Will Be Topic Of Conference Business Opportunities Scheduled At White House

NEA Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON-(NEA)-Elaborate plans are now being made in the White House for a big powwow of high-level child psychologists, social workers and educators to be held next year, in an attempt to find out just how much and what is wrong with the personalities and minds of U. S. kids.

Fancy title for the shindig is "The Midcentury White House Conference on Children and Youth." This one will be the fifth Youth." This one will be the fifth of its kind. Teddy Rooseveit called the first one back in 1909 and it has gotten to be sort of a habit for presidents to sponsor one every 10 years.

All of these conferences have been held on the loftiest intellectual plane. Probably for the sake tual plane. Probably for the sake of maximum objectivity they are kept far above the diaper and dirty-face level. That's just where the American parent grapples with the complex problems of riding herd on an unpredictable

But the U.S. Children's Bureau, which figures prominently in these conferences, assures us that real benefits have seeped down to the "child's operational level" from these meetings.

The 1909 conference, we are told in a Bureau publication, "stimulated the creation of a Children's Bureau in the Federal Government." "Public demand for child labor legislation" resulted from the one in 1919. The 1930 meeting "pointed up the need for specialized training of people working with children and stimulated progressive education." The last one in 1940 "high lighted the importance of the child in a democracy." Those are just some of the results.

Clear Program Needed

In planning for next year's M WHCLY, however, Katharine F, Lenroot, head of the Children's Bureau and secretary for the conference will cost about $750.00. Publishing the report alone of $30,000. That plays the situation of times for preliminary meetings, printing advance materials and postage on the great amount of correspondence necessary to get it under way.

It is estimated that the actual conference will cost about $750.00. Publishing the report alone of $30,000. There are 52 members of the four staff members is estimated in the neighborhood of $30,000. The need of times for preliminary meetings, printing advance materials it under way.
