

Welfare Payments This Year In Douglas County Promise To Reach Total Of $500,000

Beginning with October, the Douglas County Public Welfare commission is making payments to the aged on the basis of $50 minimum, as specified in recent legislation.

Shallmar Musicians Leave For Hollywood

Roseburg's unique duo—a father and son combination—make their final personal appearance at the Shallmar long engagement, after a six-weeks long engagement.

They'll be on tap tonight from 3:30 until 1:30, providing patrons with scintillating vocal renditions and instrumental arrangements.

Monday night, an instrumental, vocal and comedy team entitled "The Gentlemen of Note" appear at the Shallmar for a two week stay.

They come here from the "million dollar" Flamingo club, at Las Vegas.

This does not necessarily mean that all payments from the welfare will be $50 nor that the sum will be limited to that amount, according to Lois Baker, local administrator. It does mean that the recipient will get at least $50 from combined sources, such as relatives' support, social security or any other income.

In some cases, in accordance with an income scale worked out, relative will be required to pay a portion of the amount, with the welfare service making up the difference. Also, in some cases payment to recipients will exceed the $50 in accordance with provisions of the law, she said.

Payments to all welfare recipients, however, are contingent upon funds being available from the county, state and federal sources to meet the requirements. There is no change in allowances for dependent children, the blind or general assistance to the needy.

In addition to subsistence allowances for the aged, medical and dental care are provided. In many cases, according to Mrs. Baker, these sums are quite high.

The $50 monthly subsistence allowance is figured on the following basis: board, $24.75; clothing, $5; personal items, $4.50; household, $2.50; replacements, $1.00; rent or taxes, fire insurance and upkeep, $3.25; fuel, $6; light, $1.50 and water, $1.50.

All income and resources of the recipient will be taken into consideration in the determination of need, so that the $50 may be exceeded where necessary to provide minimum subsistence.

Half a million dollars will be expended this year in Douglas county alone for all public welfare services, according to Mrs. Baker. The October budget request, state and federal sources was $49,749, against the $45,970 September budget.

Indoctrination Course Announced At Vets Hospital

An orientation and indoctrination course will be held for volunteer workers at the Roseburg Veterans hospital Oct. 18, 19 and 20, according to an announcement by Robert P. Kidder, chairman of the Veterans administration volunteer services committee.

The purpose of the orientation and indoctrination course is to provide the volunteer worker with an understanding of the nature and significance of the VA volunteer program; the fundamental principles and methods of volunteer assistance in the hospital program; and the policy, functions, and objectives of the Veterans Administration hospital program.

Volunteers may work through one of the many organizations represented at the hospital or as non-affiliated workers. There is an increasing need for volunteer workers at the hospital in educational, recreational, occupational therapy, library, recreation, sports, and chaplaincy services.

Persons in the community interested in becoming volunteer workers are urged either to contact the hospital representative for their organization, or see Kidder at the hospital.

Suit Filed In Court To Collect On Note

Ralph L. Russell has filed suit in circuit court against Ben F. Doerksen and Harrison R. Winston. Russell asks judgment for $2,396.42 alleged due on a promissory note issued by Doerksen, and requests that property, described as a pig driver and a hoist, given as security, be sold to cover the judgment. Winston is listed as a defendant since he holds the title in trust to the property, the complaint states.

Credit Bureau Adjustment Department, Inc., asks judgment for $301.98 against Vernon Bergstrom, doing business as Mountaineer Logging company, on an assigned account alleged due for goods, wares and merchandise, sold to the plaintiff.

Bill To Permit More DPs To Enter U. S. Given Jolt By Sen. M'Carran's Report

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Senator McCarran (D-NeV.) said Friday there are relatively few real war displaced persons left in Europe. He called pending legislation to open U. S. doors to more DPs "a gigantic fund" to let in a flood of aliens.

McCarran is now in Europe where he says he has personally investigated the DP situation. He sent his views to the Senate in the form of a prepared address.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D Colo.) read the speech for McCarran as the Senate began a second day of debate on a bill to boost from 205,000 in two years to 339,000 in three years the number of homeless Europeans who could come to this country.

The measure would amend the law passed by the Republican 80th Congress. In last year's campaign, President Truman called the law "anti-Catholic and anti-Semitic."

The bill is snarled up in a sessional fight. Some senators are speaking of the debate against it as a filibuster.

Cain has served notice he will attempt to kill the bill by sending it back to committee.

Cain spoke for hours against the bill Thursday using up the first day of debate. Senators Langer (R-ND) and Donnell (R-Mo) also were reported prepared to speak against it at length.

Lucas called all this talking a filibuster and told newsmen that because of it he had abandoned hope that Congress would adjourn today.

By keeping on talking, the Illinois senator said, opponents of the bill hope they can force supporters of the legislation to drop session.

