

Pineapple Dispute Said At Standstill

THE DALLES, Ore., Oct. 22.—(AP)—The pineapple dispute was at a standstill here today, waiting a court hearing next Tuesday.

Then Circuit Judge Malcolm W. Wilkinson will hear arguments on The Dalles Port commission's request for an injunction against picketing by CIO Longshoremen.

The commission filed the injunction request yesterday, after pickets again thwarted an attempt to move the pineapple. Railroaders refused to cross a CIO picket line to the dock.

A bargeload of pineapple brought here from strike-bound Hawaii, has lain idle since men rushed the dock last month and halted unloading of the fruit.

In Portland it was reported the Longshoremen were resentful of the Port commission's attitude. There was talk that grain from The Dalles area would not be loaded by Longshoremen at Longview, Wash.

International representative of the Longshoremen, said he had heard two grain cars from The Dalles were at Longview, but had not heard whether the local Longshore union there had taken any stand.

Two Prisoners Killed In Arizona Break

THEIR searchlights over the building and shadowy grounds. Road blocks were thrown up throughout the city.

The prisoners staged their break about 1:15 a. m. (MST). W. A. Millett, jailer, said Tatum asked him for aspirin. When he opened their cell door, the prisoners jumped him.

Locking Millett in the cell, the prisoners picked up an automatic pistol in the jail office and entered an elevator.

They got out on the second floor and broke a glass door. Corcoran, McEwen and Tatum started down the stairs to the ground floor.

Stowe, who had heard the breaking glass, came out of the record room to investigate.

"I started up the stairs and three of them jumped me," he said. "One had a gun and hit me on the head. I shot one. Then I saw one of them on the steps. I shot him."

Deputy Sheriff O. Z. Alford was shot in the mouth as he pushed through the door with broken glass. He returned the fire with a shotgun.

Caught in a barrage of tear gas, Dinzel McDonald and John Bridges were captured.

McDonald was awaiting trial on a forgery charge, Bridges for robbery.

KLAMATH FALLS, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Oregon's bird-hunting season is one day old. One man is dead.

Harvey McLaughlin, 26, Klamath Falls, was wounded fatally by a shotgun blast from a fellow hunter's gun yesterday.

Sgt. Earl Tichenor of the state police said McLaughlin was one of five hunters moving in a semi-circle through a field in the near-by midland area. When a pheasant burst out of the grass, someone fired. McLaughlin fell.

Tichenor said Robert Wright McFarland, Portland, admitted firing the shot. He said McFarland was not being held.

Indictment Of Russian Amtorg Adds To Tension

torg had collected "information for and reported information to Russia and had otherwise acted at the orders of the Russian government."

In the past three years, he asserted, Amtorg was told repeatedly to register under the Foreign Agents Registration act. The state department said it had sent a note to the Soviet embassy only six weeks ago officially calling attention to Amtorg's failure to register.

Needleman told the commission in New York that "there is no willfulness here. We have been discussing it with the department of justice for the past six months and wrote only recently and then this happened."

What form reprisals might take remained to be seen. There is no American organization in Moscow comparable to the Russian agency in New York.

As for the impact of the indictment on American-Russian diplomatic relations, the general feeling here seemed to be that while in past years it might have made bad matters worse, today relations can hardly be worse than they are and still exist.

Mental Health Worker Is Dated Here Monday

A guest in Roseburg Monday, Oct. 24, will be Melvin L. Murphy, executive director of the Mental Health Association of Oregon, who will speak on mental health aspects at a public meeting to which a special invitation has been issued to civic group health chairmen.

Under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's organization, this is Murphy's first visit to southern Oregon since he assumed duties as state head in September. A former faculty member of the Colorado University of Medicine, he served as supervisor of psychiatric social services in the famous Colorado Psychopathic hospital, noted for intensive treatment and a leader in the field of training psychiatric personnel.

