

Routine Affairs Engage Council At Canyonville

By MRS. H. M. ANDERSON
News-Review Correspondent

Local police problems topped a routine session of the Canyonville city council Tuesday night. The council voted to approve the appointment of Officer Everett W. Nimmo, who is to take the place of Officer Darrell Vredenburg, who is under a doctor's care for a few weeks. Nimmo was appointed by Mayor Albert Maul.

Glen Gilmore of the Pacific Highway garage asked the council to grant permission for him to use two or three feet of the city's sidewalk, as he wishes to use his gas pumps again soon. The council was informed by the city's attorney, James McGinty of Myrtle Creek, that the council does not have the power to grant any business permission to use public sidewalks.

James Daugherty of Roseburg, Canyonville's former engineer, was on hand and stated he would be glad to be of service to the city again, as he understood the set-up of Canyonville's sewer system better than anyone else. However, the mayor informed him the city was not ready to have him or any other engineer go ahead at the present time but that the city does want the contour maps of Canyonville which Daugherty has in his possession. Daugherty stated the topographic map which he has is the original, and in his opinion he would be glad to order some copies for the city. The council approved the ordering of two which Daugherty is to have printed in Portland for about $5 each.

Joe Walker, councilman, resigned at Tuesday's meeting and the vacancy will be filled by an appointment by Maul, subject to the council's approval.

The library committee of the Women's club met with the council and asked to use the council room in the city hall as temporary quarters for their library. The council granted them this privilege. Mrs. Veda Anderson and Mrs. Dorothy Chappell represented the committee.

The council requested H. J. Hash, city recorder, to write to the State Highway department requesting that crosswalks be painted at the downtown intersections for pedestrian crossings; also to try and get white lines painted on either side of the yellow line down the center of the highway through the town.

Engineer J. R. Daugherty said he had been requested by the Canyonville city council to have a tracing copy made of the new topographic map to be used for the design of a sanitary sewer system.

Daugherty explained that several programs for federal and state aid in financing sewer construction are in the process of development and it would be advisable to have plans ready to take advantage of any assistance possible.

Canyonville is anxious, he said, to have a sewer system and disposal plant as required by the State Sanitary authority. He added that his topographic map was prepared as part of the preliminary engineering work.

Oregon Advertising Man Loses Leg In Accident

SEATTLE, Sept. 23—(AP)—Robert K. Allen, advertising man and member of a well known Oregon family, lost his left leg by amputation Wednesday.

The operation was necessitated, his physician reported, by a boating accident 11 days ago. The leg bone and an artery were crushed when Allen was pinned between a Mercer Island dock and a friend's boat.

Allen is a son of the late Dean Eric Allen of the University of Oregon journalism school and is a brother of Eric Allen, Jr., city editor of the Medford Mail Tribune. He has a wide acquaintance in Oregon newspaper circles.

County Seeks To Regain Jail Sold With Vacant Lot

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 22—(AP)—With a check for $51,500 made out to Mrs. Ethel Casey of Beatty, Klamath county is trying to buy back a federal jail inadvertently tossed in with the sale of a supposedly vacant lot.

The jail in question is at Beatty on the Klamath Indian reservation, and the mixup came about this way:

About 20 years ago Frank Schmitz, Beatty merchant, deeded to the county a lot in the reservation town to be used for jail purposes only and the county, with help from Beatty residents and possibly from Klamath agency, constructed a one-story concrete jail building.

But since the county operated a lockup at Bly, 10 miles down the highway, it really had little or no use for the Beatty structure, consequently it was taken over by Indian service officers for detention of reservation wrongdoers and became popularly known as a federal jail.

The structure—at full occupancy—holds six persons.

Through some error at the courthouse, the lot on which the jail stands became listed with county property up for sale and in 1948 Mrs. Casey bought it.

Still the error wasn't detected until this week when Mrs. Casey presented the Klamath Indian agency with a bill for rental—$30 a month for the past year. The county then saw the light and red-facedly tendered Mrs.

Casey a check for $51,500, the purchase price, and said it would like to have its deed back.

That's where the matter stands now.

Riddle Ready For Two-Day Rodeo

By popular demand the Riddle Riding and Roping club is sponsoring its second rodeo of the season Saturday and Sunday at the Riddle rodeo grounds, starting each day at 2 p. m.

A two-hour show of fast action, which characterizes the usual July 4 wild west events, is promised. The rodeo grounds are in excellent condition, and Riddle boasts of having one of the best set-ups for smaller rodeos in this part of the state, according to Ike Orr, president of the sponsoring club and himself a participating cowboy.

Walt Mask and Blackie Smith are again supplying the stock, and some top notch cowboys have indicated they will be on hand.

Acting Oregon Forester Post Given George Spaur

SALEM, Sept. 22—(AP)—The State Forestry board has named George Spaur, a deputy since 1946, to the post of acting state forester until a permanent appointment can be made.

Gov. Douglas McKay told the board that a memorial to the late Nelson Rogers should be established. He said it should be in keeping with the accomplishments of the state forester who died Sunday.
