IN THE U. S. A., THEY'RE STILL DP'S—After seven years in displaced persons camps in Europe, these eight families sharing the basement of a Ukrainian Orthodox Church in Cleveland, O., find they're still DP's. These refugees, along with 38 others in Cleveland, are homeless because sponsors who agreed to care for some of them changed their minds, and because more DP's came than were expected. Clothes, food and money are provided by church parishioners. Canvas cots, blankets and pillows were supplied by the Red Cross. Although their shipboard dreams of life in the U. S. A. are far from fulfilled, the refugees are thankful to be permitted to stay and hope soon to begin a normal family existence.

HEARS CANTATA—Frank Grandstaff stands in the wings of Municipal Auditorium, at Big Spring, Tex., as a male chorus sings his cantata, "Big Spring," at ceremony opening Big Spring's centennial celebration. Grandstaff, a life term convict in Tennessee, heard the cantata performed for the first time since he finished the work in 1946. The score is based on material he read in the book, Big Spring, a story of this west Texas city. (Ap Wirephoto)

Luxury Liner Has New Fowl Recipe

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Chief chef Gaston Magrin of the Ile de France luxury liner, famous for its food, uses a hen or a plump chicken to produce a wonderful dish. He gave your food editor the recipe, written in mouth-watering French. However it is easier to follow and just as mouth-watering in plain English.

Chicken "Ile de France"

Use a hen or a plump chicken. Draw, singe, and clean well. Stuff with truffles between the breast and skin. Pour a glass of good French cognac in the cavity and allow to stand in a cool place for 2 hours. (Omit brandy if preferred.) Make a broth with the giblets and a pound of beef shanks (without using turnips or cabbage.)

Pare celery stalks (two per person) and cut in pieces about four inches long. Cook stalks tied in a bunch and the rest of the celery in the broth, but be sure to remove stalks after 25 minutes. After the celery stalks are cooled, place them in a separate dish with some of the broth to keep them warm.

For the gravy, thicken one pint of broth and simmer down, stirring often, for about 30 minutes. Then add some heavy cream and allow to cook very slowly for 10 minutes. Keep warm for another half hour before serving.

Cook the hen or chicken in the broth for 90 minutes. Prick leg to test if it is done. If the juice is pink, it indicates that it is not sufficiently cooked. Cook for an-

Greek Guerrilla Headquarters Moved To Bulgaria

ATHENS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Reliable sources reported Wednesday that the Greek Guerrilla headquarters has been moved from Albania to Bulgaria and that 8,000 guerrillas are being transferred between the two countries by sea. Veteran observers said the transfer shows three possibilities. 1. The guerrillas might be used from a Bulgarian base as a spearhead in the Cominform's campaign against Premier-Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

other 5 minutes, repeat test, and cook until done.

To finish preparing gravy, cook over a slow fire, adding approximately 1-4 pound sweet butter in small lumps, stirring until smooth. Season with salt and the juice of 1/2 lemon. Strain the gravy into a large gravy boat.

Remove hen and place on a platter and surround with the cooked celery stalks. Sprinkle fresh, finely chopped tarragon, and serve very hot.

2. Guerrilla attacks against Greece from the Bulgarian border might be renewed. 3. It could mean isolated Albania has been written off as a base of guerrilla operations against Greece or Yugoslavia.

An independent source said some of the guerrillas in Albania are going first to Czechoslovakia for training before taking up their new base in Bulgaria.
