CHURCH GROUPS HOLD PARTY

The high school class and Christian Endeavor of the Sutherlin Christian church, held a Halloween party last Friday night at the Buchanan barn east of town. The large barn was decorated in the usual Halloween tradition of ghosts, bats, and Jack-o-lanterns.

The majority of the young people were dressed in masks and fanciful costumes. Margie Davey was judged to have the best costume and Johnnie Buchanan, second.

Following an evening of games and frolic, Reverend Lloyd Whitford led the group in singing choruses. He also gave an inspirational talk and prayer.

The evening ended with serving refreshments to forty-four revelers, and the leaders, Reverend Whitford, and class teacher, Mrs. Ada Abeene.

PARCEL POST SALE PROVES POPULAR

The Women's Society of Christian Service as entertained last Thursday at a potluck dinner with Mrs. Riley Powers, Mrs. Stanley Hogan and Mrs. C. D. Stillwell as hostesses. The table was centered with bouquets of fall flowers.

The meeting following the dinner was held in regular form with Mrs. W. C. Watson having charge of the devotionals.

The evening group of the Women's Society of Christian Service held a parcel post sale and received many parcels. The sale was successful and all parcels were sold.

Mrs. Leslie Gleason thanked the group for the gift and the golden wedding party which was so graciously given in their honor.

Plans were discussed for the annual bazaar, which will be on Saturday, November 19th, in the basement of the Sutherlin Methodist church and lunch will be served during this time. The evening group will have a table or booth at this bazaar.

If the dining table needs to be crumbed, after the dishes have been removed and the guests still are seated, use a small plate and a small napkin.

Maureen Cooney Assists In Play Production

Emphasis is on student production in "The Enchanted Cottage," which will be given at Marylhurst college on the evenings of Nov. 18, 19 and 20. Members of the campus dramatics organization, Delta Theta, carry the feminine roles in the play or assist with directing and backstage work. A particularly difficult scene is the dream sequence which requires split-second timing.

Miss Harriet Nizic, senior, is technical director. The play is directed by Miss Louise Walsh, dramatics instructor, with the aid of Miss Maureen Cooney, student assistant, of Roseburg.
