

Issuance Of Gold Coins Needs Act Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said Wednesday present law forbids issuance of gold coins in this country, and only an act of Congress could change that.

At a news conference, Snyder also stood firmly on his oft-repeated position that only Congress can change the $35 an ounce U. S. price for gold, and that the administration has no intention of asking Congress to do it.

Furthermore, he denied flatly that there had been a "secret agreement" during the recent American-British-Canadian talks to put the dollar and the pound back on the gold standard.

Uses Bare Hands, Pocket Knife To Slay Buck Deer

SEATTLE, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Clarence A. Rees killed a deer with his bare hands and the inch-and-a-half long blade of his pocket knife.

Exhibiting a bruised shoulder, a torn and bloody shirt—and the two-point buck deer weighing 110 pounds—the Kent resident said Wednesday he would "never do it again. Not ever."

He was looking over the cows at his farm when the deer suddenly jumped from the brush at his side. Acting without thought, he grasped its horns.

"Then I was afraid to let go," Rees remembered.

"He knocked me over on my back, with him on top, but I held him. I choked him until his tongue was hanging out. I guess mine was, too."

Getting the knife out of his pocket and opening the blade, all with one hand, "with the hardest part of the whole thing," said Rees. He stabbed the deer in the throat. "I guess the whole thing lasted about five minutes, but it was all dynamite."

Rees had purchased a hunting license, but had expected to get his deer in the conventional manner, with a rifle.

If you have parsley in your refrigerator use some of it for a sauce to serve with fish fillets. Make it by browning about four tablespoons of butter or margarine in a frying pan; brown slowly so as not to burn the fat. Then add a tablespoon of lemon juice, and two tablespoons of chopped parsley. Heat again and serve immediately.

Pastor Fills Pulpit At Local Church

By MRS. G. B. FOX
News-Review Correspondent

Rev. Johnson of Albany, who has been called to an interim pastorate with the Glendale Assembly of God, arrived Saturday to take up his duties here. The Johnsons, under appointment to Japan as missionaries, do not know how long they will be able to remain in Glendale, as they are awaiting their sailing orders.

The local Assembly of God congregation has only recently completed a new church building in downtown Glendale, and work has started on construction of a new parsonage on Gilbertson Ave. The former pastor, Rev. R. J. Banning, is now in Los Angeles holding revival services.

Building New Manse
The Presbyterian church in Glendale has begun construction of a manse on their property on Pacific avenue between 1st and 2nd streets, here. The manse will be next door to the church.

Baptist Pastor Resigns
Rev. Gerald B. Fox, pastor of the Glendale Baptist church, resigned the pastorate there Sept. 30, due to throat trouble and other conditions. The family has moved to an acreage outside Glendale, and will continue activity in the local church in a lay capacity until after the first of the year.

During the first three weeks, the church has had the services of Rev. G. W. Wood, Portland, as interim pastor.

Miss Sarah Louise Walker, missionary worker under the Women's American Baptist Home Mission Convention office, was scheduled to arrive Wednesday, Oct. 19, to relieve the Rev. Mr. Wood and take charge of the Glendale work. Miss Walker will conduct children's work and a home-visitation campaign in connection with the pastoral work here.

She is rated by acquaintances as a tireless worker and an excellent speaker, and the local group looks forward to a good time and effective growth under her leadership.

Rev. Mr. Fox of Glendale was supply speaker in the Grants Pass Baptist church Sunday evening, Oct. 16. Rev. LeRoy Fraser, pastor, was absent on church business.

Four members of the Glendale Baptist church and interim pastor, Rev. George Wood, drove to Coos Bay last Tuesday to attend sessions of the Umpqua Baptist association. Those making the trip were Mrs. G. R. Linville, Mrs. Raben Hays, Rev. George Wood, and Rev. and Mrs. Fox.

"Craft-A-Month" Program Under YMCA Drafted

Definite plans for a YMCA-sponsored "craft-a-month" program were made Tuesday when a group of interested adults met with Marlene Yoder, local Y secretary, at the Methodist church.

Tuesday was set as the weekly meeting night, with the first craft session set for Nov. 1, from 7:30-9:30. The group will meet at the Methodist church social hall.

Aim of the program is to instruct adults in various crafts so that they in turn may teach members of various Roseburg youth organizations. Groups which will benefit were listed by Yoder as the Campfire Girls, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Cubs, various YMCA organizations and other groups.

Participating adults will be instructed in a different craft each month, with plaster casting to be offered during November. During the first month, those instructed will make the Nativity scene to use on tables or as mantle pieces during the Yuletide season.

Salads should be tossed lightly or the ingredients will be broken up and the greens bruised.

Loud Clothes Chosen To Break Polar Monotony

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—What does the well dressed man wear to the South Pole country?

Gay woolen plaids and stripes in bright warm colors—that's the stuff chosen by an Anglo-Swedish-Anarctica next month on a three-year expedition.

"Patterns have been selected to relieve the monotony of the polar snows," said a member of the expedition.
