India Won't Be Tied To Any Bloc, Nehru Declares

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 3.—(AP)—India's Prime Minister Nehru lashed out last night at those who ask which side he favors in the cold war.

"It seems to me these are very crude questions and very naive questions," Nehru declared in a speech. And again he told "the world he does not intend to 'tie' his newly freed nation to any bloc in international power politics.

"We cannot become just a camp follower," the Indian statesman added.

India, he said, by keeping clear of entanglements holds the confidence of neighboring Asian countries, including Communist-plagued Burma, and is "accepted as a disinterested advisor."

"Am I going to lose the very special space I've got and be tacked onto some group?" he demanded.

Asia, he said, is shaking off the fetters of foreign rule, only to learn that independence is "no freedom at all" unless it brings the people at least the necessities of life.

Ferment in the East, he said, can be settled by sympathetic help but not by forceful means.

He did not mention Communism specifically, but said hungry men "will look anywhere that promises relief."

Earlier in the evening, in another speech on his good will tour, the prime minister had declared "no part of Asia is going to be won over by military or financial means. We would not sell our souls for financial help."
