Everything for the duck, goose, or pheasant hunter, that's what you'll find at J. V. SPORTING GOODS this week. This weather, the waterproof shell vests and hunting coats and rubber boots are necessary for comfortable hunting. Need a shotgun or shot-gun shells? Look for them at J. V., too. And real-looking duck or goose decoys for successfully luring your game within range.

One of these A. S. B. Heritage lighter sets might make a dandy lure for deer-hunters, but we'd specially recommend it for a Christmas gift. ASHCRAFT'S have the three piece set, rhodium finished metal tray, cigarette server and lighter. It cannot tarnish, and it can be engraved. The lighter mechanism is precision-built. The styling is traditional, a three-footed urn with wooden handles. The feet of the urns are felt-lined, to protect your lovely furniture from scratches. For a friend's living-room or friend husband's den, it's equally appropriate.

And while we're talking about friend husband, how long has it been since you met him downtown for lunch or afternoon coffee? Make a date with him at the ICE CREAMERY, for a companionable chat and coffee, a coke, or hot chocolate with marshmallows. You'll both enjoy the break in the monotony of everyday living. For your luncheon date, the Ice Creamery offers a variety of toasted sandwiches and milk shakes or malts, with sundaes, cake or pie ala mode for dessert.

One of the greatest labor saving devices of today is tomorrow.

CLARK'S STUDIO has a special offer—a feature tint vignette. With all background masked out, and just the eyes, skin, and lips tinted, these vignettes (usually $8.00) are only $2.50. Clark's are offering them to students, particularly, and we'd say a vignette portrait would be a welcome Christmas gift for your folks. You won't find many gifts for as little as $2.50. Clark's Studio is at 105 South Jackson. Phone 331 for an appointment.

Here's your chance to get a pair of Western Wear slacks from LUYERNE'S for only $4.95. They're laid out on a bargain table, so just go in and look them over. In sizes from 10 to 30, they are made of rayon struts, cloth and gabardine. Checks add solid colors. Need a new blouse? And who doesn't need one from time to time? Luyerne's have some lovely Peggy Martin blouses just in this week. A stunning white crepe with cap sleeves and self-buttons down the back has Chinese scenes painted across the front in subtly Oriental colors. Tiny gold, blue and red beads add sparkle to the motif. Another white blouse with round jewelry neckline and short sleeves has dainty pintucks and white embroidery down the front. This is a button-back style, too.

Don't give up hope. Others are only too willing to do it for you.

What do you know about angel food cake? You DON'T know how good an angel food cake can be until you've tried one from CLEO'S QUALITY BAKERY, at 314 North Jackson. Cleo makes a custard angel food cake that is moister and richer than plain angel food. Buy them either frosted or unfrosted. She has Boston cream pies, too, in regular sizes for a family or individual ones with chocolate frosting along the sides. These individual Boston cream pies are sensational as desserts for special dinners. Cleo's bakes sponge cakes for special order, if that's your family's favorite. Give her a ring before 9:30 tomorrow morning, and have her save some of her goodies for you to pick up while you're shopping downtown. The number is 981-J.

Here's another gift suggestion for the man of your heart—clever beer mugs with old English coaches and carriages painted on the sides, new arrivals at JOSSE'S. There are matching pictures in shadow frames, too, for clever arrangement over a bookcase. The coaches are in pairs, framed in antiqued light wood. Carriages are in six styles framed in ebony. Brass table lamps in Victorian styling are a complimentary item for his den or alongside his favorite armchair. Just a corner of a living-room could be decorated for him with these items. Get him a pair of the mugs for Christmas, and his "den" will be complete.

A great craving of the human heart is for appreciation.

LESTER'S GIFT SHOP has started their lay-away service for Christmas. Gifts they offer range from costume jewelry for Mother and the girls, wooden and leather gift items for Dad and the boys, to china, glass, and metal accessories for the home. One special toy for Junior that you'll have to order now is a logging truck. It's running gears, trailer, and cab are made of 1/8-inch cast steel. It has a Page eight-wheel trailer and real truck-type rubber tires. It's guaranteed to haul a 200-lb. load, and is one of the sturdiest toys you'll find. Don't wait until two weeks before Christmas to order one, or you may not have it in time to put it under the tree.

