Pineapple Goes South By Railway

THE DALLES, Ore., Oct. 31—(AP)—Five empty boxcars were on a riverfront dock here today, waiting for loading work to resume in the five-week-old canned pineapple dispute.

Union Pacific railroad officials climbed into a shifting engine cab Saturday to spot the five cars on the track and pull away five loaded cars that Brotherhood trainmen earlier had refused to handle.

A freight train later picked up the cars and hauled them to Portland. There they were transferred to the Southern Pacific and sent southward to San Jose, Calif., canneries.

Police were investigating rock-weighted warning notes tossed on the porches of railroad workers last week. The notes said "hands off the strikes. Stay out of strike-bound area. You recognize those picket line or you won't want us to call on you again."

These were in words clipped from newspapers and taped to brown wrapping paper.

One was thrown on the porch of Engineer W. W. Caldwell. Another was found at the home of Engine Foreman Jack Davis.

The reference to a ghost picket line referred to a court order prohibiting CIO Longshore picketing. The pineapple was brought here by barge from Hawaii's strike-bound waterfront last month.

Tacoma Bandit Repeats Hold-Up

TACOMA, Oct. 31—(AP)—A slim, nervous bandit, apparently the same man who obtained $765 in a hold-up at Tacoma's New Yorker cafe last May 24, hit the place again last night to the tune of $546.

The man, unmasked except for a piece of adhesive tape across the bridge of his nose, approached the cafe's cashier, brandishing a pistol and telling her to "give me all the paper in the till."

When the cashier, Palma McGowan, was apparently too slow in opening the drawer he commanded: "faster—faster!"

Police, called to another cafe "robbery" at the same moment in an apparent decoy move, said they believe from the description the man was the same who held up the New Yorker last spring.

Cancer Society Leader Sees Hope For Control

NEW YORK—(AP)—Some of America's leading medical authorities now see hope in the future for complete control of cancer.

Dr. Alton Ochsner of New Orleans, elected president of the American Cancer society, said new discoveries indicate that eventually even advanced cancer can be controlled.

New developments in hormones and chemotherapy—the treatments of disease by chemicals—show great promise, he said.

His hopeful opinion was backed by Dr. Cornelius P. Rhoads, director of the Memorial Cancer center here, who said that five years of research suggest that chemicals may be the cancer solution.

All repeated, however, that these hopes are for the future and that there is yet no cancer "cure."

Dr. Ochsner succeeds Dr. C. C. Nesselrode as president.

Life Saving Youth Will Receive Boy Scout Medal

EUGENE, Oct. 31—(AP)—Leroy D. Mann, 13, who rescued a 13-year-old pal from drowning last June, is being honored with a Boy Scout gold medal.

Only four such medals were awarded throughout the country. Leroy, who lives in Lane county, was swimming with Gerald La Plant, 15, to a raft in a slough June 13. Gerald started to drown.

Leroy pulled him to the surface, loosened his death grip, floated him to shore on a loose plank, and revived him with artificial respiration.

DIAPERED FOR GAG

SOUTH PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 31—(AP)—A grown man in diapers—and nothing else—walked calmly along Main street early today.

It was just a gag, he told police. The towel, neatly pinned where his pants should have been, was a Halloween costume and he was wearing it home from a party.

Police speeded him home by patrol car.

Rural Phone Facilities Expansion Bill Signed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman has signed a bill authorizing a loan program to expand rural telephone facilities and said it will fill a long-felt need and "strengthen our private enterprise system."

The measure provides for loans on the same principle now used by the electrification administration which will administer the new law. Congress already has provided $25,000,000 to start the program.

"The need of our farm people for adequate telephone service at reasonable rates is second only to their need for dependable, low cost electricity," Mr. Truman said in a statement.

He said the importance of the new act is apparent because today only 40 percent of the nation's farms have any kind of telephone service.

Jaundice Cases Not Increased

No additional cases of yellow jaundice have been reported from the Glide area, Dr. E. J. Waincott, county health officer, said today. He and county health nurses were to go to Glide school this afternoon to complete the inoculations of those exposed to the disease.

Saturday, Dr. Waincott reported, there were 78 cases with 35 definitely diagnosed as jaundice, known medically as infectious hepatitis. Total of 497 persons had received the serum inoculations Friday evening.

Dr. Waincott and his assistants did not go to Glide Saturday afternoon, because of the difficulty in contacting 50 to 60 additional children who were to receive the inoculations. School buses were not operating and rural telephone lines were out of order.

Navy Will Be Reduced To Keep Within Budget

with the uproar over the dismissal of its top officer, Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, as its chief of staff.

Other Officers Face Trouble

Meantime, the possibility appeared that other Naval officers who fought the unification practices may be in for trouble.

It was reliably reported that the Navy inspector general's office had opened an investigation of "OP 23," a Navy term for operations Division 23. This group has been called a strategy center for the campaign to effect changes in unification policies.

Aides of the inspector general, Rear Admiral Allen R. McCann, were said to have taken over files of the group.

McCann's office apparently was acting under instructions from high-ups.

The little known OP 23 group officially is the organization, research and policy division of the office of the chief of naval operations. It is headed by Capt. A. A. Burke. The unit's listed duties cover a broad field permitting it wide latitude.

Vice President To Wed Mrs. C. S. Hadley gratulate the couple, while photographers' bulbs flashed.

"I certainly deserve to be congratulated," Barkley commented. "I regard myself as greatly honored by the announcement Mrs. Hadley has just made."

Met During Cruise

Barkley and Mrs. Hadley met last July 8 while she was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Clifford in Washington. Clifford was a presidential aide. The two were introduced during a cruise down the Potomac.

Mrs. Hadley's husband, who died in 1945 at the age of 42, was general counsel for the Washash Railroad Co. She has two daughters, Jane, 14, and Anne, 17, who is a student at Sophie Newcomb college, New Orleans.

Barkley is a widower. His wife, whom he married in 1903, died in 1947 in Washington. There were three children, David M. Barkley, Mrs. Max Truitt and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur. Mr. Truitt, wife of a nephew of the general.

The nation's No. 2 Democrat crossed party lines in his selection of a bride because Mrs. Hadley is—or was—known as a republican. In 1940 she worked at Wendell Willkie's campaign headquarters here.

Marshall Plan Nations Get American Warning

quantitative restrictions on the movements of goods, monetary barriers to the flow of payments, and, eventually, all tariffs are permanently swept away.

"The fact that we have in the United States a single market of 150,000,000 consumers has been indispensable to the strength and efficiency of our economy. The creation of a permanent, freely trading area, comprising 170,000,000 consumers in western Europe, would have a multitude of helpful consequences."

Hoffman's speech climaxed numerous recent demands that Europe do something more positive toward unification while the American aid program is still in effect.

As Hoffman spoke, the OEEC council had on its agenda a British proposal for all member states to eliminate trade quotas on 50 per cent of their commerce with other members.
