About 40 per cent of the Salvation Army's anticipated revenues in Roseburg during coming year will be derived from the Roseburg Community Chest, while support for other Salvation Army activities will come from the Oregon Chest. Dates of the Chest drive this year are Nov. 7 through Nov. 19.

Visiting India Premier Shopping With Thin Purse

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Window shopping in a land of plenty with a very thin international pocketbook. That's about the position of India's prime minister, Jawaharlal Nehru, on his tour of the United States. India is rich in rupees, Britain owes her a fortune in pounds sterling, but she is short of dollar credits.

Nehru has more than one thing in mind. He is appraising the American standard of prosperity, and probably judging how much of it would be practicable and desirable for his country. His tour brought him here last night for a three-day visit.

The Indian statesman is a bit paternal in his love of India and his people. He sees no reason why they should not be entitled to the best. He has experienced, now, the bounty that Americans enjoy. There can be little doubt that he will go home grimly determined that if Indians work for it, they can build a comparable economy—and that they shall work for it.

Nehru is a stubborn, never-give-up worker with a great capacity for firing enthusiasm. He is an impatient man, but a practical one.

Through most of his adult life he has been a man in a hurry. He explained: There is so much to do that every moment of his life must count. First he was working to free the people from British rule. Now that they are independent, he is working to free them from poverty and to win for them a place among the leading nations in the world. In his younger years—he is 59—he always ran up stairs, and usually sleeps only a few hours a night.

Nehru probably is the most practical idealist you could meet.

One Furniture Strike Settled But Another Starts

PORTLAND, Nov. 1.—(AP)—One major furniture company resumed operations Monday after a strike but another was closed by a walkout.

About 70 upholsterers struck at the Superbilt Manufacturing Co. Their picket line was respected by AFL furniture workers, teamsters, and warehousemen. About 125 were employed.

Cecil Ruprecht, business agent for the upholsterers' union, said the strike resulted from the discharge of two women employees because they refused to conform to "unapproved shop rules." A management spokesman said the women were fired because they "failed to cooperate with the firm's policies." He said the management offered to arbitrate but that the union demanded that the women be reinstated.

About 550 workmen returned to work at the Doernbecher Manufacturing Co. plant after settlement of a dispute that halted operations much of the time since September 30.
