

Jayvees' Tilt Won, 18-14, By Myrtle Point

Visitors' Touchdown In Last Three Minutes Of Play Decides Battle

The Junior Varsity Warriors ended their season Saturday—a season disastrous to the win-loss record, but highly profitable from the standpoint of experience gained—with an 18-14 loss to the Myrtle Point Jayvees.

Until the final few minutes of the game, it looked to be the Warriors' second win of the season. But with less than three minutes left in the game, a Myrtle Point pass play—good for 45 yards and a touchdown—put the visitors ahead. Up to that time, the Roseburg Jayvees were protecting a 14-12 lead.

The loss was the sixth in seven starts for the Warriors—hardly an enviable record. But Coach Norm West took a different view of the season, pointing out that every man on the Roseburg Junior Varsity squad saw action in every game this year. That policy, which often sacrifices games won for experience gained, is new to Roseburg grid teams this year and is a part of the overall plan to provide the high school varsity squad with veteran candidates at the opening of coming grid seasons.

Paposes Post Victory
The Junior high school Paposes Babes was the only local team to salvage a win from this football weekend, trouncing Cottage Grove youngsters 31-14 on Flinley field Saturday.

The entire Babes squad, composed largely of seventh graders with a sprinkling of small eighth graders, was praised by Coach Eddie Wyatt for the good teamwork shown. Wyatt said tackling was good and effective blocking gave Roseburg backfield men a chance to go for long gains.

Trailing 14-12 at the end of the first half, the Babes took the cue from the high school game Friday night to come back strong in the last half. Most of the Babes' scoring came on off-tackle plays, with one of the touchdowns the result of a kick-off runback.

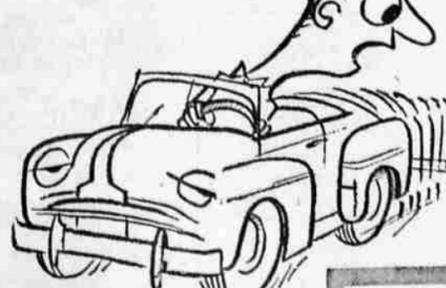

Coach Wyatt said his players will continue to practice this week, with the hope that tentative plans for another game will materialize. Pointing out the difficulty in scheduling games for his seventh grade crew, Wyatt said very few schools near here have teams in that age group.

A lack of interest has made attendance at these games very small. This lack of ticket receipts, said Wyatt, makes financing of this team a difficult proposition. Inter-city rivalry thus held to a minimum because of the expense involved, he said.

A light year means a distance of about six trillion miles.

Roseburg Indians Rated By Coach As Better Than Team That Won Friday Night Game

Roseburg's Friday night loss to a highly-favored Grants Pass football team elicited comment from many quarters, but none was quite as pertinent as the post-game words of Coach Cecil Sherwood.

Coquille Victor Over Sutherlin

Sutherlin high school surprised many of the experts Saturday by scoring twice against Coquille, an AA school, but lost by a one-sided 46-13 margin in a football game played on the Sutherlin home field.

School Supt. William Riddleberger reported the Sutherlin team was outplayed during the entire contest by the older, more experienced Coquille Red Devils.

Playing their first year of 11-man football, Sutherlin failed to play heads-up ball during the game and couldn't seem to plug the gaps in their forward wall, opened by a fast-charging Coquille line.

Coquille's weak pass defense was used to advantage by the Sutherlin team, with one score coming on a Wally Beamer-to-Steve Danchock throw and the other set up by passing.

Coquille scores came on end around and line plays, a completed pass and a pass interception.

Four Are Knifed In Football Game Riot In Detroit

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A thousand howling, fist-swinging fans poured from the stands last night and broke up a hotly contested high school football game with a riot in which three persons were knifed.

Two football players were knocked unconscious. A policeman was slightly injured. Scores were battered and bruised.

Fighting between players in the final minutes of the game between Melvindale and River Rouge schools set off the riot.

Passions had risen to fever pitch as Melvindale struggled to overcome a one-touchdown advantage held by its old rival. Both teams were unbeaten.

Mrs. Viola Higgins, 34, a Negro, was in serious condition at Wayne county hospital with a stab wound in the back. Her husband, Branch, 44, was held on a charge of felonious assault.

After the fighting broke up in the stadium, other battles broke out in the streets.

