WHO DOES WHAT

JONNIE STAFFORD, employee of the Carter Tire company on N. Stephens street, is demonstrating the use of a Coleman tire changer, a tool which enables its operator to either mount or demount a casing in 30 seconds.

Even though he is from Missouri, Jonnie didn't need to be shown the advantages accruing from the use of this device—they were self-evident. He has been with Carter's for the last year and lives in Shinn's Addition in West Roseburg.

High School Boy Bags His Buck By Bulldogging

EUGENE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Arthur Cofer, Wendling, went out hunting this past weekend and ended up by bulldogging his deer. Arthur, a senior in high school, wounded a three-point buck in the Booth-Kelly logged-off area, near Wendling. The injured deer charged and pinned Arthur to a tree. The boy grabbed the buck by the nose with his right hand, seized an antler with his left, and gave a husk twist, rodeo style. Arthur's father, Hubert, and an uncle, who were hunting nearby, heard his yells and helped him kill the struggling deer.

REASON ENOUGH

CADILLAC, Mich., Oct. 6.—(AP)—The parent-teacher association has asked city officials to enforce a 9:15 p.m. curfew for children under 17. The reason: school teachers complain their pupils are falling asleep in the classrooms.

ON the other side of the world Russia's stooges, obeying orders from Moscow, are closing in on Tito of Yugoslavia, who has refused to obey the orders he gets from Moscow.

So far, they are applying "economic sanctions" (refusing to buy what Tito wants to sell or to sell to him what he wants to buy, etc.) and diplomatic pressure.

At any moment, Moscow might order them to APPLY MILITARY FORCE.

ON the Yugoslav side of the border, Tito reviews his troops. The correspondents say he is

Fliers Above Yuma Now Aim For Columbus Day; City Stages Celebration

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Yuma's refreshed and rejuvenated endurance fliers continued to add more hours to their new world flight record today.

They passed the old mark of 1,008 hours at 7:15 p. m. (MST) last night, and immediately announced the emotional lift of reaching their goal had removed much of the growing fatigue they have felt in the past four days.

Their plane, "The City of Yuma" carried them past the record without a major falter during their six weeks in the air. It is a four-place Aeromac monoplane powered by an 85-horsepower Continental engine.

Shattering of the old record by the two navy veteran pilots—Bob Woodhouse and Woody Jongeward—touched off a major celebration at the Yuma county airport last night.

One minute before the goal was reached, all lights in the city and area were turned off, then, at 7:15 p.m. The lights were flashed back on, the police sirens, fire whistles and automobile horns were blown in celebration of the event.

While their plane circled the Yuma county airport, an estimated 10,000 persons cheered the fliers on toward their announced goal of continuing one more week until Oct. 12, Columbus Day.

The mayor and Junior Chamber of Commerce officials offered them congratulations by radio and on a nearby hill a police fireworks display was touched off.

The airplane and the pilots are in the same condition, Jongeward reported. "Both are tired, but could stay up a lot longer."

Woodhouse and Jongeward started their flight on August 21.

Culprit In Navy "Leak" Suspended

Crommelin Also Expects To Face Trial

Navy Denies To Congress Charge In Secret Papers That Morale Is Low

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The navy today suspended Capt. John G. Crommelin from duty and denied to Congress that the morale of naval officers and men is in sad shape.

These developments piled up quickly in the wake of Crommelin's admission that he is the man who gave news reporters on Monday official correspondence about navy morale.

1. The navy suspended Crommelin, 46-year-old aviation veteran, from duty and ordered him restricted to his home. That is a preliminary action pending final disposition of his case. There is the possibility of a court-martial.

2. Secretary of the Navy Matthews went before the House Armed Services committee and said he believes navy morale generally is good. Without calling Crommelin's name, Matthews in effect accused him of disloyalty, faithlessness, and insubordination.

3. President Truman told a news conference he has instructed Matthews to get to the bottom of the controversy swirling about charges that the navy is not being given a fair deal in present military unification policies.

Mr. Truman declined to comment on Crommelin's release of private navy correspondence critical of defense policies.

Indicating that he anticipated a court-martial trial, Crommelin told reporters that a close friend, Capt. J. L. Kane, chief of naval aviation plans, would be his attorney.

