KRNR DIAL-LOG

Brigadier General Frank L. Howley, former American military governor of Berlin and director of the air-lift operations for that German city when it was landlocked by the Russians, will be the interview-guest for "Meet the Press" tonight at 8:30.

SUNDAY: An actual case taken from police files, entitled "The Pearl River Bank Murders," will be dramatized tomorrow at 2:30 on "True Detective Mysteries." The new "Mr. Feathers" program, starring Parker Fennelly, shifts to an earlier hour this Sunday . . . 4 to 4:30 p. m. On "Family Theater" at 4:30, Gene Raymond assumes the role of Robert Browning in a story based on the lives of Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Robert Browning, entitled "By Sun and Candlelight."

Bing Crosby, aided by the Robert Mitchell Boys' choir and the music of John Scott Trotter and the orchestra, will present a special 15-minute Christmas Seal show Sunday at 6:30. Yuletide musical favorites on the program include "Adeste Fidelis," "Christmas Song," "I'll Be Home for Christmas," and "White Christmas." Stay tuned at 6:45 for the youthful Oberlin Radio Artists.

Bing's brother Bob visits "Twenty Questions" Sunday night at eight with the regular "Animal, Vegetable, Mineral" panel. A tip on a "Name the Car" contest on the "Walter Winchell" news-shot at 8:30 . . . that is if you'd like a crack at $20,000. This week's musical presentation on "Chicago Theater of the Air" will star Andzia Kuzak, Ruth Slater, John Carter and Bruce Foote in "The Gondoliers." (10:00-11:00 p. m. Sunday).
