MARYEL MAN' IN ROSEBURG-Don Haynes is pictured above as he stopped in Roseburg early this morning for a cup of coffee — halfway through in his attempt to collect a $25.000 bet. Haynes, an Ashland man, is attempting to live in the car for 14 months and hit every state capital while traveling the required 140,000 miles. Entirely unsponsored, Haynes is attempting the feat just to see if it can be done—and to collect the 25-to-1 bet placed with E. B. Mauldin, wealthy Ashland rancher. The money has already been placed in an Ashland bank awaiting the bet winner. Haynes left Roseburg at 1:20 a. m. today, with seven months, 70,000 miles and 24 states to go. (Saff photo) gether.

"If you fail to provide them with trips and outings of various sorts away from home, the troops will fail flat." he stated.

A complete training schedule is prepared for the convention, said Alien, This will include shooting, skiing, camping, other activities, and dancing.

Part of the senior scout training is development of their social life with the opposite sex, he said, Since the boys of this age are beginning to show definite interest in giris, the trainfinite interest in girls, the train ing program carries this phase of training in social work, ac-cording to Allen.

Steel Sphere Diver Has Close Call With Death

Close Call With Death

ABOARD VELERO IV, Oct.

5.—(AP.—Otis Barton was in greater danger in his steel sphere at a depth of only 300 feet Monday than when he made the record dive at 4500 feet Aug. 16 in the Pacific depths.

In a series of shallow contour dives off Santa Catalina island, the five-foot benthoscope with its thick quartz window narrowly missed being smashed into uncharted reefs jutting from the bottom.

"Up, up, up " the marine esplorer shouted through the telephone as the big winch on the barge above started turning."
Gosh, that was close "Barton gasped over the phone.

Mother ship in the diving project is the University of Southern California's marine laboratory ship, Veiero IV.
