KDND DIAL-LOG

A recent contestant on the "Ladies First" week-ady feature, (11:11:30 a. m.), just returned from Japan, where her husband was stationed with the Air Forces. She told master of ceremonies Bob Moon that, although the housing was adequate, the Japanese repairmen would have made better firemen. She cited an instance of a dripping shower faucet in the bathroom. Eight so-called plumbers answered her summons for help and immediately proceeded to tear all of the tile off the bathroom walls. The next day found them disassembling the hall walls. Everything was put back in proper order the following day including the drip in the shower. "Bloop-bleep" prevailed for 18 months. A new washer finally solved the difficulties!

"Captain Midnight" has adopted a new official insignia for the Secret Squadron that can be indelibly transferred on to almost any kind of cloth. Young listeners to the broadcasts (5:30-6 p. m., Tues. and Thurs.) can obtain this insignia by sending the entire label from a jar of Chocolate Ovaltine to "Captain Midnight," Box 77, Chicago, Illinois. Include own name, address, city and state.

Holland, Italy, Greece and China have sent official expressions of gratitude to Carelon E. Morse, the "International Santa Claus," for his campaign to provide toys, clothing and Christmas cheer for his millions of war-suffering children. These are but four of the score of countries whose juvenile nationals will directly benefit from the campaign which is designed to ship millions of "International Santa Claus" gifts overseas in time for Christmas eve distribution. Mr. Morse has been devoting time on his "I Love a Mystery" series (Weekdays, 10:30-10:45 p. m.), since last Oct. 31. He has been asking his listeners to send their gifts, express charges collect, to the Foster Parents Plan for War Children Warehouse, 5-30 47th avenue, Long Island City, N. Y., for reshipment to Europe and Asia.

Guy Gabrielson, GOP national chairman, who is making a speaking tour of five western states, will speak from Berkeley, California, on "Organizing for 1950." His talk will be broadcast over KRNR tonight, 11 to 11:30.

MIRTH AT MISERY

A detachment of Company D men, 186th infantry, Oregon National Guard, led by Lieutenant John Newbern, crowd into the x-ray room at Mercy Hospital Monday night and watch gleefully as a comrade's finger is pricked for blood typing. About 70 members of the company are being typed and will donate blood to the bank being collected by Mercy Hospital for free use by patients in need of free dispensation.

The Knights of Columbus, sponsors of the movement, were typed last week. Any organization or any individual who wishes to donate blood for patients' use may do so by calling at the hospital, the Sister Superior states. No expense is incurred.—(By Paul Jenkins).

Foreign Students Noted At Oregon's Higher Schools

EUGENE. Forty-two Chinese and 35 Canadians head the list of 178 foreign students attending institutions of the state system of higher education this fall. In addition registrars have counted at least 50 Hawaiian and Alaskan students.

Oregon State college has 102 foreign students from 25 countries; University of Oregon, 63 from 21 countries; Eastern Oregon College of Education, six from four South American countries. Southern Oregon college of Education, four from Germany, England and Scotland; Vanport Extension Center, three from Japan, Peru and France.

Most western European and South American countries are represented. Eight students from India are attending Oregon State. Iran, Iraq, Pakistan and Siam have students in the state schools and several come from Africa. Fellowships, scholarships and the re-education program of the army are responsible for bringing many of these young men and women to the United States. Some are receiving free room and board from living organizations, and various other groups and individuals give aid in one form or another.

Every effort is being made to help the students become oriented to the United States. University of Oregon, for example, has a special class for 20 students who came into the country for the first time this year.

Annual District Meet Of Scouters Scheduled

Scouters from throughout Douglas county will gather here for the annual district meeting and monthly round table Thursday, Nov. 17, announced Rollie Quam, district scout executive, today.

All unit committeemen are urged to attend, as many important things are to be taken up. Quam said. Among the discussion topics will be the national jamboree at Valley Forge, scouters' training and the new advancement procedure for merit badges.

Place of the meeting will be announced later. Quam said that a 100 percent attendance of scouters, and patrol and troop leaders is expected.

Output Of Turkey Hens Will Decline

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis. Turkey breeding flock owners in Oregon indicate there will be about 25 percent fewer turkey hens in 1950 in comparison with the 241,000 in the state in 1949, according to the annual turkey industry intention survey conducted by Noel L. Bennon, OSC extension poultry specialist.

Bennon reported to the Oregon Turkey Improvement association recently that poultry and egg producers apparently have their minds pretty well made up on asking prices for next year. His survey indicated both egg and poultry prices will be down somewhat.

Fewer Poults Loom
From an average price of 85 cents each this year hatchery men expect to ask about 75 cents a turkey poult for the coming season, he said. Egg prices the survey shows an expected drop of about 5 cents. This will mean an asking price of about 31 cents. Hatcheries expect to produce 12 percent fewer poults next year as compared with 1949.

Bennon said reports from other areas indicate an increase in number of breeder hens carried over in the United States for 1950. He added that prospects point to fewer market turkeys being raised the coming year. This will mean a more favorable turkey feed-price ratio for next year, he said.

Newbury said he agrees with the newspaper publishers that Oregon's election system is many years behind the times.

The system of marking and counting paper ballots is just like it was when Oregon became a state. William M. Tugman, managing editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, has been campaigning for years to get the system modernized.

Anti-Christian States Rapped In Address By Pope

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII has bitterly assailed "anti-Christian totalitarian states," accusing such nations of suppressing true justice by application of unjust laws.

The pontiff laid suppression of "true" rights in totalitarian states to "prophets, defenders and creators of a culture, a power of the state and a legislation which does not recognize God and his sovereign rights."

The Pope, in an address to the sacred Roman rota—the supreme court of Catholicism—bitterly assailed recent trials in such states. He did not mention communist states by that name, but there was little doubt those were the ones he meant. Nor did he say just which trials he referred to. However, he mentioned trials of "public officials," indicating he might have been referring to the recent "Doctors' Case" trials in the states of the Soviet orbit.

These states, the Pope said, cannot return to a "moral order" without first restoring Christian principles of law. He said the suppression of rights in these states was an "error of juridical position," which he defined as absolute state law as opposed to Christian principles.

This was the Pope's second important address on legal matters within a week. Last week, in a speech to Italian Catholic lawyers, the Pope cautioned Catholic judges everywhere not to recognize "unjust laws," and to be aware of granting civil divorces in marriages which are "valid before God and the church."

Top management of the line is Chinese, however, and the Chinese general manager fled to Communist territory four days ago. He urged all personnel to join him.

McDevitt did not make clear what he meant by "American management."

Collapse Of Elevators Spills Mountain Of Wheat

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Workers still were cleaning up the grain harvest in Wichita Falls today—24,000 bushels of heat splattered on the ground when two high elevators collapsed.

The elevators were about 24 feet in diameter and towered about 60 feet above the ground. Seven hundred tons of wheat were in one elevator which started buckling Saturday when workers started moving wheat out of it. The elevator fell against an empty tower next to it.

Voting System To Be Overhauled

SALEM.—(AP)—Oregon's voting system might get its first overhauling since statehood 90 years ago.

Secretary of State Newbury said he is studying whether the state should have voting machines or modern business tabulating machines to count ballots.

Oregon Associated Press members voted last Friday to ask Newbury and the legislature to study whether tabulating machines should be used to speed up the ballot count and to save money.

Gus Solomon Sworn In As Federal Judge

PORTLAND, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Attorney Gus J. Solomon, democrat, was sworn into office Monday as Oregon's third federal judge.