"But they're just wrong on that—as long as we've got a quorum," he said.

Cain accused the administration of trying to push the bill through at this session for political reasons. He said he was opposed to any legislation "which enlarges the scope of the displaced persons problem to the extent that it constitutes a breaking down of immigration barriers."

Toastmasters Give Talks On Round Robin Plan

A "round robin," in which each speaker as he arose to give a three-minute talk, appointed a speaker to follow and gave him a subject on which to speak, featured the weekly Toastmasters club meeting Tuesday night in the Hotel Umpqua.

Participating were Jim Turk, Jay Sorseth, Alan Knudson, Phil Harth, Dr. S. L. De Lapp, C. O. Siabard, Jack Meyers and Milton Harth.

Herman Matsoff, vice-president, presided in the absence of President Ross Newcomb.

Roy Barnhart, toastmaster, introduced as scheduled speakers Dr. De Lapp, speaking on "Smiles and Cheerfulness," and Carl Permin, "Auto Safety."

Impromptu talks were given by Bill Lindelle and Alan Knudson, "The Evolution of Logging," traced modern logging methods as an outgrowth of ancient and crude methods of logging through the ages. Knudson, who spoke on "First Aid," defined first aid, its purpose and the general need for efficient first aid.

Dr. De Lapp stated: "We list smiles and laughter with life's intangibles. We cannot always see them, feel them, or hear them, yet they are very real. Like some other invisible things, they are eternal."

"Smiles and laughter are essential to normal human life," he continued. "Can you imagine life without them?" He called upon fellow toastmasters to make the club meeting a place "where smiles and laughter are always present."

Permin emphasized the importance of safe driving, preventing carelessness and courtesy of the road.

Guests at the meeting were Norman Tolley, Harth, Knudson and Sorseth. Jack Myers was voted into membership. Tom Coates, toastmaster, had each member present introducing the man on his left by giving a one-minute introduction talk.

Probation Of Two Men Is Ordered Revoked

Charles M. Eady, who has been on probation since entering a guilty plea to a charge of larceny by bailie on June 29, has been ordered by Circuit Judge William G. East to appear for sentencing.

Judge East on that date suspended imposition of sentence and placed Eady on probation for 18 months. Alleging that Eady has violated terms of his probation by failure to report to the officer of probation and parole, Judge East has ordered that he appear before him for sentencing.

Judge East has also issued an order, upon motion of District Attorney Robert G. Davis, revoking the probation of LeRoy Cadwallader, who had been sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary on August 10, 1949. Alleging that Cadwallader violated terms of his probation, Judge East has ordered that the sentence be immediately carried out.

Judgment Order Issued Upon Parties' Agreement

Circuit Judge William G. East, acting for Judge Carl E. Wimberly, has issued a judgment order favoring Henry C. Platt against Fred O. and Mary Chamberlain. The order, granted upon the stipulation of the parties in part, authorizes the judgment for $1,309.49, plus attorney fees and costs, and authorizes sale of attached property, as provided by law, to satisfy the judgment. The property consists of two sections of land, 7.72 acres and 12.62 acres in the respective tracts.

Circuit Judge Orders Dismissal Of Actions

The following criminal actions brought by the state of Oregon have been ordered dismissed by Circuit Judge William G. East, upon motion of District Attorney Robert G. Davis:

Charges pending against Walter George Groves and Delbert La Verne Hoppeler, both indicted by the grand jury on charges of larceny of personal property under the value of $35 have been dropped. The reason is that Groves is now serving an eight year term in the Arizona State penitentiary on an auto theft charge, and Hoppeler has been sentenced to from eight to 25 years, also on an auto theft charge.

The districts attorney's motion states that a conviction on the local charge would be difficult after waiting that long a period. The case of the State of Oregon vs. Al Schaffer on an assault and battery charge was dismissed, upon motion of the district attorney because of insufficient evidence to bring about a conviction.

REST CONTROL APPROVED BY M'KAY FOR OREGON CITY
SALEM, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Governor Douglas McKay Friday approved decontrol of rents in Oregon City.
The federal government now is expected to give the same approval. End of rent control was recommended by the city council.

ATTEND BALL GAME

Thirty Monday morning quarterbacks showed off at nine this morning from the Veterans hospital by the grand jury on charges of larceny of personal property under the value of $35 have been dropped. The reason is that Groves is now serving an eight year term in the Arizona State penitentiary on an auto theft charge, and Hoppeler has been sentenced to from eight to 25 years, also on an auto theft charge.

ESTATE IN PROBATE

By order of County Judge D. N. Busenbark, Hilda Jaubola has been named administratrix of the estate of Carl J. Jaubola, who died Aug. 23, 1949 at Reedsport. Clarence Heves, Melvin Jensen and Robert Smiley were named appraisers.
