

County Sells Lots Rejected As Sites For Home Project

The Douglas county court has completed sale of most of the property which made up the two formerly proposed county home sites, announced Mrs. D. W. Young in charge of property sales.

Lot 2, Civil Bend Orchard tract, has been sold under contract to Isaac J. James for $7,189. The lot consists of 20.54 acres, sold at $350 per acre.

Lot 5, less 0.15 acres, of Civil Bend Orchard Tract and lot 7, plat F, Roseburg Home Orchard tract, has been sold under contract to H. A. and Liah R. Winston for $3,260. The acreage was 16.30, at $200 per acre.

Lot 4, Civil Bend Orchard tract, has been sold under contract to Dale A. and Bethel A. Williamson for $1,980. The 7.92 acres brought $250 an acre.

The county still owns lot 1, Civil Bend Orchard tract, consisting of 21.53 acres. It may be purchased for $550 per acre.

The old county home located on the Dixonville road east of Roseburg was sold for cash recently to Oma V. Kerr. The price received for the 6.68 acres was $5,500.

All revenue from these sales will go into the fund for the proposed new county home, which will be built upon a part of the Douglas Community hospital tract.

KDND DIAL-LOG

Walter "Bud" Barber and Mel Allen have been handling the radio play-by-play and color descriptions of the 1949 World Series, which are being aired exclusively over the coast-to-coast facilities of the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system. During the hectic 1949 major league pennant races, Allen covered the New York Yankees' regular season games and Red Barber similarly followed the baseball fortunes of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Airtime for all week-day games is 9:45 a. m., PST. If the Sunday, October 9, game is played, airtime will be 10:45 a. m., PST.

A pre-marriage verbal exchange will be made on the "Here Comes the Bride" interview tonight between Dale R. John and Jeanine Miller . . . being quizzed by announcer Del McKay. In the very near future, they'll be exchanging vows during the serious business of a wedding ceremony—when it'll be too late for questions other than the vital "Do you Dale, take Jeanine, to be your lawful wedded wife?"

Hear the marriage plans and courtship anecdotes of Dale R. John and Jeanine Miller on "Here Comes the Bride" tonight at 7:30.

What is a shee fish? Which is faster, a pheasant or a grouse? What's the best big game rifle? These and many other questions will be answered by the "Fishing and Hunting Club" panel, moderated by Bill Slater. (8:30 - 8:55 p. m.)

Bob Moon, emcee of the week-day "Ladies First" airer, prides himself as a master of the King's English. But when a recent "First Lady" from Bombay, India, demonstrated her use of this country's speech, all Moon could say was: "Gosh! Don't she sound cultured!"

A report was also made upon the membership drive and steps to be taken to collect dues of present members.

These matters will be brought up for further discussion and probable action at next Wednesday's regular meeting at 12 noon in the Hotel Umpqua.

Centuries-Old Hostility Between Arabs, Jews Dates Back To Period Of Abraham

By CLARKE BEACH
WASHINGTON—Stories about how Arabs and Jews can't write a final peace for Palestine after months of truce and negotiations have an ancient ring. Those two nations, next-door neighbors and cousins, members of one of the oldest families on earth, have lived in a kind of armed truce with each other all through the ages—except when they were actually fighting.

It all began in the time of Abraham, about 4,000 years ago. The lore of both nations relates that Abraham was the father of both Arabs and Jews. One of Abraham's sons was Jacob, whom the Arabs named Israel, and the Jews claim descent from him. He settled down in his father's country, which is roughly the interior of the present State of Israel.

Abraham's eldest son was Ishmael, and he is reputed to be the ancestor of the Arabians. He left his father's land to raise his family in the desert country east of the Jordan river. Israel's sons settled down in towns and cities and took pride in scholarship and the building of permanent structures such as the Temple of Jerusalem. Ishmael's sons just wandered, camped by the oases, led their flocks hither and yon to follow the grass where it was green. In the Old Testament you read repeatedly of bloody contacts between the Israelites and the nomads to the east. It is quite clear that by the time of the prophet Nehemiah (5th century B. C.) the Israelites regarded their cousins across the Jordan as barbarous and untutored yokels and robbers.