Higgins said a gang of white youths pulled him and his wife from their car a block from the stadium.

Although the game was never completed, River Rouge was awarded a 7-0 victory.

Uncertainty Marks Race For Rose Bowl

California Bears Must Still Battle Oregon And Stanford To Win Entry

By RUSS NEWLAND
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Double trouble loomed today for the undefeated California Bears in their drive toward the coast conference football title and the Rose Bowl.

Lynn Waldorf's Californians face Oregon this weekend and Stanford the following Saturday to close out the league schedule.

The Bears—only undefeated team in the league—outscored Washington State 35-14, in unimpressive fashion last week. The meeting with Oregon will be a tough one, in spite of the latter's spotty record. Oregon hasn't forgotten that California last year refused to consider a playoff when the two teams tied for the conference title.

In the voting for the Rose Bowl representative, California was selected. That still ranks Oregon. The Webfoots who lost 27-28 to Washington last week, will invade the Bear lair pitched high.

Stanford popped into the conference championship picture with a loud bang. The Indians finally put their potentially powerful game together to pulverize the favored Southern California Trojans, 34-13. This is the same U.S.C. team that frolic running California had such a difficult time defeating, 16-10.

As a result of Stanford's sensational upset win, the conference title may be up for decision when the Indians tackle California in the "big game" at Palo Alto, Nov. 19. The expectation is that California will turn back Oregon, and Stanford will defeat Idaho.

Stanford has the easier chore. Idaho's disappointing season in the conference was cut short when it was beaten by Oregon State, 25-35.

Another team still in the running is the University of California at Los Angeles, with four league wins to one defeat. Stanford, with three victories, lost a conference contest to U.C.L.A., 7-14. California's eight-game win streak includes five in the circuit, and one was over U.C.L.A., 35-21.

OSC To Face Michigan State
The Rose Bowl race, therefore, was still uncertain as the leading teams swung into the last two weeks of play. U.C.L.A. takes an improved Washington Saturday and will have to be at peak form to remain in the running. The UCLAs had a layoff last week.

Oregon State, which now has its wing back formations functioning in winning style, entertains Michigan State at Pullman, Saturday. The Oregon State attack is patterned after the University of Michigan offense. Whether it is potent enough to outclass Michigan State is questionable, particularly after the latter's good, if losing showing, against Notre Dame 21-34.

Washington's comeback, after six losses in a row, heartened its followers. The Huskies matched Oregon touchdown for touchdown. Halfback Jim Rosenzweig accounted for the one-point margin of victory by placekicking all four conversion tallies. Oregon's Chet Daniels, who had kicked 17 straight, missed after his team's initial score.

More Than 1,000 Elk Killed In Special Shoot

YAKIMA, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The first three days of a combined special elk shoot and the regular season took a toll of more than 1,000 elk in the Yakima-Kittitas herd district, game supervisor Fred Van Arsdol reported.

The special shoot, in which 3,750 cow elk permits were granted, was designed to cut the herd from 6,000 to 3,000 animals to ward off possible repetition of last year's invasion of lowland farm and orchard land.

Weaver Defeats Dusette; Atlas Disables Myers

George Dusette's vulnerable leg lost him the title attempt again to Buck Weaver before a house of standing-room-only Saturday night at the armory. One of the finest cards ever featured in the Roseburg ring was put on by Elton Owen, matchmaker.

In the opener, a 20-minute, one fall affair, newcomer Jimmy Gonzales whipped Pete Bartu in 11 minutes with a spectacular new hold, the "Iron Cross."

"The Great Atlas" was featured in the next bout against tall Carl Myers. Atlas immediately became unpopular with the fans by parading around and showing off his fancy physique. In the first few minutes of the match, it looked like Myers was in for a bad beating, as Atlas threw him around the ring at will, but Myers finally started punching on his own and got back into the running for the match. Atlas won the first fall with a punishing full-nelson, which Myers held out against for a long while before giving up, considering Atlas' huge arms and shoulders. Referee Elton Owen climbed into the ring and announced that Myers was unable to come back for the second fall, with a vertebrae out of place and the match was awarded to Atlas.

Atlas got the microphone and started to make an announcement to the crowd about his body-building course, but he was drowned out by boos for about ten minutes and finally gave up and left the ring.