County Welfare Office Has New Staff Workers

Three new staff members, two as replacements, have been added to the Douglas County Welfare commission office, announced Lois Baker, administrator.

Mrs. Helen Beck, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, who has arrived here from Minneapolis, and William Jones, a graduate of Oregon State college, have been employed as case workers.

Julian Helleck has been added as a child welfare worker. A graduate of West Liberty college, Va., he took his graduate work at West Virginia university at Morgantown. Douglas county has not had a child welfare worker for more than two years.

Mrs. Beck and Mr. Jones, who has accepted an administrative position at Prineville for Crook and Jefferson counties, and Mrs. Mae Beaman, who has been assigned to Albany for Linn county.

Miss Dorothy Knapp, child welfare consultant with the State Public Welfare department, was here part of last week assisting Mr. Helleck in reestablishing his office.

Miss Marguerite Thomason, field supervisor from the Salem office, will be here Thursday and Friday of this week to confer with Mrs. Baker and members of her staff.

Deputy Dist. Attorney For Douglas Appointed

The Douglas county court has passed a resolution empowering District Attorney Robert G. Davis to appoint a deputy district attorney for the county, to serve without compensation.

Davis announced today that he had named James G. Richmond, a new partner in the office of Davis and Walton, to the position. Douglas Walton is a state deputy district attorney.

In explaining the appointment, Davis stated that since Richmond is a partner, he couldn't take a case against the state, so the request has been made to make it possible for him to assist with the district attorney's office when needed.

Organization To Spur Private Tree Farming

PORTLAND, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A new Pacific Northwest forest conservation organization to promote private tree farming and related projects was announced today.

Organized as the "forest conservation committee of Pacific Northwest forest industries," it will merge the work of two committees which represented the West Coast Lumbermen's association and the Pacific Northwest Loggers association.

E. P. Stamm, Portland, is chairman and George L. Drake, Shelton, Wash., vice-chairman.

PENSIONS BOOST VOTED

Social Security Expansion Bill Passed By House Also Hikes Payroll Tax Rates

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Riding a triumphant 333-to-14 House vote, legislation vastly expanding the nation's social security program moved over to the Senate today. It would add 11,000,000 to the 35,000,000 workers now covered by old age insurance.

Its sponsors voiced hope it would lessen strikes and strife over labor demands for pension plans financed wholly by employers. In the federal program, workers and employers share equally the cost of the benefits the workers later receive.

Senate approval is considered virtually certain—some time before the 1950 fall elections.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate finance committee said the Senate is bound to vote for higher security benefits, but will not be able to act before the second session of the 81st congress convenes in January.

The new bill would raise the minimum old age benefit from $10 a month to $25 a month. It would increase the maximum benefit for an elderly couple from $85 to around $126 a month. Benefits are based on a person's average wage and the number of his working years during which he paid payroll taxes into the program.

Major Provisions

In addition to blanketing new millions under old age and survivors insurance, for a total of 46,000,000 covered workers, the 201-page bill would:

1. Boost benefits by 70 to 80 per cent or more.

2. Create new disability insurance to take care of persons who by illness or accident can never work again.

3. Increase the payroll taxes on employee and employer. The tax would go up from the present 1 per cent on each, to 1 1/2 per cent next year; 2 per cent in 1951; 2 1/2 per cent in 1952.

U. S. Raps Russia For Mistreating American Strays

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The United States sent a strongly worded note to Russia today protesting the "shocking" mistreatment of Americans who stray into the Soviet zone of Germany.

"This treatment of the United States government finds to be in shocking, contravention to the most elementary standards of international decency," the note said.

At the same time the United States, through Ambassador Kirk in Moscow, notified the Russian foreign office that "it expects that those Soviet officials who are responsible for these acts will be punished."

The American note referred specifically to the case of the two American college students who "inadvertently and innocently" entered the Russian zone while bicycling and who were detained for eight weeks.

It also cited the case of Pvt. John J. Sinkowicz, an American soldier, who escaped Sept. 16 from a prison in the Soviet sector of Berlin after 10 months of imprisonment. The note said he was held under "brutal and uncivilized conditions."

The note said bluntly: "There can be no justification for this kind of treatment of citizens of a friendly nation, persons whose only violation of law is purely technical at most and whose innocence of criminal charges can easily be established."

