Red Cross Needs More Workers

Douglas Simms, executive sec-retary of the Roseburg chapter of the American Red Cross, said today that the Red Cross volunteer recruitment drive has been "fairly successful" to date.
However, he said there is still a need for workers, both men and women, to assist in the program at the Roseburg Veterans hospi-tal. Women are also needed to work on production and home service tasks at the chapter headquarters at the armory.

Simms said an indoctrination course, acquainting volunteers with the principles of Red Cross work and the relationship of the organization to other commun-ity groups, will be given in the chapter rooms Thursday and Friday at 2 p. m.

Myrtle Creek To Open Bids On New School Building

Housing of Myrtle Creek school district's 360 pupils will be one step closer to reality this Wednesday, Oct. 12, when the board of directors will open bids on an elementary building and an addition to the present gymnasium. Superintendent M. C. Deller stated plans for the new structure call for 13 primary and lower elementary rooms with most recent educational innovations incorporated. For the gymnasium, adequate dressing rooms, showers and an enlarged playing floor are included.

A lively interest in these projects is indicated by the receipt of approximately a dozen prequalification questionnaires from various contracting firms, reported P. B. Froelich, district clerk. The housing problem of Myrtle Creek's schools, following the pattern predicted by educators and sociologists for the West Coast, is one of the most intense of its kind. The district is bonded, for all practical purposes, to its full capacity; every grade from the second on up to high school is operating on a double shift. The new building will place the entire grade schoolsupon a regular six hour day, providing shift. The new building will place the entire grade schools upon a regular six hour day, providing only that the enrollment remains quiescent, which from all census enumerations it cannot do. The growth of the high school is imminent. All rooms in the building are now fully occupied and one class is "looking for a place" to "alight".

T. G. Bryant, chairman of the board said, "We may present a five or ten year plan for the improvement of our schools to include additional rooms, building and ground upkeep, purchase of and ground upkeep, purchase of needed equipment and furni-
