The drive will be a test of the "one-package campaign" recommended by the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce. Dulles-Lehman Race Taps Day's Elections in his losing presidential campaign against Mr. Truman. Lehman, 71, embraced the "fair deal" for his campaign and stumped vigorously for Mr. Truman's program.

Dulles, 10 years Lehman's junior, has hammered away hotly at Mr. Truman's domestic policies. Observers predicted that 5,500,000 of the 6,300,000 eligible voters would go to the polls. The election for mayor in New York City, where a hot three-cornered race took place, and Albany, Binghamton, Buffalo, Syracuse and Utica were expected to contribute to the surge of voters.

In the New York City contest, William O'Dwyer, the Democratic incumbent, had the backing of President Truman. O'Dwyer predicted victory but so did his two major opponents, Newbold Morris, the Republican-liberal fusion candidate, and Rep. Vito Marcantonio, American Labor party.

New Jersey, another state that went Republican in 1948, was the arena for a statewide battle predicted in advance to be close. The fight was between Republican Governor Alfred E. Driscoll and Democratic State Senator Elmer H. Wene, for a four-year term as the state's chief executive.

While lacking the national interest of the New York senatorial battle, the New Jersey scrap is receiving close attention from politicians. The only other gubernatorial contest has attracted little outside interest. Virginia voters are regarded as certain to name Democratic State Senator John S. Battle over Republican Walter Johnson.

In today's only contests for the House of Representatives, the two are to fill out unexpired terms, a Democrat in New York, and a Republican in California.

In the heavily-Democratic New York 10th district (Brooklyn), Mrs. Edna F. Kelly, Democrat, is opposed by Republican George H. Fankuchen and Jules Cohen, liberal.

On the Pacific coast, Californians in the 5th district (San Francisco) also have a three-way race. John F. Shelley, Democrat and president of the California Federation of Labor (AFL) has the advantage of the heavy Democratic registration.

He is opposed by Attorney Floyd J. Cosgrove, Republican, and Charles R. Garry, another Democrat who ran on the Wallace Progressive ticket last year. State legislators are being elected in New Jersey, Virginia and sented to enter the city, there are included 20 or more homes in the Todd project immediately to the north. Not all of the 180 homes in the Cloverdale project are occupied, but are expected to be within a reasonable period. The housing project was built last summer at a cost of nearly $2,000,000, and would greatly increase the city's assessed valuation.

Included also under the consent petition is a corridor, which includes considerable area immediately north from the city limits to connect with Cloverdale Park. No vote will be required in any of this area. The city will merely have to vote upon acceptance.

The ordinance passed by the council, with an emergency clause, designates each of the three areas separately, so that in event the residents of Roseburg refuse to accept any one of the three areas, the vote on the others will not be affected.

Boundary Designated
The boundary description for the East Roseburg area is listed in the petitions as follows: That area lying east of the present city limits of the City of Roseburg and beginning at a point at the northeast corner of the present limits of the city, thence east along a line in an easterly direction to a point on the Rifle Range road and the Schofield property, thence on a meandering line to Schick street, thence east across the Rifle Range road 200 feet, thence south to the north boundary of the second Brookside Addition and 200 feet south of the said boundary line, thence west to a point 200 feet east of First Brookside addition, thence south to a point 700 feet north of North Umpqua highway, thence east along said highway 2,000 feet, thence to the north line of the north Umpqua highway thence east along said highway right of way line 550 feet, thence south along the east line and including Todd's subdivision as platte, to an intersection with the center line of the water way to a point at the intersection with the J. E. Cooper property, thence south and then west to a point 200 feet east of Ramp road, thence south to a line in line with the south boundary of Eastwood addition, thence east including Eastwood addition, thence north along the east side of Brookside addition to a point in line with the south boundary of Haseel's addition, thence west along said line to a point intersecting with the present city limits line, thence along said city limits line to the point of beginning, as shown on map filed in the recorder's office in the city of Roseburg.

Kentucky. In addition to the races in New York cities, these other cities also are electing mayors.

Brideport, New Haven, Waterbury, Conn.; Louisville, Boston, Detroit; Patterson, N. J.; Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Ohio; Pittsburgh and Scranton, Pa. Scores of mayoralty elections also are being held in smaller cities across the nation.

