Entry blanks for the "Queen of America" contest have been received by KRNR, and will be mailed to as many club, society, school or church group, sorority and auxiliary groups as we can locate. If your organization by chance is left off our mailing list, don't hesitate to give us a buzz and receive your entry blank. Any woman 18 years of age or older, who lives in the continental United States, may be nominated. Entries will be judged on the basis of human interest, originality, sincerity and aptness of thought. The contest began November 7, 1949, and closes midnight, December 2, 1949. From all entries received as of midnight, November 19, 1949, 2,500 winners will be chosen, the best five from each of the areas of the 500 Mutual radio stations. From all entries received after midnight, November 19, and postmarked up to midnight, December 3, 2,500 more winners will be chosen. These 5,000 winners will all receive prizes listed and have advanced one step toward becoming "Queen of America."

From the 5,000 winners already chosen, 500, or the best one in the area of each Mutual station will receive additional prizes as listed and be honored by their local Mutual station as a local "Queen for a Day." More important, they have gone one more step toward becoming "Queen of America." Next, from the 500 local queens, the best five will be taken to Hollywood, will receive additional prizes as listed and will appear on the "Queen for a Day" radio program where the studio audience will choose one of them as "Queen of America."

The "Queen of America" finally selected will receive in addition to prizes already won all other prizes listed as well as the honors mentioned. For details of this biggest contest in radio, listen to Jack Bailey on "Queen for a Day" each week-day on KRNR . . . 11:30 to 12 noon.

Service Pins Awarded To 4-H Leaders

County Association Also Hears L. H. Allen Tell Of Value Of Activity

Four-H leaders representing communities throughout the county were on hand Wednesday night at the Umpqua hotel to see service pins awarded to those participating in 4-H activities over varying periods of time and to hear L. H. Allen, state 4-H club leader, Corvallis, tell what 4-H means to its members.

H. E. Schmeer, U.S. National Bank, made the presentations on behalf of his firm, who are the sponsors of service pin awards.

Schmeer said the pins are awarded "in recognition of time and effort devoted by the recipients," in promoting 4-H club work.

Those receiving pins included Mrs. Rose Peterson, 10-year pin; M. H. McCord, Glide, five-year pin; and Ted Peterson, Tennille; Miss Gladys Williams, Myrtle Creek; Miss Mabel Williams, Myrtle Creek; John Wallin, Myrtle Creek; Mrs. Dale Busenbark, Melrose; Mrs. Herman Haugin, Riddle; Mrs. Earl Smith, Riddle; Mrs. Walter Coats, Tennille; Mrs. Claire Meredith, Lookingglass; George Marsh, one-year pins.

New officers of the Douglas County Leaders association were introduced by immediate past president M. H. McCord. They are Mrs. Margaret Kimmel, Roseburg, president; John Wallin, Myrtle Creek, vice-president and Mrs. Harry Winter, Green, secretary-treasurer.

State 4-H club leader Allen emphasized the importance of interesting parents in 4-H activities.

He said many parents do not understand what "4H" is and what it offers their sons and daughters.

Allen said one of the best ways to promote parental interest is to hold club meetings in the home, adding that "many 4-H activities require the cooperation of both parent and child."

Club work offers boys and girls an opportunity to do something constructive, Allen indicated. The 4-H organization has from 20-25 projects in operation now and is adding more, he said. Among the activities to be included soon are safety and tractor maintenance.

Business men "surprisingly" are aware of 4-H club aims and give their support, Allen related. Illustrating, the state 4-H leader said 15 Oregon boys and girls, including a Douglas county youth, will travel to the National 4-H congress, to be held in Chicago, as a reward for outstanding club work. Altogether, 15,000 youths from over the nation will attend. "All are guests of businessmen," Allen stated.

"Four-H work develops leadership and teamwork," Allen averred. "It can become a part of the life of every boy and girl." Allen was introduced by Frank von Borstel, Douglas county club agent, who was master of ceremonies at the dinner.

