Camp Fire Girls Get New Ideas At National Meet

Douglas county's delegates to the National Camp Fire convention held in Portland last week returned to their homes filled with new ideas and a better understanding of the workings of the Camp Fire organization.

The delegates, members of the council and the leaders' association, attended various workshops concerning their fields. A new Bluebird program for young Camp Fire Girls was explained and Council members had an opportunity to participate in panel discussions, discuss problems of their localities and meet council members from cities throughout the United States.

Outstanding at the conference according to Miss Barbara Lou Kit, executive director of the Roseburg council, was the pageant presented by 1,000 Camp Fire Girls in the Portland area. This was based on "The Camp Fire Story" and was indeed an inspiring feature of the week's conference, she said.

Marie Allen, national executive of Camp Fire and Margaret Runbeck, authoress, were featured speakers on the program. Also speaking was Ben Hazen who discussed public relations. He heads the Community Chest in Portland.

A particular interest to local residents will be the statement that "Roseburg was the success story of Camp Fire" at the council. This concerned the fact that the local council last year, built from the ground up Camp Tulle on the Umpqua river with the aid of the community. The project was brought before the delegates at the national meet as the success story in the national organization.

Mrs. James Conn of Melrose, past president of the Roseburg council, was named a delegate to the national board and will vote on all motions pertaining to the local council.

The program was featured with banquets and luncheons throughout the week. Theme of the convention was "Youth, Outpost of Democracy."

last week by her two sisters, who drove down from Washington. They were Mrs. Frank Lowe from Montesano and Mrs. C. L. Westenhiser and daughter, Veronica, of Aberdeen.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Swanson entertained with a Chinese dinner at their home in honor of the birthday of Don Martyn. Covers were paid for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bratton and son, Eugene Paul; Larry Darst, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Willis, Miss Jennie Lind Swanson, Miss Myrtle Plaster, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Martyn and the host and hostess.

Mr. Roger Nickerson was operated on Monday morning at the Mercy hospital for tonsils and adenoids. He is recovering nicely at his home on Willis creek.

Mrs. Lulu Post, who has been confined to her home all last week with the flu and an ear infection, is improving satisfactorily, it is reported.

Mrs. C. Fosback was visited over the weekend by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Long, and little daughter from Port Orford, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hixson of Eugene were weekend guests at the O. D. McAllister residence.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Crafton of Roseburg joined them for a Sunday morning breakfast.

Phil Nordling and the Rev. Mr. Epple, United Luther pastor, of Eugene, were Sunday afternoon guests at the Paul Hult home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Krewson of Myrtle Point visited Saturday with Mr. Krewson's sister, Mrs. O. O. McAllister, and brother, Tom Krewson.

Revival of Old-Style Religion In Los Angeles Labeled Record Breaker

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2. — Old-style religion is sweeping the city of the Angels with an evangelistic show overshadowing even Billy Sunday.

Since it started six week ago, more than 200,000 from the city's 2,000,000 population have filed into a circus tent on the fringe of downtown Los Angeles. And they're still pouring in at the rate of 10,000 every night.

They come to hear the preachments of a dynamic, handsome young college president named Billy Graham. Churmen say he's started the greatest religious revival in the history of Southern California.

Graham's oratory is eloquent; his doctrines are home-spun. From the singing, shouting multitudes, thousands have hit the sawdust trail and announced publicly their decision to return to Christ.

One of them was a brilliant track star at the University of Southern California before the war. His name is Low Aamperrini. An Air Force captain, he crashed in the Pacific, spent 17 days on a raft, then lived through months in a Japanese prison camp.

"It is difficult for anyone who came through the things I did to forget God, but I did," Zamperrini testified.

Another convert is Stuart Hamblen, popular cowboy crooner and sportsman, son of a Methodist minister. He stepped to the pulpit to announce that he'll sell his racing stable.

"I will keep El Lobo, but only for sentimental reasons," Hamblen said. "I will never race him again." El Lobo, dubbed "the people's choice," won the $50,000 San Antonio stakes at Santa Anita in 1947.

Hamblen's sentiments are typical: "I've done practically everything everybody else has done. I've been a sinner."

Graham is 30, nephew of North Carolina's Senator "Frank" Graham and president of Little Northwestern Bible college in Indianapolis. He wears garish ties, argyle socks and an irresistible grin.