Despite having the same blood and a language with the same Semitic-root, they have gone their separate ways all through the ages. The same enemies threatened a Jew and an Arab, time after time, but they never teamed up for common defense. The only time you read about an Arab and Jew fighting on the same side is when an Arab army helps out one Jewish faction which is busy beating the life out of another set of Jews.

Assyrians, Babylonians and Persians picked off the Israelites and Arabs, one at a time. Greeks and Romans took over all of Israel and seized control of the caravan routes of the Arabs. In one of Israel's final, desperate battles against Rome, the attack by Titus in 67 A. D., an Arabian leader loaned Titus 1,000 horse and 5,000 foot soldiers.

With the Mohammedan sweep across most of the Mediterranean world in the seventh and eighth centuries Arabians became the masters of Palestine and of Jewish colonies in the lands they conquered. Under Islam the Jews didn't fare too badly. Although the Prophet's policy was to slay all persons who did not embrace the faith, he made an exception, of which many Jews took advantage. They could retain their own faith and still live if they paid a generous poll tax and were "reduced low"—accepting a kind of second-class citizenship. Actually, many Jews became prominent statesmen, bankers and scholars under the Islamic rule.

One reason the Jews and Arabs never joined in a common front probably was that they were never in the ascendancy at the same time. When Israel was relatively strong, in the times of David and Solomon, and later of the Hasmonaeans, the Arabs were a nebulous people, capable of no sustained military campaign.

After the Roman razed Jerusalem in A. D. 135, the land was actually plowed under, and only a few thousand Jews remained alive in Israel.

Only the Mohammedans—the Arabs—were strong when the Crusaders invaded Palestine. It was the Mohammedans who finally drove the Crusaders out. The Jews were still inconspicuous in the later major invasions—by the Mamluks of Egypt, the Mongols, the Ottoman Turks and, finally, the allied forces in World War I. Israel and Arabs are now more nearly equal in strength than ever before.

State Industrial Accident commission vs. Louie Elmer Gillette, doing business as G & B Logging Co., asking for a decree restraining the defendant from employing workmen in hazardous occupations until a deposit equal to $112.50 is made.

Benson P.-T. A. Begins Year In Lively Manner

Benson P.-T.A. got under way this year in grand style with a reception for the teachers in the school lunch room, where refreshments were served. Each teacher was presented a corsage as she was introduced to the assembly, and Roger Crain, the principal, was honored with a red rose for his lapel.

A novel touch was added when Mr. Crain showed slide baby pictures of each teacher. He read a short history of each, then asked the assembly to name the teacher.

The business meeting was opened by Mrs. Don Wells, president. Vice-President Essie Hayden read the benediction, followed by group singing of "America the Beautiful."

Wendell Johnson, violin instructor, played several selections, accompanied by Mrs. Woodward at the piano. After this he explained why Roseburg should have a school orchestra as well as a school band in order to have a well-rounded musical program.

Mrs. John Spencer was elected and inducted as treasurer.

A motion was approved to sponsor a group of "Bluebirds."

Re-roofing the playshed was discussed, and Mr. Crain agreed to look further into the matter. A motion was approved that a committee be appointed to look into the matter of an inter-communication system for the school. Room count was won by Mrs. Dixon's room.

Logger Idleness Laid To Imports

SEATTLE, Oct. 6.—(P)—Enough Canadian logs were brought into Washington state last year to have given every logger in Whatcom and Skagit counties full-time employment, a resolution adopted by the Seattle CIO council last night said.

The council's resolution urged that an import quota be placed on Canadian logs to maintain American forest industry employment at levels above 88 per cent. Thousands of U. S. loggers have been thrown out of work during the last two years, the resolution charged, with the result that Washington state has paid out $6,650,642 in unemployment compensation to idle loggers.

In making the Whatcom-Skagit counties comparison, the council said it was in those counties that unemployment is heaviest.
