Dream Community Designed By The Poor Man's Philosopher

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—This is becoming a planned world. In peace as in war, everything is now expected to go "according to plan." But whether the world of tomorrow will be a fair or foul place to live in depends on who does the planning. Too often the designs may be drawn by engineers or statesmen who have lost touch with the common man.

Therefore I have gone out and found out what the people want, and, based on what they said, I drew up a blueprint of the ideal dream community of the future. I hereby offer it free to any politician who wants to use it for his master plan.

It is a place where people smoke but chimneys can't. There are no loud noises. Any one who honks is fined $10,000 and given a year in jail.

It has two sidewalks with a wide lane of grass between them. One sidewalk is for people; the other is for people taking dogs and cats for a stroll.

Bars stay open 24 hours a day. None has singing waiters and non allows shoe lace or razor blade peddlers to banger the serious drinkers. Each bar has two rooms—one with television, one without.

In-Laws Set Apart

There are two main sections of the community, separated by a 24-foot-high wall studded with broken glass and having only a single entrance—heavily guarded. Young married couples dwell on one side, and their in-laws on the other. The in-laws have to be back in their own section by nightfall.

Everyone wears old clothes except on weekly "dress up" nights. No female over ten years of age is allowed out in public wearing ballet slippers that make her walk like a duck.

All except executives work four hours a day, five days a week. Executives work as much or as little as they want to—as they do now.

There are two Sundays in each week, one for reading the Sunday newspapers, one for going to church.

Husbands have a night a week out with the boys, wives a night out with the girls, and both must go out together on "dress up" night for an evening on the town. The penalty for being a bachelor: you have to act as baby sitter—and take a two-month course in diapering and bottle feeding so mother will know her infant is in trained hands.

There are no subways. Taxis are required to travel in pairs. If someone grabs the cab you're racing for—you climb into the spare.

Every square mile of the city has a park. There are no "keep off the grass" signs, and every park has a gentle cow which the children can milk in the park. No buildings are more than four stories high, and each has a private elevator for every worker therein. By law every man's room has a couch—just as women's rest rooms do now. Don't men get tired? Executives must use a separate men's room so they can't frown on employees stealing a nap after lunch.

The present weekly paycheck is issued every day at 5 p.m. Well, there's my dream community. It will cost a silo full of money to build, and I don't know where to find the silo.

But if we're going to have a planned world, let's don't go about it in a half-way fashion. Let's give the people what they really want.

Injunction Asked In Union Dispute With Cement Co.

PORTLAND, Oct. 27—(AP)—

An injunction ordering Salem area AFL unions to stop interfering with a cement firm at Independence is sought by the NLRB.

The National Labor Relations board asked the court yesterday to ban the council's "unfair list" and prohibit certain work stoppages until a decision is reached on an unfair labor practice charge before the NLRB.

NLRB attorney Joseph Machman said the Valley Concrete company, Independence, has been the target of union activity. He said AFL Teamsters demanded recognition by employees but had never been certified as the agent for the workers. He said strikes and unfair lists were used to induce employees of other firms to refuse to handle the firm's cement.

Machman said two state highway bridge jobs, a Willamette span at Independence and a smaller job near Monmouth, and a Dallas school building were delayed because of the union activity.

The unfair labor charge before the NLRB was filed by the association of cement manufacturers, of which the Independence company is a member. Federal Judge Claude McCulloch gave the unions until Nov. 22 to answer the NLRB injunction petition.

Defendants, in addition to the Trade and Labor council, are the Building and Construction Trades council of Salem and AFL unions for teamsters, cement workers and carpenters.

Each bidder should ascertain from the respective District Forester's office the location of the road right-of-way covered by such agreement, relating to the tract upon which he wishes to bid. RICHLAND, Wash., (AP)—Janitors of the Richland school system have asked the school board for a 40-hour week.

A spokesman for the janitors said their group is about the only one left here that doesn't have a 40-hour week. He added that it was not uncommon for janitors to work as much as 14 hours on Sunday for a flat $10 payment.
