will Not Add Year Each New Years

TOKYO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Japanese on Jan. 1 will not add another year to their ages as they have done for ages.

Always in the past the Japanese, just like race horses, have added one more year Jan. 1 no matter when their birth date. This New Year's the country will adopt the western method of counting age—from the date of birth.

Japanese women are pleased. The men are indifferent.

Klamath County Drouth Said Worst Since 1889

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The drouth in Klamath county is the worst since 1889, some ranchers said here.

Ranchers of the Wood River valley said grass conditions have not been so poor in 60 years. Some farmers said they have doubled their irrigation this year and still have not maintained a typical stand of grass.
