Water To Be Released From Flood Control Dams

EUGENE, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Stored water in the Cottage Grove and Fern Ridge reservoirs will be released beginning Sept. 15, the army engineers have announced. The expected withdrawal of water from Fern Ridge will raise the level of the Long Tom channel about five feet. Storm conditions may increase the depth. After the stored water is withdrawn to the prescribed minimum pool level, normal flood control will be adhered to, and this operation will cause variable stages of water in the Long Tom. Water drawn from Cottage Grove lake will cause a rise in the Coast Fork of approximately three feet. The engineers advise persons having pumps in the river to remove them.

This attractive one-room apartment is the result of wise planning and the careful selection of furnishings. The arrangement of the sectional bookshelves on either side of the smart full-size sofa-bed, provides space for twin reading lamps, books, radio, and accessories on the living-room side and for chairs and serving accessories in the dining corner. The extension dining table can double as a bridge table, and, of course, the dining chairs may be utilized when additional seating space is needed.

Pacific Enterprise Is Given Up As Loss

POINT ARENA, Calif., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Pacific Enterprise grounded in a dense fog last Friday, was written off as a total loss today. The big British motor ship broke in half yesterday under the pounding of heavy seas. The after section went down, leaving the forward half clinging to the rocks off Point Arena lighthouse 100 miles north of San Francisco.

CONTRACT AWARDED
PENDLETON, (AP)—A Walla Walla ranger district bridge construction job has been awarded J. H. Collins company on a bid of $13,639.50. It was the sole bid. Arthur Moses, supply officer for the forest service, said the reinforced steel span would bridge Mill creek on the Tiger cree road in Umatilla county.