Murphy, who is a native of Kansas, received his early training at Washburn university in Topeka and took his masters degree at Denver University School of Social Work. He brings a wide and intensive knowledge of mental health to aid him in the execution of his local duties. His training and experience include a session as executive secretary of the Charlotte, N. C., mental hygiene society where he supervised a mental health clinic in conjunction with the association work; public welfare work in the Kansas state department of child welfare and boys' supervisor in the Denver orphan home.

He holds active membership in many professional groups, among them the American Association of Psychiatric social workers, the National Mental Health Foundation and the National Rehabilitation association.

Church To Show Famous Movie

Still shown some 1,500 times each year, Cecil B. DeMille's "The King of Kings," produced in 1927, will be shown at the First Christian church tomorrow and Monday at 7:30 p. m.

The film portrays the life of Christ. Since it was produced, there has not been a week the picture has not been shown somewhere. Missionaries throughout the world use hundreds of 16 mm prints of the film. In all, 600,000,000 have seen it.

Missionaries in India still replace their old prints every three years; one of them reports having shown the picture to 125,000 persons. A theatre owner in Bombay recently asked permission to synchronize the picture with Indian music. Missionaries have taken the prints, in canoes, up the Ganges and the Congo. The picture was shown to soldiers in the Aleutians, North Africa, Iran, New Guinea, in 62 army camps in the United States and in one Jap concentration camp, during the war.

When the photoplay opened in New York City in 1927 the late Alexander Woolcott wrote: "It is my guess that 'The King of Kings' will girdle the globe, and that the multitudes will still be flocking to see it in 1947." Woolcott was right.

officer's training conference in Ashland Sunday. An invitation was extended the board members to attend the induction ceremony planned by these two groups.

This ceremony will be held in the Methodist church at 3 p. m. Sunday, November 6. The public is invited. A sponsoring committee, composed of parents, a minister, school principle, member of the "Y" board, advisers of the two clubs, and some other adults who have showed interest, is being formed. The committee will have its first meeting Monday night at the high school.

A report was made on the district boys work committee meeting held in Medford, Sept. 26. Four main points brought out at this meeting were: (1) Officers training conference—which is being held in Ashland; (2) district Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y council—which will meet in conjunction with the district work committee and give each club a chance to make suggestions through the members themselves; (3) that a youth conference be held similar to the group gatherings formerly carried on. Any youth could attend and all would be encouraged to come. Several inspiring speeches would be given and discussion held and (4) selection of a member to the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs who may possibly be sent to the national Hi-Y conference.

Sheriff Mike Elliott Recalled From Office

Within weeks after he was eligible for recall, petitions were out against him.

Changes Made His opponents charged his campaign mis-statements and his later actions proved him unfit for office. Elliott asserted professional politicians were trying to remove him because he wanted to expose graft.

He will leave office, possibly Monday, when the official count of the election is announced. County commissioners are pledged to name a Democrat in his place.

In private life, Elliott will have at least one feud left. That is with the Oregonian, the newspaper he sued for $500,000, charging he had been libeled.

Elliott conceded his defeat last night when 80 percent of the votes were reported, commenting, "I gave the people of Multnomah county the best I had. I am sorry they felt it wasn't enough."

Elliott was the 25th official recalled in Oregon since the recall act went into effect in 1908. He was the first here since 1932.

Old Band Uniforms Are Wanted By Junior High

Any old band uniforms packed away in trunks or hung up in closets?

Clyde Moore, band music instructor at Roseburg junior high school, made an appeal today to former high school students who may have kept their old band uniforms to return these to the school.

He explained the junior band is in need of uniforms. The 31-piece musical organization is wearing the orange coats and hats which the senior high school band wore before being re-outfitted in new black- and orange uniforms.

About seven of the junior bandmen do not have uniforms, Moore explained. If any former bandmen checked out uniforms without returning them, they are asked to return them to the school.

Moore said the junior band wishes to turn out for school athletic events and cannot do so until all the musicians are outfitted.
