CAMP FIRE GROUPS ELECT OFFICERS, ENJOY VARIED ACTIVITIES

Tawasi Camp Fire girls met with Mrs. Lucy Osterman recently and elected officers. After a business meeting games were enjoyed and refreshments served by Orrel and Lucy Osterman.

Officers elected were Shirley Ann Tenneson, president; Susan Snyder, vice president; Janet Church, secretary; Marlene Sommers, treasurer; Barbara Wilson, flag bearer. Other members and guests were Marjorie Cassell, Sandra Hayes, Salley Carew and Lucy and Orrel Osterman.

The fifth grade Camp Fire group at Riverside school which meets in the morning enjoyed a hike recently for a requirement of their trail-seekers rank. The group was interviewed on Man On The Street and each girl donated to the polo drive.

A trail lunch was eaten in the city park and by the flip of a coin the girls hiked around blocks finding items for their nature craft books. Later they were conducted through Patterson's bakery.

Those participating were Janet Lewis, Jacklyn Warren, Kathleen Tripp, LaVelle Gladwill, Patricia Niday, Sandra Platter, Trunette Phillips, Helen White, Lila Dudley, Robin Springer, Darlene Hodson, Judy Riley, Connie Bridges and the leader, Mrs. Gladwill.

An impressive ceremonial was performed recently by the Shutanka and Tawasi Camp Fire Girls at Riverside school lunchroom for the Sunny Bluebirds who "flew up" into Camp Fire. The wholed call by Mrs. Gladwill was answered as the groups marched into their council fire circle. Susan Snyder and Barbara Ellison acted as flag bearers and the Bluebirds were escorted to form an outer circle by their assistant leader, Mrs. Romine.

Around a fascimile fire of logs the seven blue candles were lighted representing the seven wishes of the Bluebirds. The flame was transferred by the guardians taper to the three red candles representing Camp Fire "wholed" and the Bluebirds were invited into the inner circle and

Halloween Dance Gladdens Patients At Vets Hospital

By "TICK" MALARKY
By special bus from Eugene came 21 members of that city's American Legion auxiliary unit to sponsor a Halloween dancing party for Roseburg Veterans hospital patients. The party was held Monday evening in the recreation hall.

At the program's conclusion, Master of Ceremonies Del Jewett, mopped his brow and opined: "I've been around the Grove about a dozen years, but this was one of the biggest and best ever. Now, where did all these lovely ladies come from?"

Eugene's delegation was reinforced by nearly 100 girls from Roseburg and adjacent communities. Before the strains of "Home Sweet Home" were played by Lou Franco and his Happy Valley Cowboys, dozens of operating personnel were peering from the gallery and through the doors watching Del put the "Gravybeards" of World War I and the "kids" of II through fancy paces with partners of their choice.

During the supper intermission, a stage curtain was drawn and five minutes later Mable McRae's hospital orchestra stood at attention in smocks of blue and gold—VA colors—a gift from the Eugene auxiliary. Elizabeth McGerson, Eugene, made the speech of presentation and Nette "mick-ey" Ulrich accepted.

Cider by the gallon, d-nuts by the dozens and pounds of candy were put away as the witches, goblins and ghosts gazed solemnly down from lofty perches among the corn shocks, apples and pumpkins. Fall's season trimmings were the work of sisters Ricketts, McKay and Ulrich.

Betty Coulter at the O. T. shop directed the cutting of designs. Following are the names of the Eugene delegation: Emma Newell, Beth Sims, Minnie Cackie, Jean Battorff, Nola Moon, Florence Hardie, Carol Hardie, Alice Woodruff, Margie Woodruff, Elizabeth Morgenson, Elvira Hughes, Kay Hodges, Mary Conner, Margaret Taylor, Phyllis Walkly, Leona Walkly, Louise Carmiencke, Miriam Bond, Rosemary Thorpe, Opal Sherman and Elsie Roe.

DISC JOCKEY HURT
PORTLAND, Oct. 27 (AP)—Delmar M. (Sammy) Taylor, announcer and disc jockey for radio station KWJJ, was injured early Wednesday as his car failed to make a curve and crashed into a tree.

He suffered a leg injury, cut lips and possible rib fractures.

given their certificates and Camp Fire ties.

The seven crafts were explained by the Shutanka group and the handsign given. Refreshments were served by the Camp Fire girls to the honored guests, parents and friends.

Bluebirds flying up were Marjorie Lee Dixie Sall, LaVelle Gladwill, Pat Niday, Sonja Rudemethkin, Janice Romine, Ann Greenquist, Kathleen Mehlhoff, Judy Riley, Carlene Felker, Trunette Phillips and Darlene Hodson.

Camp Fire Girls taking part in the ceremony were Joan Swappes, Dorothy Fowler, Kathryn Jenny, Arlice Carlson, Chloee Hancock, Blanche Nichols, Carol Kinch, Pearl McIntyre, Gail Groshong, Sharon Goodman, Susan Snyder, Barbara Wilson, Lucy and Orrel Osterman, Sandra Hayes and Janet Church.

Other guests and leaders enjoying the ceremony were Helen White, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sall, Mrs. Ed Hayes and son, Mrs. May Horton, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. R. Church, Mrs. George Niday, Mrs. Carlson and daughter, Claudia, Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. Groshong, Mrs. Romine, Mrs. G. Osterman and Mrs. Gladwill.
