By PHYLLIS A. SMITH
Carter Dixon Powell of Roseburg was a recent overnight guest at the J. Boyd Rader home at Kellogg.

Ira Nicholson of Portland, who lived at Kellogg when a child, called on old time friends recently.

Mr. Homer Ladd and Bill Smith have returned from a trip to Ryderwood, Wash., where they went for a load of railroad irons for Long Bell Logging Company.

Visitors from this vicinity who went to the State fair at Salem included: Mr. and Mrs. Arley Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Compton and family; Mr. and Mrs. William Carlson, Mr. George Lavoy, Mr. C. C. Jensen, Mr. J. Ross Hutchinson and grandsons, Bobby and Gerald Haines, and Misses Donna and Darlene Madison.

Recent visitors at the Homer Ladd home included his father Mr. I. E. Ladd, a sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Phillips and her mother-in-law Mrs. Phillips Sr., of Drumwright, Okla.

Mrs. Glenn Walker and son, Jimmy, of Klamath Falls, were recent visitors at the John Abraham home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Madison and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Madison attended the North Douglas Fair at Drain Saturday.

Cecil Denny and mother, Mrs. Agnes McNeil, were weekend guests of relatives at Five Mile lake above Gardiner. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McNeil, residents of Bremerton, Wash., are spending a couple of weeks with Cecil Denny at Kellogg.

Recent overnight guests of the Boyd Raders were Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Roe and children of Onalaska, Wash. The Roes, cousins of Mr. Rader, have been on a trip down Highway 101 as far as Crescent City and back by way of the Oregon Caves.

Miss Frances Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Owens, left Sunday to attend the School for the Deaf at Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell went to Gold Beach Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mitchell.

Window Shopping with Corinne

She can't take her puppy dog to college with her, but she can take along a supply of these brushed rayon gowns and pajamas at EXCEL DRESS SHOPPE. They are so soft and warm, and glamorous, too. Luscious colors of pink, blue, orchid and Nile green will flatter her blonde, brunette, or tawny complexion. She can have her choice of the long gown with elastic midriff and push-up sleeves with delicate ruffled trim, or pajamas, shortie gowns or bed jackets. The bed jackets have tiny angelwing ruffles up the shoulders, and three-quarter length flaring sleeves. She will be all set for those college slumber parties in these night-time pretties.

Something else for your college-bound son or daughter — a new watch bracelet by Gemex, from ASHCRAFT'S. There is a small expansion-link bracelet with a dainty flower engraved in the center of each joining link, in yellow gold-filled. Another bracelet in yellow gold-filled is all hearts and flowers with a ratchet-type clasp. One that is a combination snake-chain and square link has the new safety-guard chain fastener that prevents the bracelet from falling off her wrist. Men's styles are the popular expansion type in yellow, rose, or white gold filled, and mesh type with a double clasp opening, in white or yellow gold filled.

With the weather running cooler, these days, the ICE CREAMERY is again offering toasted and grilled sandwiches. You have your choice of grilled ham, Swiss, or American cheese, or baked Dutch and cheese in delectable combination. Toasted, you have lettuce-and-tomato or tuna fish sandwiches. And to go with them, delicious hot baked beans, spaghetti or chili con carne. For dessert, try a dish of Rum Bisque ice cream or a sundae of Rum Bisque and marshmallow sauce. Need a breather in mid-afternoon? Try a cup of good hot chocolate at the Ice Creamery — they serve it with marshmallows!

By repaying one friend, we invite many friends.

JOSSE'S has a shipment of new lamps that you'll love—the base is a plain cylinder on which wallpaper is mounted. Shades of paper parchment top them smartly. Why not have a lamp made of left-over wallpaper from your living room? Josse's will make them up for you. These lamps are the last word in designing — with 3-way switches and reflector bowls. They come in 18 inch up to 32 inch heights, and those on display have lovely ivy and floral patterns or English hunting scenes. Some of the shades have ivy or floral trim.

A new shipment of Bambu dinnerware in all pieces has arrived at LESTER'S GIFT SHOP. There are serving sets, starter sets, and individual pieces in the popular Dawn, Coral, and Aqua Bambu. Perma-Hue tumblers are again in stock, too. They are the gaily colored aluminum "glasses" you've found so practical. Now, about Lester's Bid-Away: It doesn't cost you a thing to enter your bid. This is a regular auction, and not a lottery. If your bid is the highest, you may buy an ice tub, for instance. Les has one up for the Bid-Away next week, of solid hammered aluminum with porcelain lining. It's a regular $9.95 item, and grand for keeping drinks on ice. You may bid on the ice tub, or you may prefer to bid on the $18.00 set of Vargas Jewels. It's gold filled, in yellow, rose, and green, and set with multi-colored stones in a flower bouquet pin and flower earrings. The third item is a man's fitted case of genuine leather, with brush, comb and mirror and little containers for grooming items.

Now you can decorate your kitchen just as you would any other room in your house. No need for glaring white walls unrelieved by touches of color, when you can put up these clever wall plaques and string holders from the Housewares department of UMPQUA VALLEY HARDWARE. The small strawberries and peaches may be hung in pairs, or big red apple or kitten-with-ribbon string holders hung separately. Flying ducks in the hall or den go in sets of three. There are Scotties in white or black, horses in brown or white, and many gay flowers and fruits. These plaques are nicely boxed and make perfect bridge prizes or shower gifts.

Bare walls make gadding housewives, it says here.

When you're walking up North Jackson street, you'll smell the enticing aroma of freshly home-baked bread from CLEO'S QUALITY BAKERY. You can't buy bread with a better flavor than Cleo's whether you stop in on a Tuesday for their salt-rising bread or on a Friday for their American rye. They have Russian rye on Wednesdays and French sourdough bread and rolls on Thursdays. Every day of the week, they bake 100% wheat, cracked wheat, and potato bread. And every day of the week they bake Dutch Krunch, cinnamon, date-nut, and cheese bread, too. You'll be glad you bought it baked at Cleo's, for those wholesome school lunches for the kiddies.

Going hunting? Then you'll want to see J. V. SPORTING GOODS for binoculars. They carry the famous Bausch & Lomb "World's Best by Any Test," in 6 x 30 or 7 x 35 power lenses. They are adjustable for any user, and the lens has the new Balcoite coating that eliminates glare without coloring the glass. Individual focusing or central focusing eye-pieces are obtainable. The plastic finish in Morocco grain is weather-proof, wear-proof, attractive, and furnishes a good grip. It will not peel. During the last years of the war, the armed forces requested coated lenses exclusively, and now for the first time civilian users can enjoy them.

This amateur cameraman needs a Kodak ABC photo-lab kit from CLARK'S STUDIO AND CAMERA STORE. This kit includes chemicals, paper, a graduate for measuring chemicals, developing trays, thermometer, film clips, safe-life with bulb, and a book of instructions, all neatly packed inside a grey crackle finished metal printer. The price for all this equipment is only $7.58. Complete replacements are available, too. For the advanced amateur, Clark's has professional type printers and enlargers, papers, and chemicals of all types. Flash bulbs are down in price, now, so here's your chance to put in a supply. See Clark's today for your beginner's or amateur's camera needs.