Study Of State School Economy Committee Aim

County School Superintendent Kenneth Barneburg, a member of the school economy committee set up by the Oregon Education association, attended a recent committee meeting held in Portland.

The committee of six has been delegated to study the obtaining of wise economy in the state school system.

The areas of study include: Administrative, teachers, textbooks, fuel and light conservation, maintenance of building and equipment, transportation, insurance, cafeteria school lunches, purchase of new equipment, and comparative costs of building construction to meet state building requirements.

Since the field is large, the study will be continued over a period of several months, said Barneburg. Experts on various phases will be called in so that their experiences may be used in formulating an economy procedure. The committee will guard against false economies, he emphasized.

Following the committee's study, the OEA will make recommendations to the state school officials and where necessary formulate legislation to be presented to the next legislature.

The next committee meeting will be Oct. 22 in Portland.

Trucker Clips Off 20 Rural Mail Boxes

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Uncle Sam has frowned on farmer Howard Willard's alleged "harvesting" of 20 rural mail boxes with a grain binder on his truck.

Willard, 36, was arraigned before a U. S. Commissioner yesterday on charges of destroying mail boxes. He was released on $500 bond.

U. S. Attorney Max Bulkley said Willard's binder clipped off all but three of 23 mail boxes along a 20-mile stretch of road from a Holly, Colo., tavern to his home.

Two Hits In Second Frame Bring Tally

Jackie Robinson Swats Two-Bagger, Races Home On Single By Hodges

(By The Associated Press)
The Brooklyn Dodgers of the National league had a 1-to-0 lead over the New York Yankees of the American league in the second game of the world series on the Yankees' field this afternoon.

The Dodgers' run was tallied in the second inning when Jackie Robinson, Negro second baseman and National league batting champion, blasted a double, was sacrificed to third base and raced home on Hodges' single.

The opposing pitchers, Raschi of the Yankees and Roe of the Dodgers, are staging a duel that may rival the sensational performance of Reynolds and Newcombe in yesterday's game.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The sun shone dully on the Yankees' Bronx home today and the band tooted wildly as the early birds of a 65,000-plus crowd arrived for the second game of the New York-Brooklyn world series.

The weatherman threatened a moist late afternoon but predicted the game would be over and done before the rain started to fall.

Overnight the field had dried out in the style and there were no muddy spots in front of the dugouts or along the foul lines as there were at yesterday's thrilling opener, won by the Yankees 1-0 on Tommy Henrich's ninth-inning homer.

After today's battle the scene shifts to Brooklyn.

Preacher Roe, a 15-6 winner in the regular season with 13 complete games and three shutouts in 27 starts, was listed as Brooklyn pitcher.

With a one-up bulge, Casey Stengel of the Yanks had his top-winning ace, Vic Raschi, (21-10), primed for duty.

5 Pupils Die, 15 Injured In Bus Crash

MIDDLESEX, N. C., Oct. 6. (AP)—A school bus packed with children and an ice truck crashed today on a narrow wooden bridge, killing at least five pupils and injuring 15.

Two of the injured were not expected to live.

D. H. Bunn Jr., of Middlesex, said brambles and weeds overhung the dirt road at the site of the crash, obscuring vision.

Jerry, a member of a coroner's jury, said "about 70" pupils were aboard the bus, which had seats for 42.

Screaming children, books and lunch baskets littered the swamp-bordered roadside.

The highway patrol listed the dead as: Judy Massey and Joanne Debnam, Carolyn Debnam, all of Zebulon, and Robert Carter and Julian Bryant, both of Middlesex.

Most of the pupils were enroute to Ferralls grammar school one mile from here.

Pineapple Co. Asks NLRB Ban On Pickets

PORTLAND, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Hawaiian Pineapple company has formally asked the National Labor Relations board to ban picketing of its pineapple bins at The Dalles.

Gunther Krause, company attorney, said it might be several weeks "or longer" before the NLRB acted on the request to invoke the Taft-Hartley law's ban on secondary boycotts. The company contends its efforts to unload pineapple has no connection with the Hawaiian Longshore strike.

CIO Longshoremen from Portland halted the unloading last week when they raided the waterfront terminal at The Dalles.
