Farmers Advised To Consult ACP On All Problems

Whether it's a gully or a government loan on your crop, a carload of lime or a diversion terrace, "see your ACP committee" has become a slogan.

According to J. F. Bonebrake, chairman of the Douglas County Agricultural Conservation committee, there are more than 3,000 of these county committees in the United States. There is one in every agricultural county in the country. In addition, there are some 84,000 community committees.

In Douglas county there are three county committees and 30 community committees. Each year elections are held and the farmers of each community have an opportunity to "put in" the farmers they want to serve as community committees. At the same time delegates are elected to attend a county convention where the county committee is elected.

Bonebrake, the present Douglas county chairman, owns a farm located at Melrose. H. J. Cockeram, vice-chairman, owns and operates a farm at Oakland, as does J. L. Aikins, regular member, whose farm is located near R. J. Die.

The community committees and alternates are as follows:

B. G. Johnson, Joe W. Payne, Louis Brady, Jay B. Moore, Frank Hill, all of Glendale.
L. C. Walsh, Ivan Worsham, Roscoe Ball, E. S. Pruner, Harry Dayton, all of Riddle.
R. V. Matthews, Dahn Creek, Frank Brown and John Fenn, Canyonville; D. N. Poole and Ray Spencer, Days Creek.
E. W. Hollinger, A. E. Burton, W. D. King, Fred W. Neale, and Gordon Burnett, all of Myrtle Creek.
R. A. Busenbark, box 134, Melrose route; J. Clifford Hess, box 266, route 2; Louis Kohlhagen, box 1125; Don Ollivant, Melrose route; C. R. Holmquist, Lookingglass road.
F. Howard Milton and Earnest Wheeler, Camas Valley; Jean G. Dickover, Tenmile; M. A. Jones, Camas Valley; J. R. Stackhouse, Tenmile.

Madras Restaurateur Finally Gets Beer OK

MADRAS — (AP) — Joe Joseph, Madras restaurateur, has finally applied for a beer license.

Joseph, who had been trying vainly to get a local recommendation for the license during three years and two different city administrations, obtained it last week.

He got the recommendation at a city council meeting when both the mayor and one councilman were absent. The other councilmen voted, 3 to 2, to grant Joseph's request and break a long-standing policy not to consider any more beer licenses until the town got bigger.

The town now has three taverns and a restaurant in which beer is sold.

Fishing Interests To Take Issue To Surgeon General

SEATTLE — (AP) — Representatives of the Northwest Fishing industry said that they would carry their battle for army fish-purchasing contracts to the U.S. surgeon general.

They said that they would fight the army's proposed buying shift from Seattle to Japanese markets on grounds that the Japanese fishing industry is not conducted on approved sanitary standards.

Puget Sound fishing interests were aroused last week with the army's announcement that they would buy fish for their military forces stationed in Japan and the South Pacific area from Japanese markets. The market was to be transferred Nov. 1.

E. A. Rutherford, vice president of the San Juan Fishing and Packing company, said that he was certain that the Japanese industry could not give the army the fish they want.

"During the war, and since," said Rutherford, "we were urged by the army to step up and modernize our plants to live up to army standards of quality and sanitation. Now they take orders away from us."

He said that Senator Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) has urged the army quartermaster department to rescind the order, but has received no satisfaction thus far.

Horse And Dog Racing Dates To Be Considered

PORTLAND — (AP) — Horse and dog racing meet dates for next year will be considered by the State Racing commission at the Nov. 1 session.

Chairman Frank Menne reported several racing rules have been tightened regarding the horse barn areas to prevent recurrence of events that led to the supervision of trainers and disqualification of five horses. He said the barns will hereafter be closed to all but holders of trainers' and owners' licenses, track officials and others authorized for such visits.

Menne said the Multnomah county fair would be asked to see about the Gresham race one week so it will be held the week before the State Fair in Salem.

They called on him in a group to discuss the plea made in Washington on Sept. 15 by Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Schuman of France that Russia go along with the proposal to try to work out terms of a treaty.

Warning Against Communism In Unions Is Given

CALGARY, Alta. — (CP) — A WARNING AGAINST COMMUNISM in unions was given in the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada Monday by an American Federation of Labor spokesman.

Herbert A. Bradley of Washington, fraternal delegate from the A.F.L., urged that Communists—"cancers" on society—should be removed by every reasonable means.

Mr. Bradley, president of the International Chemical Workers, made the reference to Reds as the T.L.C. made ready to throw out a Communist-dominated affiliate, the Canadian Seamen's Union.

In introducing Bradley, President Percy Bengough of the T.L.C. made reference to the T.L.C. and the A.F.L. over Communism and related issues in the T.L.C.

"Today the most harmonious ties are in existence between the T.L.C. and the A.F.L.," President Bengough said. "These would be maintained."

President Bradley, whose international office is strongly right-wing, expressed concern at reports of Communism in the Canadian section of the chemical workers.

Of its 10,000 Canadian members, 9,950 were fine and loyal Canadians.

"As for the other 10, we'll take care of them ourselves," he declared amid applause.

Fish Processors Protest Buying Filets In Japan

ASTORIA — (AP) — Fish processors here are joining with others on the Pacific coast in a protest against the army's plans to curtail buying fish filets for occupation troops in Japan.

The army has announced that after Oct. 6 it will make such purchases from Japanese suppliers.

A spokesman for the Columbia River Salmon and Tuna Packers Association said Astoria and Newport plants had supplied a substantial share of the overseas shipments of bottom fish.

Woman, Stricken With Leprosy, Is Improved

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 19. — (AP) — Mrs. Hans Hornbostel and the husband who stayed with her while she was treated for leprosy were headed today for New York and a new life.

Three years ago Mrs. Hornbostel, a 58-year-old grandmother, went to Carsville, La., to the U. S. marine hospital, the national leprosy hospital. Her 68-year-old husband, Maj. Hornbostel, bought a cottage on the hospital grounds to be with her. He said his wife has shown remarkable improvement.

Mrs. Hornbostel probably contracted the disease during three years imprisonment by the Japanese in the Santo Tomas prison camp near Manila. Her husband, a Bataan death march survivor, was in the Cabanatuan prison camp.

Chemists Watch Penicillin Battle With Boil Germs

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — What happens in your body when you get a shot of penicillin? Two chemists told Monday of watching a battle between germs and penicillin under a high-power microscope.

The germs were golden-colored ones, staphylococcus aureus, that cause boils. They saw the small germs moving about rapidly in every direction.

Then the chemists added a drop of penicillin and the tiny particles or molecules of penicillin clumped together and started attacking the germs. They attached themselves to the surface of the germs. The bacteria slowed down almost immediately.

The germs stopped, grouped into clusters, cemented together and nearly surrounded by the clumps of penicillin.

"In a matter of minutes, all visible bacteria seemed lifeless and doomed to progressive lysis (rupturing) and death," the report said.

This eyewitness account was given to the American Chemical society by Prof. Ernst A. Hauser and George J. Marlowe of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