Firm Bears Pension Cost
The agreements which Bethlehem, second biggest company, and Jones and Laughlin signed provide minimum $100 pensions, including social security, for workers aged 65 with 25 years' service. The companies will bear the entire cost of the program, estimated at about nine cents per man hour.

Employers and employees will share equally the costs of a five cents an hour social insurance program, providing death benefits, and sickness, accident and hospitalization payments. The J. and L. settlement leaves about 415,000 members of the 1,000,000-man union still on strike in both fabricating companies and the basic steel plants that make raw steel which fabricators process into finished products. A total of 45 large and small steel companies have signed pension-insurance agreements with the union.

Steel Strike Ends For Two Other Firms

sion-insurance agreement exactly in line with the Bethlehem steel peace pact.

A few hours later union counsel Arthur Goldberg, steelworkers President Philip Murray and two officials of Republic Steel corporation sat down to work out final details of a plan designed to end the strike of 54,000 Republic workers.

Goldberg said before the start of the session that the negotiators would discuss a peace settlement also based on the Bethlehem agreement. Republic has a contributory pension plan for salaried employees earning more than $3,000 but none for hourly workers. It has a contributory program covering all employees which provides hospitalization and group insurance. That plan costs employees about three and one-half cents per hour. The company's contribution varies.

Peace also seemed near for Great Lakes Steel corporation. Union and company agreed to call in about 200 maintenance workers to "enable the plant to be placed in operation that much sooner upon conclusion of a final agreement."

A joint statement declared progress of negotiations justified the maintenance crew agreement.

Republic employees more than 40,000 union members and Great Lakes steel accounts for nearly 10,000 more.

Jones and Laughlin plants in Pittsburgh, Aliquippa, Pa., and Cleveland began immediate preparations to put the mills back in production. Some eager workers showed up in taxicabs within two hours of the peace announcement. It will take more than a week to complete the process and put all of the firm's 40,000 employees back at work.

Blood Flows As Filipinos Ballot For President

led highways and the polls, keeping the communist-led Huk in the hills. Shootings at scattered points in the islands marred the balloting of probably more than 4,000,000 Filipinos to name the young republic's second elected president.

The bloodiest outbreak early in the balloting was at Narvacan in Ilocos Sur, President Quirino's home province in Northern Luzon. There, by interior department confirmation, constabulary troops killed 10 civilians—including some women—and wounded eight others.

Irregularities Widespread
Only a few hours after poll opening, irregularities were reported in the voting which will determine if Quirino and his liberal party will remain in power through the next four years.

His opponents are Dr. Jose P. Laurel, Nacionalista party candidate who has made an amazing political comeback since he was puppet president during the Japanese wartime occupation, and third party candidate Avelino, former Liberal party chairman who split with Quirino this year and became the dark horse in the race.

The nation also is choosing a vice president, eight senators and 100 representatives to the lower house of congress. Block voting prevails and each party pinned its hopes on its presidential candidate.

Socialism Trend Seen By Cong. Ellsworth debt instead of reducing it," he declared.

Prediction Fulfilled
Ellsworth was introduced to the luncheon audience by Charles V. Stanton, editor of the News-Review, who recalled that Ellsworth, as News-Review editor from 1929 to 1942, had been active in promoting the lumber industry here.

Acknowledging the introduction, Ellsworth said that in 1928, when he urged "the men who are now my partners," Frank Jenkins and E. R. Gilstrap, to purchase the News-Review, he had predicted that Roseburg would be "one of the hottest boom towns in the State of Oregon."

In succeeding years, leading up to the war and post-war periods, Ellsworth was often asked, "When is this boom town coming?" he recalled.

Pointing out that the United States is "spending $16 million a day over the amount now in the treasury," at the end of the year a slight lead over two opponents in today's bloody election. Quirino was leading in most of the provinces with Dr. Jose P. Laurel, leading in balloting in Manila. Avelino, third party candidate, was trailing.

the deficit will be $6 billion, he declared. The total federal budget for the next year will be $43.9 billion, increasing in fiscal 1951 to $50.25 billion.

Ellsworth warned that huge government expenditures, if not checked, will lead eventually to a completely socialistic state. Economic collapse in this country would be "important to the Russians." Huge government expenditures cannot be considered as "a free government doing things for a free people," he continued, because eventually the people would have to be subjects of the government and "someone would have to do the planning."