RED DEMONSTRATOR ARRESTED—Surrounded by German police, a Communist demonstrator is arrested in the Western zone of Berlin during a "World Police Day" rally staged by the Communists. Many demonstrators were arrested when they tried to block police attempts to break up the meeting.

Bride Of 6 Days Killed In Crash; Husband Injured

MONTEREY, Calif., Oct. 7—(AP)—A Portland bride of six days was killed and her husband seriously injured in a head-on high-way collision near here yesterday.

Mrs. Carla Pakenham Collins, 22, died shortly after entering Monterey hospital. The husband, Charles Kevin Collins, 21, suffered two broken legs and multiple skull fractures. Police said he was "given a chance" to recover.

The two were prominent in Portland college campuses. Mrs. Collins was student body vice-president at Marylhurst college and was elected "Miss Marylhurst" for 1949. She was graduated last year.

Collins was student body president at the University of Portland last year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Collins of Portland.

They were married Saturday at Tacoma where the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Pakenham, live.

The State Highway patrol said a truck driven by Ralph C. Juarez of Monterey apparently crossed the center line and crashed into the Collins car. Juarez was uninjured. The crash was being investigated. Juarez was not cited.

Boys Chosen To Attend Meet Of Explorer Scouts

Fourteen boys were qualified for the first event of the season by Explorer Scout outfit 277 at a meeting last night in the industrial arts classroom of the junior high school. They will attend the Oregon Trail council explorer convention at Coos Bay, Oct. 8 and 9. Time for departure was set at 10 a. m. Saturday from the junior high school.

Under sponsorship of the Roseburg Kiwanis club, the boys will be transported to Coos Bay through courtesy of the Roseburg Lumber company for a weekend of fun and instruction from marksmen, ski instructors, basketball coaches, scout cooks and experts in other activities. Climaxing the event will be dancing with Coos Bay girls.

Activities have been planned which will not be affected by weather conditions. Housing is expected in case of need through the hospitality of the yacht club, armory, or community house of Mingus park. Otherwise the scouts will provide their own tentage.

Physical examinations were given the boys by Dr. B. R. Shoemaker and Dr. G. N. Lanci in preparation for the year of scouting. Applications were taken for membership in the local outfit, and names were given for insurance purposes.

For entertainment Leader Chuck Allen, junior high instructor in industrial arts, showed pictures taken on trips with the Corvallis outfit of which he was formerly leader. They showed scenery along the Oregon coast and in the Cascades along the sky-line trail, revealing beauties of Oregon country among the snow-capped mountains, lakes, forests, and meadows. Both still and motion pictures were in color.

The Kiwanis club was represented at the meeting by Dr. Shoemaker, Maurice Newland and Earnest Pearson. Temporary leaders of crews were Larry Crawford and Jack Stone, explorer scout.

Priest's Well-Equipped Car Bad For Violator

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 7—(AP)—A Catholic priest brought about the arrest of an East Boston motorist he accused of driving away after sideswiping his car.

It was easy for the Rev. Thomas J. Tierney who gave chase sounding the siren on his car while calling police over a two-way radio.

The priest's car was well equipped for such an emergency. You see, Father Tierney is chaplain for the Cambridge Fire department.

Jams, jellies, and marmalades—if they are used moderately—are perfectly appropriate for young children. Let them have a teaspoon or two of the preserve at breakfast, and sometimes at lunch or supper if they want it.

Beggar Gets Gem Fortune But Doesn't Know It

CAIRO—(AP)—A ragged beggar who pleads for alms in the shadow of the Pyramids had a fortune in stolen jewels. But he didn't know it. Police for months had been hunting $80,000 in gems taken last summer from Mrs. Nafas Pasha, wife of the Wafdist Party leader.

Finally they caught the thieves. After holding out until the police fed them a chicken dinner, they admitted they had given many of the jewels to a beggar named Bahluk. The jewels were wrapped in a package and the beggar didn't know what they were, they said. He had been instructed to hide them.

After questioning, Bahluk was released. "I just never got around to looking inside that cloth," he admitted ruefully.

HEADS FOR THEIR CHEST
SEATTLE, Oct. 7—(AP)—Freshman pledges gave their heads for their chest yesterday.

That is to say, they stuck their heads through holes in a large sheet and let University of Washington upperclassmen chuck fresh pies at them for $1 to $2 apiece.

Proceeds go to the campus drive for the community chest.
