

Illegal Strikes Hit By Official Of Teamsters Union

SAN JOSE, Calif., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Taking roundhouse swings at "illegal jurisdictional strikes," and at "enemies in and outside labor ranks," Dave Beck of Seattle opened the 13th Western conference of his AFL teamsters' union Monday.

Beck is executive vice president of the union. About 300 union members from 11 Western states are here for the conference, which runs through Friday.

"We follow the constitution of the American Federation of Labor which provides for settling all jurisdictional grievances," Beck declared. "We want peaceful settlement of all these disputes or there will be civil war."

Beck mentioned plans to remove some of the production units of Boeing Aircraft Co. from Seattle to Wichita.

"All the resources of the teamsters will be used to keep the Boeing plant in operation in Seattle," he said, "despite efforts of the Army, Navy, or anyone else."

Beck referred to Communists as "crawling filth, perverting the American labor movement and seeking to destroy the free enterprise system."

He said the AFL teamsters had spent $500,000 in California to organize cannery workers, and had paid $200,000 in legal fees in the long battle of the CIO.

At another point Beck declared "I will not under any condition recognize an illegal picket line, because if we do, we are dishonorable people."

Dillard

By ROSA HEINBACK
This community has watched with great interest the growth of an attractive new home on First street and Highway 99, in the Ford's addition of Dillard, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Middlestadt are the owners and are now finishing their farm-style home.

Middlestadt is yard foreman at the Roseburg Lumber company mill, Dillard branch, and after hours works at his new home. The Middlestadts plan to have it finished enough to move into by the first of December.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Appleyard have recently returned from an interesting three-day trip to Portland, where they attended the Advance for Christ convention of three states, California, Oregon and Idaho. Later they visited Mrs. Appleyard's nephews, and old neighbors in Portland.

The Apadenska Camp Fire group of Dillard met at their guardian's home Thursday night for their weekly meeting. They planned their Halloween Party to be held Oct. 29 and their booth at the P.T.A. carnival at the school house. They also worked on their head bands. The next meeting will be held the night of Oct. 27. Those present were: Betty Ann Anderson, Dorothy Davis, Gain Gray, Lois Fosback, Opal Colvin, Marvel Covey, Bonnie Wells and their guardian, Mrs. Lila McKean.

Miss Betty Jean Post, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Post, who was injured in an automobile while returning from the football game a few weeks ago, is improving. She will still have her injured ankle in a cast for the next few weeks, so would be "very glad" to have her friends call and see her.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Buell spent an enjoyable three-day trip to Portland on business and pleasure. Mr. Buell was looking after new farming equipment for his haying enterprise in Dillard and Happy valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Post and Mrs. Johnny Green and her daughter of Dillard spent the weekend in Portland and Corvallis. Mr. Post's sister, Mrs. Parker, returned with them and is spending the week here visiting.

Mrs. Stanford Buell and Mrs. Stanley Paroz spent Thursday in Eugene on business.

BAD NEWS FOR IDLERS

SEATTLE.—(AP)—Physically fit men on the public welfare rolls here may start "working out" their assistance grants next month.

County Commissioner William H. Sears said Nov. 1 is scheduled to start Nov. 1. The men would work on county roads the amount of public assistance they receive.

The plan already has been instituted in some counties.

Triangle Affair Terminated In Double Suicide

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Two women loved Joseph Fish, 38.

There was his wife, Jean, the mother of his four children. There was Caroline Kageler, 33, a pretty brunette with whom he went to live last May.

Police told this story: Sunday night Caroline Kageler called Jean Fish and proposed a triangle love bargain: Joseph would return to his wife provided Caroline Kageler could see him once a week.

"No!" cried Jean Fish. "All right," said Caroline Kageler. "If I can't have him and you want him back, I'll send him back to you—in a box."

For 12 hours Jean Fish frantically tried to find where her husband and Caroline Kageler were living. Then police called and told her.

Both were found dead on the floor of a Queens apartment Monday. Four gas jets were turned on. Fish was naked. Caroline Kageler wore a light blue negligee. A suicide pact, the detectives said.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 27.—(AP)—A Federal jury Monday convicted Oakland automobile dealer Phil Davis of negligence in the speedboat accident on Lake Tahoe in which 14-year-old Imogene Wittsche lost both feet.

The jury of eight men and four women brought in its verdict after one hour's deliberation.

White Supremacy Teaching Promise Draws Request

WASHINGTON, Miss., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Jefferson military college has qualified for a $50,000,000 bequest by agreeing to teach white supremacy.

The school's announcement last night came from A. J. Armstrong, business manager and son of George Armstrong, benefactor of the 102-year-old prep institute.

The college declined to publicize its enrollment, but estimates place it at between 60 and 80 cadets.

Young Armstrong said his father had notified the Board of Trustees he would give the school all of his mineral rights in Mississippi upon certain conditions.

These conditions, which Armstrong said the school had accepted, include one which called for establishment of a curriculum devoted chiefly to "the constitution, Christianity and the superiority of the Anglo-Saxon and Latin-American races."

The young Armstrong said the endowment included three producing oil wells.

One of New York's first television stations used the experimental call letters of W2xb. That was in 1928.
