

Would-Be Count Muchly Shocked, Along With Other Would-Be Counts

BERLIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Brigitte was a charming girl, with plenty of allure. Richard, a wealthy business man, found her so fascinating he wanted to marry her right away. But Brigitte sadly shook her head. "You know yourself what I feel for you, dear," she said, "but it just can't be."

Pressed for the explanation why it couldn't be, Brigitte at last confided that she had been born a princess. Her mother later had married a simple commoner. But before she died, she had made Brigitte promise that she would marry at least a count, or never wed at all. Richard was amazed, downcast and confused. His Brigitte a

KDND DIAL-LOG

Having noted that KRNR and its properties are still intact—that the building housing the transmitter, studio, and staff haven't been blown up, burned down, or nuthin'—this "Dial Log" writer is right back to work after a week's vacation. And it ain't easy! Where was this vacation spent? At home . . . listening to KRNR, of course.

Yesterday at 5:30, Curley Bradley cut out the ad-lib routine and settled down to the serious business of assuming the title role in the Monday, Wednesday, Friday "Tom Mix" series . . . Been on a summer hiatus you know. Hiatus-schmitus—what's this "hiatus" stuff? That's when a regular nine-months-out-of-the-year program takes off for the summer months and returns to the air in the fall . . . like Jack Benny does every year, for instance . . . only that's another network . . . and we're sorry to mention it.

Here's news: The Jake La Motta-Marcel Cerdan fight scheduled for tomorrow evening at 7 PST, has been indefinitely postponed. KRNR would not have carried the broadcast because of an Oregon law which does not permit us to air the commercial part of this feature which is sponsored by an ale and beer concern. But on the other hand, can you feature Lydia Pinkham or Mother's Oats sponsoring a blow-by-blow fight description? What can we say, dears, after we've said we're sorry?

President Truman's address in observance of Democratic Women's day, at 3 o'clock Pacific Standard time this afternoon and lasting 15 minutes, will be heard over this station.

princess! But how could he ever become a count?

But Brigitte finally thought of a way to solve the problem. Her uncle, a Count Wilhelm, might adopt Richard, she said. Thus formally adopted, Richard would be a count, too, and nothing would be in the way of their marriage.

Richard was introduced to the dignified Count Wilhelm and the deal was made. He gave Wilhelm 1,000 east marks (about $50) "to cover the expenses."

The reunion of Brigitte, Count Wilhelm and Richard took place before a Soviet sector court. But the count, it turned out, was really Emil Krause and "Princess" Brigitte his legal wife, whose real name was Emma.

Richard was shocked all over again, and so were seven other gentlemen, among them a lawyer, a doctor, an actor, a newspaperman and an engineer—all of them would-be counts.

The ingenious couple, it was charged, had netted more than 7,000 east marks (about $350) at least from the various count deals. The court was informed there were other victims who apparently had kept quiet.

"Count" Emil Krause was sent to a Berlin prison for three years. And there will be nobody to court Brigitte while she serves a one-year sentence.

GIANT LOG FELLED
ASTORIA, Sept. 27 (AP)—A Douglas fir log 10 feet in diameter—one of the largest ever cut in Clatsop county—was floating in Blind slough today.

The log, which contained about 7,000 board feet of lumber, was cut down about two years ago and brought out of the woods last week by the Gnat Creek Logging company.

Russia Rings Eastern Europe With Bases For Launching Rockets Of Terrible Type

BERLIN, Sept. 27 (AP)—Russia has dotted eastern Europe with launching bases for deadlier rockets than Hitler ever used in World War II, German and American sources say.

Reliable German sources said at least the Nazi-built munitions plant in Soviet-occupied Germany is producing rockets for Russia. The exact location of the Soviet launching bases is not known. But allied military intelligence officers said they believed Russia had constructed a chain of them—aimed at Western Europe—stretching from the Baltic to the Black sea in Soviet satellite territory.

A U. S. intelligence officer said "it is a matter of speculation" whether rockets launched in Czechoslovakia, Poland or the Balkans could reach the farthest points of Western Europe.

Military informants said there was no evidence the Soviet zone of Germany was being prepared as a rocket launching base.

The Soviet zone, however, includes Peenemuende, one of the biggest of Hitler's rocket plants on the Baltic coast. Peenemuende was once smashed by British bombers but reports circulated recently Russia has rebuilt it with German war prisoners as laborers.

Another pro-allied German informant said a huge underground employees have been on a five-day week, and have alternated in working Saturday hours. Foster said. Now the office will be open 8 a. m. to 3 p. m., Mondays through Fridays only.

Until you've experienced the silent, gliding restfulness of this roomy Packard—you're just not up-to-date on fine car comforts!

Packard calls it the "Limousine Ride," because many of its advancements were first developed for the magnificent Packard Limousine. But the first and foremost secret of its superiority lies in Packard's advanced "self-controlling" suspension system.

"Self-controlling" means it compensates automatically for changes in load and road. "Self-controlling" means it combines relaxing smoothness with firm, level-keeled roadability. "Self-controlling" means it won't develop "baby-buggy bounce" in its later years!
