

'PERFECT FIT, MISS?'—Teen-agers, too, are conscious of shoe styles, as is illustrated here by Loretta Short as Elwyn Jones, salesman for Wayne's Shoe store, fastens the last buckle. Noted in Roseburg for fine shoes, Wayne's has the latest in this fall's foot wear, styled for the most discriminating, from the Junior Miss pictured above to ladies of older age groups. End Shirtfront Pleats at Hip For Gibson Girlish Waistline

The hand-spanning size of actress Gloria Stuart's waist is kept that way by a blouse with a sleek hipband. To eliminate bulk the pleated shirtwaist is attached to a band fitted to the hips.

HOW to have your pleated shirt front and your tiny waist too may mean ripping out a pleated shirttail and remaking it into a fitted hip-band.

If other women who want to look like a Gibson Girl in pleated shirts and slim skirts take this trouble, why can't you?

If you make your own blouses, you can eliminate a bulky shirttail when you cut and sew. Simply halt those rows of crisp pleats at the waistline and add a smooth-fitted hip-band to your blouse.

You can use the same technique on the shirttail of a blouse that you already have.

Even the woman who can't sew can find somebody who can to rip the pleats out of a shirttail that adds bulk and remake it into a hip-band that fits as smoothly as her slip.

The Gibson Girl fashion implies a hand-spanning waistline. A woman who wants to look as tiny-waisted in her 1949 styled shirtwaist need not allow a bunch of bulky pleats shoved under her skirt band to defeat her aim.

contrasting braid trim, which, in one instance, is used to band a dress to give it white scalloped detail above and below the waistline.

This particular gabardine dress is teamed with a white rayon blouse which owes its childish charm to a lace-trimmed collar and puffy ruffled sleeves.

A jumper dress of faille with patch pockets pouched out from a set-in waistband, is ensembled with a long-sleeved tailored blouse of white cotton.

In teaching youngsters to set a table show them how to place knives properly—with the cutting edge closest to the edge of the plate. All the silverware should be placed about one inch from the edge of the table and lined up.

Canned condensed asparagus soup is good served cold. Dilute the soup with cold milk and add a garnish of sliced pimento-stuffed olives, chopped parsley, or chives.

Even in sweaters, anklets, shoes, hats, and handbags, copper promises to make a big impression on the "Back-to-School" crowd.

Getting down to fashion facts, this is what you can expect to wear this Fall.

The natural and grey yarn-dye mix wool dress is still the classic favorite. Other, stronger colors for wools, are berry red, slate blue, spruce green.

A green-gold shade and lilac-periwinkle tones promise to pay the most compliments under electric lights for dressier clothes.

Designers Thanked For Jumpers' Crisp Look

For the crisp look of the young daughters' jumpers nowadays, thanks should go to the designers for utilizing new rayon failles and rayon gabardines. Designers' response to the crisp luster of faille, to the smooth worsted finish of rayon gabardine, results in good tailoring and smart detail.

Examples of both are seen in sweetheart necklines, set-in midriff bands, pouchy pockets and While spicier browns are to be seen with a yellow cast. There is also a generous fashion sprinkling of really deep brown.

Red, which came into prominence last Spring as an accent note, promises to be one of the most prominent colors in the coming Fall season. There will be many variations of this vibrant color. Expect to see it in anything from off-tones of brick, live yellow reds and pink reds to cherry and cranberry tones.

Blues, with lots of grey in them, are quiet, but immensely popular. Navy has stepped from the High Fashion pedestal to become a popular year-round favorite. Medium French Blues, ranging down to deep slate blues, are also on the Fall color chart.

Greens, too, appear with a yellowish cast. And yellow itself will be shown in bright, true tones for evening; in paler, more golden versions as an accent to the darks.

Tweeds Again
Copper tones will stand out impressively in Juvenile fashion. Mixture tweeds with a copper glint and over-glow are prominent. "Burning leaves" tones also carry out the coppery flashes.

Many Browns
Browns appear in muted subtle taupes, beiges and putty shades.

Colors Key To Fabrics

Full Shades Are Varied In Tone

Color is the talking point of the fabrics that highlight this season's fashion picture.

Fall foliage colors and darkish, muted tweed combinations are the newswest in the great barrage of wool tweeds coming through for this Fall. Subtle colors are everywhere on dresses. And young set colors are clear and bright.

As an over-all picture, color this Fall is a symphony of tones, rather than one or several predominant shades.

Teal is the color, which experts prophesy will be the hit of the Fall season. Because of its long absence, it will look newer than any other color, and it has a wonderful Fall feeling.

As an over-all picture, color this Fall is a symphony of tones, rather than one or several predominant shades.
