Related Earl Browder
Given Secret Audience
With Ex-President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. — (AP) — A former communist newsman told senators Tuesday that Earl Browder, one-time head of the communist party in the United States, held secret meetings in the White House with the late President Roosevelt in 1944.

The testimony was given by Howard Rushmore, a reporter on the New York Journal American, to a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

Rushmore is a former member of the staff of the Daily Worker, official communist party organ in this country.

He said his information on the White House meetings came from Benjamin Gitlow, whom he identified as a communist party official.

Holds Hearings
The subcommittee is holding hearings on a bill by Senator McCarran (D-Nev) to arm the government with new powers to block the entry of subversive aliens and to throw out any who are here.

Rushmore also told the committee that former Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Mrs. Roosevelt, the wife of the late president, intervened to allow Browder's wife to enter this country after she had been ordered deported.

Rushmore said that deportation action was started against Mrs. Browder in 1940 but that the case more or less dropped out of sight because of the war.

Reenters States
In 1944, he said, she went to Canada and reentered the United States from there. He said she originally had come into this country "illegally" in 1933 by using another woman's passport obtained from "the Moscow passport mill."

Of her reentry from Canada, Rushmore said, "State department and immigration officials told me that though they objected to the illegal procedure, they were ordered by such people as Cordell Hull and Mrs. Roosevelt to permit her entry."

Rushmore told of a trip he made for the Journal-American to Alaska last fall. He said U. S. planes, radar, housing and anti-espionage forces there are pitifully inadequate.

"Army intelligence and the FBI are doing a grand job but they don't have enough personnel," he said.

Rushmore declared that Lowell Wakefield, who he knows to be a communist, is now running a fishing fleet off Alaska.

"The communist apparatus in Alaska is strictly underground," he said. "Its entire aim is espionage. They work it particularly through unions under communist control."

Costello Denies He's Interested In City Politics

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—(AP)—New Yorker Frank Costello says he is not interested in New Orleans politics.

He told the New Orleans Times Picayune that by telephone after Mayor Delesseps S. Morrison of New Orleans said Costello was involved in "a vast network of rackets" which was seeking to regain power in key cities.

In New Orleans, said the mayor, Costello recently offered to pay half the campaign expenses, under certain circumstances, to defeat the Morrison administration.

Furthermore, the mayor in a written statement called for an investigation of Costello's activities.

Costello, in the telephone interview, said he was not interested in who was mayor of New Orleans or governor of Louisiana. The New Yorker also denied that he had any interest in Los Angeles and Chicago politics.

Morrison's statement came shortly after Costello was accused by Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles of attempting to regain political control in New Orleans, Los Angeles and Chicago.

In Chicago, Virgil W. Peterson, head of the Chicago crime commission, said he "had rumors to the effect that Costello's mob is interested in getting rid of Mayor Morrison."

Mayor Morrison is a candidate for re-election.

Retired Army Officer, Children Enter School

CHARLSTON, W. Va.—(AP)—The entire Childress family is going to school these days—including the father, a 61-year-old retired army officer.

Maj. T. J. Childress and his 18-year-old son, Joe, enrolled as freshmen yesterday at Morris Harvey college.

His other son, Jack, 20, enrolled as a sophomore. The major's wife, who has a BS degree from Morris Harvey, is teaching in an elementary school.

Said the major: "I made up my mind not to sit around and grow old while everyone else is in schools."

The veteran of 25 years service is taking a major in art under the GI bill of rights.

Small Cabin Burned At Sutherland Saturday

Sutherland fire department was called out Saturday evening by a fire in a small cabin across Sutherland creek. The fire burned so rapidly, that the walls were falling in by the time the firemen arrived. There seemed to be an explosion and the cabin was afire at once. Firemen were able to save the adjoining cabins, with one getting pretty well charred on one end.

British Treasury Stands Firm Against Devaluing Pound; Story Reported

LONDON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The British treasury stood firm today on past declarations by its chief, Sir Stafford Cripps, that Britain has no intention of devaluing the pound sterling.

A spokesman made this clear in commenting on a report published by the New York Times that the pound might be devalued this week to $3.20 from its present level, $4.03.

The spokesman told a reporter: "The story is not new. I can only refer you to past pronouncements on the subject by the Chancellor of the Exchequer."

Cripps has told Parliament the labor government has "not the slightest intention of devaluing the pound."

Rumors Revive
Rumors of currency devaluation in Britain and elsewhere in Europe revived after the heads of the International Monetary fund and world bank yesterday urged dollar-short countries to take such a step.

In connection with the treasury spokesman's comment, financial observers noted that no government would announce in advance it had decided to devalue its currency. To do this would be to dislocate the country's financial structure and open the way to world-wide speculation.

British government officials appeared not to be surprised by the statements made in Washington by Camille Gutt of Belgium, managing director of the International Monetary fund, and Eugene R. Black, American president of the world bank.

Officials Worried
But officials did seem worried that the stabilizing effect on sterling as a result of the Washington communique might to some extent be offset by future fund and bank debates, even though these talks are secret.

Nor did British officials approve of Black's implied criticism of this country's program of social services.

Britain is spending about 846,000,000 pounds ($3,384,000,000) on social services and food subsi-

Cooper Is Named Dulles Successor To United Nations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—President Truman Wednesday nominated John Sherman Cooper, former republican senator from Kentucky, to take over the United Nations post formerly held by John Foster Dulles.

Dulles resigned when he was appointed to the senate seat formerly held by Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.). He is seeking the republican nomination for a special election this fall to fill out Wagner's unexpired term, which has another year to run. Wagner retired because of ill health.

Mr. Truman also renominated these representatives to the fourth session of the U. N. general assembly:

Warren R. Austin, former senator and American representative to U. N.; Phillip C. Jessup, and Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president.

Nominated as alternates were: Wilson M. Compton, president of Washington State college; Benjamin V. Cohen of New York; Charles Fahy of New Mexico; John D. Hickerson of Texas, and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Rohde of New York.

Senator Dulles termed the president's selection of Cooper to succeed him on the United Nations delegation "a fine appointment."

Gutt told newsmen yesterday he saw "no indication" that any country had changed its mind about devaluation of its currency.

| 1/2 lb. ground beef        | 1 small can mushrooms              |
| 1/2 lb. ground pork        | No. 2 1/2 can tomatoes             |
| 2 tbs. cooking oil         | 6-oz. can tomato paste             |
| 2 cloves garlic, minced    | 1 1/2 cups water                   |
| 1/2 green pepper, chopped  | 1 tsp. salt                        |
| 1/2 cup chopped parsley    | 1/2 tsp. baking soda               |
| 1/2 tsp. Sweet Basil spice | 24-oz. pkg. Mission Long Spaghetti |
| 1 tsp. Rose Marie spice    |                                    |
| 2 bay leaves               | Grated Parmesan cheese             |

Brown meat in oil. When half done, add garlic, green pepper, parsley, spices, and mushrooms (drained). When well browned, add tomatoes—cook over medium heat 1 hour. Add liquid from mushrooms, 1 1/2 cup water, tomato paste, salt and soda. Simmer 1 to 2 hours without cover.

Cook Mission long spaghetti in plenty of boiling salted water until tender yet chewy. Drain well. Place on plates, cover with sauce, and top with grated Parmesan cheese. Sauce serves 8 to 12 depending on the amount of spaghetti cooked and the size of servings. Try it—it's delicious!
