Cordon's Bill To OKd By Truman

President Truman has signed into law the measure to allow states increased federal aid for airport construction this year. The allotments by the Civil Aeronautics administration may be as much as 47.26 percent more than originally made available for the rear.

The bill, by Senator Cordon (R-bre), amends the existing fed-eral airport aid law. It passed longress after seven months of Figures for the inree Facinc Northwest states, with the in-creased figure for 1950 under the new law listed second, included: Oregon, $534,714 and $786,509; Washington $485,737 and $716,286; Idaho $418,074 and $616,508.

Idano $415.074 and $616.508.

The legislation provides that all unobligated previous airport aid funds for the 1947, 1948 and 1949 construction program revert to the treasury within 90 days. They would then be redistributed for use this fiscal year, ending next June 30.

'UNIFICATION CAN WORK'-Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins (left) listens intently as Gen. Dwight D. Elsenhower, former Army chief of staff, tells the House Armed Services Committee in Washington that he believes unification can work. He said differences of opinion were bound to occur and that "we're expecting perfection too quickly." Gen. Collins also testified, stating that he wanted to dispel any fears that there was an "overall plot" between the Army and Air Force to "eliminate or drastically reduce the effectiveness of both the Marine Corps and the fleet air arm."
