

Beauty of Line Featured in 1950 Nash

Coincident with the beauty of line achieved in the 1950 Nash Airflyte cars are the advantages of the scientifically conceived aerodynamic design which contributes importantly to the unusually high fuel economy of Nash cars. Nash engineers claim that recent wind tunnel tests at the University of Wichita revealed that 1950 Nash cars have the lowest air resistance of any full size stock cars tested. Passenger comfort as well as economy, is increased by reduced rear-end air turbulence.

Sen. Harry Cain is a target for defeat, the AFL Northwest Council of Lumber and Sawmill Workers was told at its closing meeting here.

Ed Weston, president of the Washington Federation of Labor, assailed Cain and said labor would "cut his political throat," when he came up for re-election.

But Sen. Wayne Morse and Rep. Homer Angell drew approving support from Joseph D. Keenan, Washington, D. C., national director of the AFL's Political Education League. "Leave no stone unturned to see that they are returned to the 82nd Congress," he said.

Frank Chapman, co-ordinator for the brotherhood of carpenters and joiners, told delegates to pay no attention to employers' hard-luck stories. He said employers were planning to cut vacation benefits. He told delegates to serve notice. "We don't intend to have anything taken away. And we do intend to get more."

CLASS OFFICERS NAMED
Senior class officers were elected to office at a special meeting held at Roseburg high school Sept. 15.

Elected were Don Parr, president; Dennis Hayden, vice-president; Sue Brown, secretary-treasurer and Barry Kenny, sergeant-at-arms.

More Nationalist Chinese Troops Go Over To Commies

CANTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Trustworthy Chinese reports this week said 20,000 Moslem troops had revolted against the Nationalists in arid, northwestern Ningxia province and gone over to the Reds.

The Moslems belonged to the command of Gen. Ma Hung-Kwei, who is estimated to have 80,000 men under his command in Ningxia. Ma has been in Chungking trying to get Chiang Kai-shek to allot much needed arms to his troops.

The Ningxia revolt report followed word both in Nationalist China and Communist Shanghai, that 100,000 Nationalist troops in Suiyuan province, also in the northwest had gone over to the Reds with their arms.

Private reports here said a strong Communist force was striking westward toward Ningxia from adjoining inner Mongolia.

Fighting for the big seaport of Amoy rose to full crescendo in the wake of Chiang Kai-shek's appeal to repel Communist serfdom and save China from becoming a Russian vassal.

Official dispatches said three Red armies with two artillery regiments in support were assaulting the once thriving treaty port 275 miles east-northeast of Canton.

Fall of Amoy, mainland headquarters of the Nationalist south-east China command, probably would herald a big Communist drive on already threatened Canton from the coast.

When the registrant has a permanent home, the permanent home address should be given to registration officials.

College Students May Register For Selective Service Where Convenient

College and university students who become 18 years of age after the school term starts need not return to their homes to register under the Selective Service law, Francis W. Mason, deputy state director for Oregon says, but may register at the local board most convenient to them, as may others when they reach the age of 18.

The law requires registration of all young men—with very few exceptions—within five days after their eighteenth birthday.

"Colonel Mason said, "but there still seems to be some misunderstanding as to the place of registration. All the young men has to do is present himself to the local board, or registration place designated in that particular area most convenient in the place he happens to be when he becomes 18. The registration process is simple and requires only a short time. The data thus gathered is sent to the local board of the community he terms his home and which has jurisdiction over him."

When the registrant has a permanent home, the permanent home address should be given to registration officials, Colonel Mason said. For this purpose "home" is the place with which the registrant normally identifies himself and at which he would wish to be classified.

Colonel Mason pointed out that there is no liability for service under the Act until the age of 19 is reached, but he emphasized the obligation to register at 18.

Penalties For Laxity
"The law is specific," he said, "and provides severe penalty for failure to comply."

Colonel Mason added that the law is also specific in its requirements concerning obligation of a registrant to keep his local board informed as to any change in his address—where he may be reached by mail, that is—change in his status under the Act.

"That applies after the registrant becomes 26 as well as before," Colonel Mason said, "and it means that college and university students, as well as other registrants, should notify their respective local boards when they leave their homes. There is no form for this. It may be done by mail or personally appearing at the board office."

Colonel Mason emphasized that the requirements to register and legal obligations of registrants were in no way altered because there have been no inductions within the past few months.

SALEM, Sept. 22—(AP)—The average Oregon resident carries $1,000 worth of life insurance. That average is for every man, woman and child in the state.

State Insurance Commissioner Robert Taylor reported that at the beginning of this year, life insurance policies in force in Oregon totaled $1,507,821,123. That was a 10 percent gain over the previous year.

He also reported that fire insurance premiums paid in 1948 totaled $34,350,915, or 17 percent more than in 1947.

Fire losses paid during the year were $10,566,625, which was 4.5 percent less than in 1947.
