The annual Junior Red Crossen rollment campaign was launched Tuesday in Douglas county schools, according to Miss Ruth Swinney, local chairman. The campaign will continue through Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Miss Swinney, formerly principal of Fullerton school and long time Douglas county school said.

He was replying to a question propounded at a dinner meeting with members of the San Francisco Press club.

The magazine United Nations World reported recently that a group of UN members contemplated asking Nehru to serve as mediator. A reporter asked the prime minister whether he would accept such an invitation. "Such raik is entirely unreal," he said.

Nehru replied with an explosive "no" to a question whether he "would look with favor" on an invitation to participate in a non-

Rent Decontrol Issue Confronts Portland

PORTLAND, Nov. 3—(P)—
A public hearing on the proposal to decontrol rents here will be held all day tomorrow and into the night in order to accommodate all prospective witnesses.

The city auditor's office reported petitions on the issue have been filed from many interested groups. Letters have been pouring into the mayor's office increasingly the past week. Most of these oppose decontrol.

The hearing was set after the Oregon Apartment House association, whose members are operators of large rental properties here and elsewhere in the state, proposed decontrol.

Bad Boys Outnumber Bad Girls, State Board Told

William Ryan, state supervisor of institutions, gave that infor-mation to the state board of con-rol.

Ryan said there are more tough girls at the state Hill-crest school for girls than there ever had been before, even though the total number of girls in the school has not increased. The school has 55 girls, compared with the 130 boys at the State School For Boys at Woodburn.

The subject came up when the board voted to take two girls out of the school and send them