Freak Show Amazes
The "India Rubber Man" put on a show that had the fans open-mouthed and astounded. First, he dislocated both arms and wrapped them around his neck so that with his left arm he could scratch on his right side. Another great feat was making his right arm longer than his left, by a foot. Then the incredible man jumped rope on one foot, while the other was wrapped around his neck. Then he brought out a 11-3/4 inch hoop that he couldn't even get his foot through while it was sitting flat on the mat, and worked his whole body through the small sphere by dislocating arms, back, legs and hips. This performance dazed the fans, but the next one really was a dilly. The rubber man put on an act, dislocated his back and turned clear around from his waist on up. He was waiking one way and looking another. This was the finale to the show.

Dusette Loses By Leg
The main event was a thriller with Weaver finally winning out over Dusette's weak leg. Weaver's famous backward leap for the neck cracker backfired on him in the first fall. Dusette was off guard, at least he must have looked off guard to Weaver, and Buck tried that flying backward leap. He ended up in a full-nelson as Dusette had grabbed him easily when he came back. Dusette won the first fall with the full-nelson in 22 minutes.

Weaver came back in the second fall and began working on Dusette's weak leg and finally after a series of leg leverage locks, Dusette gave up to Weaver's furious leg stomps. Dusette had a mighty so'le leg when he left the ring, and it was still painful when he appeared for the final. Weaver went right to work on it and in a short time he had dashed out so much punishment to the leg that Dusette gave up to a leg leverage lock.

Texas College Halfback Still Tops Grid Scorers

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Little McMurtry College of Abilene, Tex., today still pointed to halfback Brad Rowland as the top individual scorer of college football.

Instead of weakening in the stretch as the season nears its end, the consistent Rowland continues to widen the gap over his closest pursuer, Bill Young of unbeaten Hillsdale, Mich. Brad last week increased his margin over Young from 16 to 20 points.

In eight games, Rowland has clicked for 18 touchdowns and 108 points. Young's record for seven games shows 12 touchdowns and 16 conversions for 88 points.

Rambo Is First King Of Cowboys For Third Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Hard riding Gene Rambo of Shandon, Calif., is the 1949 world's champion cowboy in the International Rodeo association's books.

He won the title last night at the Grand National Livestock exposition, rodeo and horse show. Rambo is the first rodeo star in history to take the world's all-around cowboy championship three times.

The 28-year-old rider also won in 1946 and 1948. This year he won $4,542.25 in prize money—the most important slice of which was the $2,500 he got for the IRA title.

Jim Shoulders of Tulsa, Okla., placed second to Rambo in the all-around cowboy event. Casey Tibbs of Fort Pierre, S. D., was third.

Homer Pettigrew of Chandler, Ariz., won the world's championship in calf roping.

Fish Migration Again On With Warm Water

During much of last two weeks of October water temperature was so low that no migration of fish took place over Winchester dam. When water again warmed up movement of fish accelerated rapidly. Had it not been for the period of cold water it is likely that totals for silver salmon would have been noticeably ahead of any previous year. Angling for silvers is still very good, especially in the Scottsburg area. This indicates considerable numbers of fish still to ascend the river.

Winchester dam counting station record through Oct. 31 for years 1946 - 1949 follows:

Multiflora Rose Plants Available For Game Rearing

The Oregon State Game commission announces that a sufficient supply of multiflora rose is now available to permit a limited free distribution to Washington 6. The Oregon State Game commission is interested in establishing such a club-sponsored project. It is suggested that the group select planting sites with the cooperation of the landowner. After this is done, the club secretary should notify the Game commission of its project and request the number of shrubs desired, from 500 to 1,000, along with the date and place of delivery desired. Plantings of multiflora rose should be made in western Oregon from November first through the winter with the exception of freezing weather.

The commission staff is continuing its practice of making plantings on farm lands at the owner's request. However, it is felt that sportsman's club-sponsored projects will present an excellent opportunity through cooperative habitat improvement work to bring the farmer and the sportsman to a closer understanding of their mutual problems.

If the technical assistance of a game commission employee is desired, every effort will be made to meet such request.

Maybe No Rabbit's Foot; Hunter Has Unlucky Day

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Warren H. Mitchell has been hunting small game for 38 years but he's never experienced another day quite like last Saturday.

Here's what Mitchell says happened within the space of six hours afield:

At 11 a.m. he lost one of his two hunting dogs.

At 2 p.m. he lost his $75 wrist watch while looking for the dog.
