

Acheson Visiting German Offices

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Nov. 12—(AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, fresh from the big three foreign minister conference in Paris, lunched here today with top American military and diplomatic officials in Germany.

Heidelberg is the headquarters for the U. S. armed forces in Europe. Army officials said, however, defense problems were not up for discussion.

The secretary, first American official of his rank to visit Germany since James F. Byrnes came here in 1946, was the guest of Gen. Thomas T. Handy, commander in chief of American forces in Germany, at a mountain-top hotel overlooking this old University city.

200 are slated to face the problems of Arctic warfare at the coming sessions.

In addition to improved Arctic training, General Scott said Big Delta also would be a focal point for the most extensive testing of clothing and equipment under extreme cold weather conditions ever attempted in Alaska.

Preliminary class for instructors begins next Monday.

The month long classes will start Jan. 9, and Feb. 13. There will be approximately 45 students from Alaska, with the remainder from the States.

Students will spend 90 percent of their time in the field, no matter what kind of weather develops.

And—at Big Delta—that often means high winds at 50 degrees below zero.

Luxury Yacht Corsair Goes Aground Today

distance to go.

Among those aboard was John M. Allen, Seattle, general passenger agent of Pacific Cruise Lines Ltd., which operates the "Corsair." Allen telephoned David E. Skinner head of the Seattle firm from Acapulco with details of the accident.

Familiar With Water

Skinner said Nedden is familiar with Acapulco waters. Allen attributed the crash to steering engine failure, although he said the exact cause had not been determined.

The "Corsair" operated as a luxury cruiser between Los Angeles and Acapulco in the winter and between Vancouver and Alaska in the summer.

The rocks on which the vessel struck are about half a mile off shore, in sight of one of the large resort hotels, Hotel de Las Americas.

The Corsair, a vessel of 2899 tons, was built by Morgan in 1930 as his private yacht. It became a war ship and has since been turned into a cruise ship.

Port Captain Arturo Pena Alfaro said the $3,000,000 vessel has a tear on the port (left) side of the hull, well down, but that Captain Nedden is keeping the vessel afloat.

Eventually, Capt. Alfaro said, the Corsair probably must be towed to the dry dock at Salina Cruz, 350 miles east of here on the Pacific coast of southern Mexico, for full repairs.

The Corsair arrived here Wednesday on one of its periodical luxury cruises.

fewer years of service will receive proportionately smaller pensions.

The agreement also provides for a five cents an hour social insurance program. That cost is shared equally by workers and company.

Wages are unchanged for steelworkers now earning an average of $1.65 an hour.

The Bethlehem pact broke the log jam in the long strike.

Over the nation, the strikers lost an estimated $270,000,000 wages during the six week long strike. Added to that strike loss figure is the 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 tons of steel production which would have been produced if the workers had not struck. Nearly a half million workers in allied industries were furloughed as a result of the steel strike.

American Consul Treatment Irks State Officials

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—(AP)—Communist treatment of the American consul general at Mukden has dealt a sharp new setback to Communist China's chances of obtaining American recognition any time in the foreseeable future.

Top state department officials are privately "burned up" at the way in which local authorities at Mukden have handled the case of 56-year-old Angus Ward. They are irked too at the cold shouldering which the American government has received in its attempts to get any information on the matter from national Communist leaders at Peiping.

Ward has been held in jail at Mukden since October 24. Two American and two European members of his staff have been held with him. All are charged with having been Chinese employes early in October, as the result of an alleged wage dispute.

The state department disclosed Thursday that the consul general at Peiping, O. Edmund Clubb, had sent a letter to Gen. Chou En-Lai, the Communist foreign minister, demanding Ward's release and asking information about him. The department said that no reply had been received.

James D. Heer, 20, of Euclid, a first year veterinary student, was taken into custody some time later at the Columbus sewage disposal plant, 5 miles from the fraternity house, after telephoning the State patrol. Euclid is near Cleveland.

Detective Kenneth Anderson said Heer admitted the shooting. The officer quoted the student, "Whenever I get drunk, I get trigger-happy."

Longshoremen Charge CIO Head Men Are Dictators

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12—(AP)—The executive board of the CIO Longshoremen's union charged today that national CIO officers "are determined to establish the CIO as a political dictatorship."

The executive board issued a policy statement. It said it rejected unanimously "the false statements and charges made by (CIO) President Philip Murray and the national CIO against our union, its officers and its members."

Harry Bridges heads the left-wing Longshore and Warehousemen's union. At the national CIO convention in Cleveland last week, this union, with several others came under the hot fire of the national group. Bridges and others face formal hearings on charges that some unions have followed the Communist party line.