DOUGLAS COUNTY 4-H LEADERS MEET—Four-H leaders from over the county saw 12 of their number receive service pins in recognition of their efforts in 4-H club work. The presentations were made by H. E. Schmeer, manager of Roseburg branch, U. S. National bank. Top pictures show recipients of the pins. They include from left, Ted Peterson, Tennille; Miss Gladys Williams; Miss Mabel Williams, John Wallin, all of Myrtle Creek; M. H. McCord, Glide; Mrs. Dale Busenbark, Melrose; Mrs. Herman Haugin, Riddle; Mrs. Earl Smith, Riddle; Mrs. Walter Coats, Tennille; Mrs. Claire Meredith, Lookingglass. Not present were George Marsh and Mrs. Rose Peterson, who also received pins. With the exception of McCord, who received a five-year pin and Mrs. Peterson, who received a 10-year pin, all the above were awarded one year pins. In the middle picture, Schmeer hands McCord his five-year pin. McCord is immediate past president of the Douglas county 4-H leaders' association, being replaced by Mrs. Margaret Kimmel, Roseburg. In the bottom picture, L. H. Allen, state 4-H club leader, Corvallis, speaks while Schmeer and Frank von Borstel, county 4-H agent, listen. (Staff pictures)

Year-Long Exposition In Northwest Is Proposed

SPOKANE—(AP)—The possibility of a year-long exposition in the northwest is being explored in the wake of the Pacific Northwest Trade association conference.

The exposition was proposed in pamphlet form at the conference here. The backers foresee an exposition on the order of a world fair for northwestern cities, with each city erecting its own exhibit in its own community. Each of the northwestern cities would compete with others in providing the industrial displays, evidences of civic progress and entertainment.

The pamphlet suggests that the benefits of the widely scattered exposition would bring "an influx of tourists and their dollars." It would also furnish an incentive for public improvement projects. The year 1952 was advanced as a possible date.

Social Security Payments Shown In Oregon Report

Information furnished by the Eugene office of the Social Security administration shows that on June 30, 1949, 32,515 persons in the state of Oregon were receiving insurance payments under the old-age and survivors insurance program. In the total amount of $662,184, 17,137 were retired workers receiving a total of $436,079. The remainder of the group receiving insurance payments consisted of wives, widows, children, and dependent parents of deceased wage earners.

30, 1949, 663 persons were receiving insurance payments totaling $1,812 each month. Of the total, 283 received retirement payments totaling $6,499. The others represented in the total consist of widows, children, and dependent parents.

The figures shown represent only payments made under the old-age and survivors insurance program, the part of the Social Security program administered entirely by the federal government on an insurance basis. They do not include any payments made under the Social Security Act in cooperation with the states, such as the program of old-age Assistance, aid to dependent children, and aid to needy blind.

When the Supreme Court was moved from the Capitol in 1937 to its own building, each Justice had his individual chair moved with him.

Maricopa Camp Fire Girls made plans for a slumber party to be held Dec. 2 when they held their last meeting. Roberta John wrote a radio program which was presented by three of the girls.

The girls discussed having a group picture put on calendars for a group project. Members attending were Sharon Fingerlos, Aletha Mead, Peggy Reid, Kay Emery, Barbara Gosso, Sus Wisling, Mary Pundy, Dorothy Finn and the guardian, Betty Stidham.

Happy Bluebirds met with their leader, Mrs. Robert Miller and assistant leader, Bette Leach Thursday at 10:30 a.m. The business meeting was followed by handcraft. The girls completed a page in their wish book and made paper turkeys. Twenty members were present. Lunch was enjoyed before the girls left for school. Mrs. Margaret Dodge assisted the leaders.

Iroquois Camp Fire Girls at Green are selling Christmas cards to earn money for their national dues. They are working on head bands and also held a candy sale during October. The guardians are Lucille Smith with Mrs. Arilla McGehey as assistant.
