Medical Bureau Told It Must Provide Service

SEATTLE—(P)—Medical Service bureau heads were told that they would have to provide better medical service for the public if they want to side-step socialized medicine.

State Representative George C. Kinnear of Seattle, Republican minority leader in the Legislature, urged delegates to the State Medical association convention to "show an alert awareness to the problems of the entire community as they arise."

"We cannot answer the emotional claims of both the willful and the ignorant for broader government control except by showing that the problems of the people are being cared for without government assistance," he said.

He said that unless the voluntary pre-paid medical care program of local bureaus is continually expanded and efficiently managed and policed by the doctors themselves, the fight eventually will be lost.

Carhop Marches Suspects At Point Of Pistol

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—(P)—Two young men were marched down a highway early Tuesday by a pistol-pointing carhop who said she saw one of them in her car and another standing nearby.

The men, John Edwards, 20, route 2, Vancouver, Wash., and William Junior Conley, 30, also of route 2, Vancouver, were held in the county jail.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Wallenstein said Jackie D. Finch, 23, carhop at Waddles Drive-in restaurant near the interstate bridge gave the report.

Pacific Northwest Wheat Harvest Almost Complete

SPOKANE—(P)—The Pacific Northwest wheat harvest is almost completed, the production and marketing administration reported.

The administration's state grain branch reported only a few spring wheat fields at higher elevations remain to be cut. Although the spring wheat crop was

Plywood Outlook Better Says Corporation Head

NEW YORK—(P)—Lawrence Ottinger, president of United States Plywood corp., reported a recent decided change for the better in the plywood industry following a sharp price decline early this year.

"Our sales for August were almost identical with our sales during August last year despite substantially lower prices, which means we are moving a larger volume of merchandise," he told stockholders at the annual meeting.

Rubber Boots And Hat Not Tax Exemptable

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Rubber boots and rain hats are not deductible items of work clothes for stenographers filing income tax returns.

So ruled Federal Judge Leon Yankwich yesterday in sentencing Edward M. Jackson, 62, self-styled income tax expert, to a year in jail.

Jackson, who pleaded guilty to charges of preparing false income tax returns, was also placed on probation three years on condition he refrain from advising taxpayers on how to make out returns.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Bernard B. Laven testified that of 1200 income tax returns Jackson prepared from 1943 to 1945, only 76 were acceptable. He added that the government has collected $250,000 from inaccurately prepared returns.

Committee To Coordinate Transportation Program

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(P)—The White House has made public an order from President Truman for a survey looking to "a unified and coordinated" federal program for transportation. He wanted a preliminary report by Dec. 1.

The order was in a letter dated August 30, to Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, directing him to undertake an inquiry leading to "greater coordination of federal policies and programs."
